

The background of the slide is a light blue architectural drawing or blueprint. It features a complex grid of lines, some solid and some dashed, forming various geometric shapes and structures. There are also some faint numbers and symbols scattered throughout the drawing, such as '1040' on the left, '850' on the right, and '3000' at the bottom right. The overall aesthetic is technical and structured.

Internal Affairs How The Structure Of Ngos Transforms Human Rights:

Internal Affairs Wendy H. Wong, 2012-07-12 Why are some international nongovernmental organizations NGOs more politically salient than others and why are some NGOs better able to influence the norms of human rights Internal Affairs shows how the organizational structures of human rights NGOs and their campaigns determine their influence on policy Drawing on data from seven major international organizations the International Committee of the Red Cross Amnesty International Human Rights Watch M decins sans Fronti res Oxfam International Anti Slavery International and the International League of Human Rights Wendy H Wong demonstrates that NGOs that choose to centralize agenda setting and decentralize the implementation of that agenda are more successful in gaining traction in international politics Challenging the conventional wisdom that the most successful NGOs are those that find the right cause or have the most resources Wong shows that how NGOs make and implement decisions is critical to their effectiveness in influencing international norms about human rights Building on the insights of network theory and organizational sociology Wong traces how power works within NGOs and affects their external authority The internal coherence of an organization as reflected in its public statements and actions goes a long way to assure its influence over the often tumultuous elements of the international human rights landscape , Between Power and Irrelevance George E. Mitchell, Hans Peter Schmitz, Tosca Bruno-van Vijfeijken, 2020 Geopolitical shifts increasing demands for accountability and growing competition have been driving the need for change within transnational nongovernmental organizations TNGOs As the world has changed and TNGOs ambitions have expanded the roles of TNGOs have shifted and their work has become more complex To remain effective legitimate and relevant in the future necessitates organizational changes but many TNGOs have been slow to adapt As a result the sector s rhetoric of sustainable impact and social transformation has far outpaced the reality of TNGOs more limited abilities to deliver on their promises Between Power and Irrelevance openly explores why this gap between rhetoric and reality exists and what TNGOs can do individually and collectively to close it George E Mitchell Hans Peter Schmitz and Tosca Bruno van Vijfeijken argue that TNGOs need to change the fundamental conditions under which they operate by bringing their own forms and norms into better alignment with their ambitions and strategies This book offers accessible future oriented analyses and lessons learned to assist practitioners and other stakeholders in formulating and implementing organizational changes Drawing upon a variety of perspectives including hundreds of interviews with TNGO leaders firsthand involvement in major organizational change processes in leading TNGOs and numerous workshops training institutes consultancies and research projects the book examines how to adapt TNGOs for the future

The Oxford Handbook of History and International Relations
Mlada Bukovansky, Edward Keene, Christian Reus-Smit, Maja Spanu, 2023-08-08

