Gauteng Tourism Exam Paper 2014:

Anatomy of a South African Karst Hydrosystem Philip J. Hobbs, Harrison Pienaar, Eddie van Wyk, Yongxin Xu, 2022-08-05

This book combines the results of the research activities in the assessment of water resources environment and an integrated water resource monitoring program to support preservation efforts of the aquatic environment of the Cradle of Humankind COH World Heritage Sites. A poor understanding of the surface and groundwater resources of the COH property has precipitated often alarmist reporting in the media regarding the negative impacts associated with various sources of poor quality water. The most notable of these is the acid mine drainage threat to karst ecosystems and fossil sites across the property. These circumstances have generated wide and considerable concern for the preservation of the UNESCO inscribed fossil sites and integrity of the water resources of the property.

Small Town Tourism in South Africa

Ronnie Donaldson, 2017-10-14. This book investigates small town tourism development in South Africa taking into account the most common strategies: branding, promotion, festivals, and theming. The contents of the book resonate with the intersection of the power elite and their impacts on small town tourism. Because the book focuses on small town geographies in South Africa, the literature on small town tourism in the country is reviewed in Chapter 2 to provide a contextual background. Each subsequent chapter begins with an overview of international literature to give the conceptual context of the case studies; each chapter explores. In Chapter 3, the concept of small town tourism branding is illustrated by an exploration of the Richmond book town. In Chapter 4, the branding theme is probed further in an investigation of two winners of the Kw la Town of the Year competition: namely Fouriesburg and De Rust. Chapter 5 documents the branding of Sedgefield through its proclamation as Africa's first Cittaslow slow town, a process driven by the local power elite to the exclusion of town's poor who have no understanding of the intentions of the Cittaslow movement and its potential benefits for the town. Chapter 6 is a case study of Greyton's tourism-led rural gentrification by which a small town has transformed in three decades to become a sought-after place of residence for elite immigrants, so making the town a jewel tourism destination while reinforcing racial segregation. Because festivals and events creations of the wealthy have made significant financial contributions to small towns, Chapter 7 considers festivals and events as strategies to market and brand small towns in a particular way. Case studies of the economic impacts of festivals on small towns are assessed and the assessment methodologies used are critiqued. Chapter 8 provides a synthesis by drawing on the thesis of the urban growth machine by power elites.

Community-Based Tourism in the Developing World

Peter Wiltshier, Alan Clarke, 2019-10-16. This book analyses community-based approaches to developing and regenerating tourism destinations in the developing world, addressing this central issue in sustainable tourism practices. It reviews a variety of systems useful for analysing and understanding management issues to offer new insight into the skills and resources that are needed for implementation, ongoing monitoring, and review of community-based tourism. Adopting a multidisciplinary approach, this book explores alternatives to the dominant interpretation which argues against tourism as a benefit for community development International case studies throughout the book illustrate and vouch for tourism as a transformative force while clarifying the need to manage expectations in sustainable tourism for community development rejuvenation and regeneration Emphasis is placed on accruing relevant decision support material and creating services products and management approaches that will endure and adapt as change necessitates This will be of great interest to upper level students researchers and academics in the fields of tourism impacts sustainability ethics and development as well as the broader field of geography Sustainable Human Resource Management in Tourism Tom Baum,Ann Ndiuini,2020-04-11 This book addresses the application of sustainable HRM principles within tourism in the specific context of Africa a neglected area of study It draws on diverse aspects of HRM from the micro individual through the meso level organisational to the macro level policy governmental It also reflects the diverse challenges facing a critical area within emerging African tourism that of its workforce The book is substantially research based and provides a state of the art picture of emergent studies in this area drawing on case examples from a wide range of African contexts As such it provides a comprehensive resource and starts discussion in an emergent research area ISCONTOUR 2019 Tourism Research Perspectives Christian Maurer,Hubert Siller,2019-03-28 The International Student Conference in Tourism Research ISCONTOUR offers students a unique platform to present their research and establish a mutual knowledge transfer forum for attendees from academia industry government and other organisations The annual conference which is jointly organized by the IMC University of Applied Sciences Krems and the Management Center Innsbruck takes place alternatively at the locations Krems and Innsbruck The conference research chairs are Prof FH Mag Christian Maurer University of Applied Sciences Krems and Prof FH Mag Hubert Siller Management Center Innsbruck The target audience include international bachelor master and PhD students graduates lecturers and professors from the field of tourism and leisure management as well as businesses and anyone interested in cutting edge research of the conference topic areas The conference topics include marketing and management tourism product development and sustainability information and communication technologies finance and budgeting and human resource management Living on the Edge Susan Snyman,Kelly S. Bricker,2021-05-06 Tourism has an essential role in terms of contributing to the financial sustainability of protected areas In addition through effective and efficient benefit sharing tourism can positively impact numerous stakeholders within and beyond the protected area Living on the Edge Benefit Sharing from Protected Area Tourism highlights the complexity of benefit sharing the importance of identifying all relevant stakeholders the challenges of ensuring equity and sustainability and the critical importance of good governance The evolution of benefit sharing mechanisms over time also emphasizes a continuing need to evolve and adapt to each unique situation as much evidence indicates that little has changed for those living on the edge Although this book focuses on benefit sharing from protected area tourism it is essential to acknowledge that along with these benefits are costs associated with tourism including possible increased local prices loss of access to land human wildlife conflict and other related costs The contributing authors agree that benefit sharing must include good governance accountability equity transparency a broad reach of stakeholder engagement and a robust combination of tangible and intangible benefits with recognition that benefit sharing systems need to be adaptive and evolve as needed according to the relevant situation The chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of the Journal of Sustainable Tourism
