inspiration Index Communities in Action Graeme Johanson, Larry Stillman, 2009-05-05 ICTs have become a very powerful community resource viewed by many authors in this volume as two way mechanisms facilitating the perpetuation of and reflecting esteemed community values The contents of this volume make it clear that ICTs have a huge capacity for incorporation into different forms of community action including social change community learning community connection and community development Through studying the papers in this volume readers can learn about multiple forms of ICTs and action and how action is understood and improve their grasp of the complexities of social technical relations The chapters in this volume began life as papers at the Conference on Community Informatics prospects for communities and action in 2007 the fourth successful community informatics conference held at the Monash University Centre Prato Italy This book creates a platform for exchanging experiences case studies and possible solutions to address the difficulties in deploying ICT in many contexts and will be of interest to all researchers and practioners who engage with ICT particularly those in the community and developmental informatics field Paratextualizing Games Benjamin Beil, Gundolf S. Freyermuth, Hanns Christian Schmidt, 2021-11-18 Gaming no longer only takes place as a closed interactive experience in front of TV screens but also as broadcast on streaming platforms or as cultural events in exhibition centers and e sport arenas The popularization of new technologies forms of expression and online services has had a considerable influence on the academic and journalistic discourse about games This anthology examines which paratexts gaming cultures have produced i e in which forms and formats and through which channels we talk and write about games as well as the way in which paratexts influence the development of games How is knowledge about games generated and shaped today and how do boundaries between popular criticism journalism and scholarship have started to blur In short How does the paratext change the text The Handbook of Historical Linguistics Brian Joseph, Richard Janda, 2008-04-15 The Handbook of Historical Linguistics provides a detailed account of the numerous issues methods and results that characterize current work in historical linguistics the area of linguistics most directly concerned with language change as well as past language states Contains an extensive introduction that places the study of historical linguistics in its proper context within linguistics and the historical sciences in general Covers the methodology of historical linguistics and presents sophisticated overviews of the principles governing phonological morphological syntactic and semantic change Includes contributions from the leading specialists in the field French Global Christie McDonald, Susan Suleiman, 2010-10-25 Recasting French literary history in terms of the cultures and peoples that interacted within and outside of France s national boundaries this volume offers a new way of looking at the history of a national literature along with a truly global and contemporary understanding of language literature and culture The relationship between France s national territory and other regions of the world where French is spoken and written most of them former colonies has long been central to discussions of Francophonie Boldly expanding such discussions to the whole range of French literature the essays in this volume explore spaces mobilities and multiplicities from the Middle Ages to

today They rethink literary history not in terms of national boundaries as traditional literary histories have done but in terms of a global paradigm that emphasizes border crossings and encounters with others Contributors offer new ways of reading canonical texts and considering other texts that are not part of the traditional canon By emphasizing diverse conceptions of language text space and nation these essays establish a model approach that remains sensitive to the specificities of time and place and to the theoretical concerns informing the study of national literatures in the twenty first century

Ecocriticism, Ecology, and the Cultures of Antiquity Christopher Schliephake, 2016-12-07 Although current environmental debates lay the focus on the Industrial Revolution as a sociopolitical development that has led to the current environmental crisis many ecocritical projects have avoided historicizing their concepts or have been characterized by approaches that were either pre historic or post historic while the environmental movement has harbored the dream of restoring nature to a state untouched by human hands there is also the pessimistic vision of a post apocalyptic world exhausted by humanity's consumption of natural resources Against this background the decline of nature has become a narrative template quite common among the public environmental discourse and environmental scientists alike The volume revisits Antiquity as an epoch which witnessed similar environmental problems and came up with its own interpretations and solutions in dealing with them This decidedly historical perspective is not only supposed to fill in a blank in ecocritical discourse but also to question problematize and inform our contemporary debates with a completely different take on nature and humanity's place in the world Thereby a productive dialogue between contemporary ecocritical theories and the classical tradition is established that highlights similarities as well as differences This volume is the first book to bring ecocriticism and the classical tradition into a comprehensive dialogue It assembles recognized experts in the field and advanced scholars as well as young and aspiring ecocritics In order to ensure a dialogic exchange between the contributions the volume includes four response essays by established ecocritics which embed the sections within a larger theoretical and practical ecocritical framework and discuss the potential of including the pre modern world into our environmental debates

