The Political Economy of City Branding Ari-Veikko Anttiroiko, 2014-02-24 Globalization affects urban communities in many ways. One of its manifestations is increased intercity competition which compels cities to increase their attractiveness in terms of capital entrepreneurship, information expertise and consumption. This competition takes place in an asymmetric field with cities trying to find the best possible ways of using their natural and created assets, the latter including a naturally evolving reputation or consciously developed competitive identity or brand. The Political Economy of City Branding discusses this phenomenon from the perspective of numerous post industrial cities in North America, Europe, East Asia and Australasia. Special attention is given to local economic development policy and industrial profiling and global city rankings are used to provide empirical evidence for cities' characteristics and positions in the global urban hierarchy. On top of this, social and urban challenges such as creative class struggle are also discussed. The core message of the book is that cities should apply the tools of city branding in their industrial promotion and specialization but at the same time take into account the special nature of their urban communities and be open and inclusive in their brand policies in order to ensure optimal results. This book will be of interest to scholars and practitioners working in the areas of local economic development, urban planning, public management and branding.

Political, Economic and Financial Country Risk Mohamed A. Ramady, 2013-10-19 Decades go by and nothing happens, then weeks go by and decades happen. This apt saying encapsulates the dramatic convulsions taking place across the Arab world that first erupted in 2011 in Tunisia and which rapidly spread to other countries. These events have affected the lives of ordinary citizens in many more ways than had been intended when the Arab Spring broke out with the endgame still not very clear as demonstrated in countries like Egypt, Syria and Libya. By comparison with some exceptions, the six countries comprising the Gulf Cooperation Council have been relatively unaffected by the general turbulence and uncertainties lapping around them. However, geopolitical shifts involving global superpower rivalries combined with revolutionary breakthroughs in the non conventional hydrocarbon energy sector are threatening to challenge the importance of the Arabian Gulf as the world's leading suppliers of energy, putting their economies under fiscal stress. The author examines such challenges by providing the first in depth statistical analytical assessment of the GCC countries using monthly data over the period 2001-2013 for the three risk categories: economic, financial and political risks and their sub components so as to enable policymakers enhance components with low risk while addressing components with perceived higher risk. Assessing FDI and capital inflows and outflows before and after the Arab Spring and how to encourage FDI inflows, inter Arab and GCC trade and synergies in power transmission, transportation links and establishing new hubs of centers of manufacturing excellence Exploring private sector led growth models to reduce forecasted unemployment Being complacent is not an option for the GCC The aim of the book is that having a better understanding of each of the GCC countries individual risk parameters will enable the GCC meet future challenges and reduce the chances of a negative Arab Spring occurring in the region Mohamed Ramady is a Visiting Associate Professor at the Department of Finance and Economics King Fahd University of Petroleum and Minerals His main research interests are the economics of the Middle East and Saudi Arabia in particular as well as money and banking He also held senior positions with international financial institutions in the Arabian Gulf and Europe

Adopting a Harmonized Regional Approach to Customs Regulation for the Tripartite Free Trade Agreement

Vimbai Lisa Michelle Jana, 2017-09-19 The three regional economic communities RECs in Eastern and Southern Africa are the Common Market for Eastern and Southern Africa COMESA the East African Community EAC and the Southern African Development Community SADC Together they have recognised the need to work towards regional cooperation aimed at the eventual creation of a single regional economic community or Tripartite Free Trade Agreement TFTA This will replace the existent RECs in Eastern and Southern Africa to which the member states of these two regions have multiple membership The TFTA region comprises a total of 27 member states which have a combined population of 527 million people and a combined gross domestic product GDP of USD 624 billion These statistics translate into a potential regional economic powerhouse for Eastern and Southern Africa One of the major goals of the TFTA is to harmonise trade arrangements among the three RECs improve the movement of goods and persons within the single integrated region facilitate the joint implementation of regional infrastructure projects and enhance co operation of member states This is a laudable initiative by the member states of the three RECs and it is recognised that regional integration is the first step towards integration into a multilateral trading system For the TFTA member states it is crucial that there is an awareness to move towards a review of domestic customs legislation and policy and to develop regional supranational legislation and regulations in order to gain a stronger competitive edge in the global market This study shies away from proposing a quick fix or instant benefit to the harmonisation of TFTA member states customs legislative frameworks and policies and the development of a single automated interoperable electronic customs system Rather it places its focus on long term sustainable benefits which will be realised over time The harmonisation of TFTA member state customs legislative policies and the resultant Information and Communications Technology ICT reforms to the customs processes of the TFTA member states though not immediate or short term will strategically position the region to conduct business in an increasingly volume driven fast paced electronic global economy
