Popular Culture is the first major study to focus on American cultural history from the vampire's point of view. Beginning in 1968, N. Fhlainn argues that vampires move from the margins to the centre of popular culture as representatives of the anxieties and aspirations of their age. Mapping their literary and screen evolution on to the American Presidency from Richard Nixon to Donald Trump, this essential critical study chronicles the vampire's blood ties to distinct socio-political movements and cultural decades in the late twentieth and early twenty-first centuries. Through case studies of key texts including Interview with the Vampire, The Lost Boys, Blade, Twilight, Let Me In, True Blood and numerous adaptations of Dracula, this book reveals how vampires continue to be exemplary barometers of political and historical change in the American imagination. It is essential reading for scholars and students in Gothic and Horror Studies, Film Studies and American Studies and for anyone interested in the articulate undead.

Fanged Fan Fiction Maria Lindgren

Leavenworth, Malin Isaksson, 2014-11-26 Twilight, True Blood and The Vampire Diaries have sparked intense fan activity and generated a large quantity of fan fiction stories which test the limits of an already existing fictional work and explore gaps and discrepancies within it. Working from the idea that texts constitute archives expanded and altered by each addition, close readings of a selection of fanfics illustrate particular transformative practices in the online environment. The central figure of the vampire is read through the lens of fanfic authors' contributions to the archives, particularly regarding how figuratively or literally refanged versions of the trope are used to subvert norms established in the source texts concerning depictions of sexuality, sexual practices and monstrosity. Complex relationships between authorial power and subversion between mainstream messages and individual interpretations are examined through fanfic analyses. The findings contributing to discussions about contemporary literary creativity.