The Fictions of Translation Judith Woodsworth, 2018-02-15 In The Fictions of Translation emerging and seasoned scholars from a range of cultures bring fresh perspectives to bear on the age old practice of translation The current movement of people knowledge and goods around the world has made intercultural communication both prevalent and indispensable Consequently the translator has become a more prominent figure and translation an increasingly present theme in works of literature Embedding translation in a fictional setting and considering its most extreme forms pseudotranslation or self translation for example are fruitful ways of conceptualizing the act of translating and extending the boundaries of translation studies Taken together the various translational fictions examined in this collection yield new insights into questions of displacement migration and hybridity all characteristic of the modern world The Fictions of Translation will thus be of interest to practising translators students and scholars of translation and literary studies as well as a more general readership

Cognition and Communication in the Evolution of Language Anne Reboul, 2017-03-01 This book proposes a new two step approach to the evolution of language whereby syntax first evolved as an auto organizational process for the human conceptual apparatus as a Language of Thought and this Language of Thought was then externalized for communication owing to social selection pressures Anne Reboul first argues that despite the routine use of language in communication current use is not a failsafe guide to adaptive history She points out that human cognition is as unique in nature as is language as a communication system suggesting deep links between human thought and language If language is seen as a communication system then the specificities of language its hierarchical syntax its creativity and the ability to use it to talk about absent objects are a mystery This book shows that approaching language as a system for thought overcomes these problems and provides a detailed account of both steps in the evolution of language its evolution for thought and its externalization for communication Working the Spaces of Power Janet Newman, 2012-08-07 This book highlights the way in which contemporary forms of governance policy and politics have been reframed by women working the spaces of power It shows how links between activism and work have generated innovations that have since become common sense forms of policy and practice Janet Newman draws on interviews with a wide variety of women in positions of power some at the highest levels of government some who have led major voluntary bodies others who are entrepreneurs philanthropists community activists and campaigners All of their work has been informed by a range of social movements and activist commitments Newman uses these interviews to interrogate develop and challenge existing approaches to understanding social and political change

Quantitative Sociodynamics Dirk Helbing, 2010-11-15 When I wrote the book Quantitative Sociodynamics it was an early attempt to make methods from statistical physics and complex systems theory fruitful for the modeling and understanding of social phenomena Unfortunately the first edition appeared at a quite prohibitive price This was one reason to make these chapters available again by a new edition The other reason is that in the meantime many of the methods discussed in this book are more and more used in a variety of different fields Among the ideas worked out in this book are 1 a statistical theory of binary social interactions a mathematical formulation of social field theory which is the basis of social 2 force models a microscopic foundation of evolutionary game theory based on what is known today as proportional imitation rule a stochastic treatment of interactions in evolutionary game theory and a model for the self organization of behavioral 3 conventions in a coordination game It therefore appeared reasonable to make this book available again but at a more affordable price To keep its original character the translation of this book which 1 D Helbing Interrelations between stochastic equations for systems with pair interactions PhysicaA 181 29 52 1992 D Helbing Boltzmann like and Boltzmann Fokker Planck equations as a foundation of behavioral models PhysicaA 196 546 573 1993 2 D Helbing Boltzmann like and Boltzmann Fokker Planck equations as a foundation of behavioral models PhysicaA 196 546 573 1993 D Developments in Linguistic Humour Theory Marta Dynel, 2013-10-15 This volume presents recent developments in the linguistics of humour It depicts new theoretical proposals for capturing different humorous forms and phenomena central to humour research thereby extending its scope The 15 contributions critically survey and develop the existing interpretative models or they postulate novel theoretical approaches to humour in order to better elucidate its workings The collection of articles offers cutting edge interdisciplinary explorations encompassing various realms of linguistics semantics pragmatics stylistics cognitive linguistics and language philosophy as well as drawing on findings from other fields primarily sociology psychology and anthropology Thanks to careful overviews of the relevant background literature the papers will be of use to not only researchers and academics but also students Albeit focused on theoretical developments rather than case studies the volume is illustrated with interesting research data such as the discourse of television programmes and series films and stand up comedy as well as jokes
