Towards more effective collaboration by higher education institutions for greater regional development in the Gauteng City-Region Robert Bergman, 2014-11-19 Higher education institutions HEIs in the Gauteng City Region GCR and elsewhere are increasingly being called upon to do more than their traditional roles of teaching and research They are now expected to collaborate and engage with other stakeholders with a view to contributing directly and indirectly to social and economic development in their localities Such an orientation includes having HEIs actively fostering public private partnerships and other initiatives that enhance equitable regional development The adoption of such a focus has implications for all aspects of these institutions activities as well as for the policy and regulatory framework in which they operate This Occasional Paper reflects critically on the role of HEIs in regional development It surveys current debates on the matter and draws out some of the implications on how we ought to think further about the current state of government industry academia interaction and collaboration for development in the GCR It is motivated by an awareness of the increasing importance of higher education in the regional development discourse alongside a body of international theory and practice on the contribution of HEIs to regional development A cornerstone of this body of literature is the so called triple helix framework within which government industry and academia work intimately intensely and collaboratively towards a common vision of regional development Within this framework HEIs are considered to be a public good that must play a large meaningful and relevant role in the development and improvement of the cities and

regions where they are located 1 2 They do not and cannot stand completely outside the realities of their geographic social cultural and political environment The intended audience for this report extends beyond academics and HEI administrators to include government officials business and labour leaders civil society and citizens because a discussion on stimulating and improving the GCR must be much more than an academic exercise The collaboration that is essential to regional development requires stakeholders to be familiar with a wide spectrum of issues of importance to individual constituencies Each constituency must add value and insight to the discussion by drawing on their specific knowledge experience and self interests Establishing this common ground is fundamental to initiating meaningful debate about what the GCR can and should be and how regional HEIs can work more collaboratively creatively and effectively to improve and advance the region

The Bloomsbury Handbook of Gender and Educational Leadership and Management Victoria Showunmi,Pontso Moorosi,Charol Shakeshaft,Izhar Oplatka,2022-02-24 Drawing together diverse research perspectives and theoretical underpinnings this handbook explores gender as a social category and examines cultural and social differences Bringing together diverse perspectives from around the world including from Africa Europe the Middle East the UK and the USA the volume sets out the gender and educational leadership and management field providing a snapshot of the field as it stands signalling its development and directions for future development It offers focused reviews of empirical research on particular aspects of the field and presents new insights from research findings and methodological approaches Cities of Entanglements Barbara Heer,2019-09-24 How do people live together in cities shaped by inequality This comparative ethnography of two African cities Maputo and Johannesburg presents a new narrative about social life in cities often described as sharply divided Based on the ethnography of entangled lives unfolding in a township and in a suburb in Johannesburg in a bairro and in an elite neighborhood in Maputo the book includes case studies of relations between domestic workers and their employers failed attempts by urban elites to close off their neighborhoods and entanglements emerging in religious spaces and in shopping malls Systematizing comparison as an experience based method the book makes an important contribution to urban anthropology comparative urbanism and urban studies Accessibility, Diversity, Equity and Inclusion in the Cultural Sector Julie Bérubé,Marie-Laure Dioh,Antonio C. Cuyler,2024-08-20 Advocating for the immersion of ADEI practices into the heart of art organizations this title links theory practice and context as a way to further enrich cultural communities and wield the deeply human power of art for real human impact