Historical approaches to the study of world politics have always been a major part of the academic discipline of International Relations and there has recently been a resurgence of scholarly interest in this area This Oxford Handbook examines the past and present of the intersection between history and IR and looks to the future by laying out new questions and directions for research Seeking to transcend well worn disciplinary debates between historians and IR scholars the Handbook asks authors from both fields to engage with the central themes of modernity and granularity Modernity is one of the basic organising categories of speculation about continuity and discontinuity in the history of world politics but one that is increasingly questioned for privileging one kind of experience and marginalizing others The theme of granularity highlights the importance of how decisions about the scale and scope of historical research in IR shape what can be seen and how one sees it Together these themes provide points of affinity across the wide range of topics and approaches presented here The Handbook is organized into four parts The first Readings gives a state of the art analysis of numerous aspects of the disciplinary encounter between historians and IR theorists Thereafter sections on Practices Locales and Moments offer a wide variety of perspectives from the longue dur e to the ephemeral individual moment and challenge many conventional ways of defining the contexts of historical enquiry about international relations Contributors come from a range of academic backgrounds and present a diverse array of methodological and philosophical ideas as well as their various historical interests The Oxford Handbooks of International Relations is a twelve volume set of reference books offering authoritative and innovative engagements with the principal sub fields of International Relations The series as a whole is under the General Editorship of Christian Reus Smit of the University of Queensland and Duncan Snidal of the University of Oxford with each volume edited by specialists in the field The series both surveys the broad terrain of International Relations scholarship and reshapes it pushing each sub field in challenging new directions Following the example of Reus Smit and Snidal s original Oxford Handbook of International Relations each volume is organized around a strong central thematic by scholars drawn from different perspectives reading its sub field in an entirely new way and pushing scholarship in challenging new directions AIDS Drugs For All Ethan B. Kapstein, Joshua W. Busby, 2013-08-29 Drawing on a rich set of interviews and surveys this book shows how the global AIDS treatment advocacy movement helped millions in the developing world gain access to life saving medication The movement achieved this by transforming the market for AIDS drugs from one which was low volume high price to one based on access for all The authors suggest that a movement s ability to transform markets depends upon whether 1 markets are contestable 2 they have framed their arguments to resonate across their target audiences 3 the movement itself has a coherent goal 4 the costs are low or the benefit to cost ratio is favourable and finally 5 institutions are present to reward continued achievement of the new market principle These insights are applied to a range of other cases including malaria maternal mortality water diarrheal disease non communicable diseases education climate change the ivory trade sex trafficking and the Atlantic slave trade Routledge Handbook of NGOs and International Relations Thomas Davies, 2019-04-09 Offering insights from pioneering new perspectives in addition to well established traditions of research this Handbook considers the activities not only of advocacy groups in the environmental feminist human rights humanitarian and peace sectors but also the array of religious professional and business associations that make up the wider non governmental organization NGO community Including perspectives from multiple world regions the book takes account of institutions in the Global South alongside better known structures of the Global North International contributors from a range of disciplines cover all the major aspects of research into NGOs in International Relations to present a comprehensive overview of the historical evolution of NGOs the range of structural forms and international networks coverage of major theoretical perspectives illustrations of how NGOs are influential in every prominent issue area of contemporary International Relations evaluation of the significant regional variations among NGOs and how regional contexts influence the nature and impact of NGOs analysis of the ways NGOs address authoritarianism terrorism and challenges to democracy and how NGOs handle concerns surrounding their own legitimacy and accountability Exploring contrasting theories regional dimensions and a wide range of contemporary challenges facing NGOs this Handbook will be essential reading for students scholars and practitioners alike The Authority Trap Sarah S. Stroup, Wendy H. Wong, 2017-09-15 Not all international nongovernmental organizations INGOs are created equal Some have emerged as leading INGOs that command deference from various powerful audiences and are well positioned to influence the practices of states corporations and other INGOs Yet Sarah S Stroup and Wendy H Wong make a strong case for the tenuous nature of this position in order to retain their authority INGOs such as Greenpeace Oxfam and Amnesty International refrain from expressing radical opinions that severely damage their long term reputation Stroup and Wong contend such INGOs must constantly adjust their behavior to maintain a delicate equilibrium that preserves their status Activists scholars and students seeking to understand how international organizations garner and conserve power and how this affects their ability to fulfill their stated missions will find much of value in The Authority Trap The authors use case studies that illuminate how INGOs are received by three main audiences NGO peers state policymakers and corporations In the end the authors argue the more authority an INGO has the more constrained is its ability to affect the conduct of world politics

"Lost" Causes Charli Carpenter, 2014-06-24 Why do some issues and threats diseases weapons human rights abuses vulnerable populations get more global policy attention than others How do global activist networks decide the particular causes for which they advocate among the many problems in need of solutions According to Charli Carpenter the answer lies in the politics of global issue networks themselves Building on surveys focus groups and analyses of issue network websites Carpenter concludes that network access has a direct relation to influence over how issues are ranked Advocacy elites in nongovernmental and transnational organizations judge candidate issues not just on their merit but on how the issues connect to specific organizations individuals and even other issues In Lost Causes Carpenter uses three case studies of emerging campaigns to show these dynamics at work banning infant male circumcision compensating the wartime killing and maiming of civilians and prohibiting the deployment of fully autonomous weapons so called killer robots The fate of each of these campaigns was determined not just by the persistence and hard work of entrepreneurs but by advocacy elites perception of the issues network ties Combining sweeping analytical argument with compelling narrative Carpenter reveals how the global human security agenda is determined

Handbook of Research on NGOs Aynsley Kellow, Hannah Murphy-Gregory, 2018-09-28 This volume provides a critical overview of research on Non governmental Organisations NGOs While it notes that the definition of NGOs is contested and can include both business and national groups it focuses primarily on international NGOs engaged with human rights social and environmental concerns and aid and development issues With contributions by Peter Willetts Tom Davies Bob Reinalda and other leading scholars it provides a series of critical essays on both general aspects of NGOs and significant issues of particular concern
