Geomorphology – geographical skills and techniques

This support pack for Our Communities provides a range of resources to assist with the preparation for the suggested investigation on Our Communities from the section 11.1 CAPS content statement. Geomorphological sub-systems contribute to the formation of an environment. However, the distribution of geomorphological features varies across regions. Through the use of maps, photographs and the internet, learners could explore their local, as well as other regions, to identify geomorphological features. These features could then be grouped into geomorphological sub-systems and an investigation could be conducted to identify the impact of geomorphology on the environment.

For further advice teachers are encouraged to refer to Additional CAPS support material available on the Our Communities resource website, <http://www.ourcommunities.org>.
