

June Newsletter for Daycare/ Preschool/ Classroom

This is a template for a June newsletter, designed for use in daycare, preschool, or classroom settings. The template is set against a light wood-grain background. At the top, the word "June" is centered in a white box. To the left of the box is an illustration of a beach shovel and a beach ball, and to the right is a smiling sun wearing sunglasses. Below the title, there are three main sections: "Themes and Activities" on the left, "Dates to Remember" on the top right, and "Reminders and Announcements" on the bottom right. The "Themes and Activities" section includes a prompt to "Put your themes and activities here" and an illustration of a paint palette. The "Dates to Remember" section includes a prompt to "Put your dates here" and a list of bullet points: "Put your", "important dates", and "here". The "Reminders and Announcements" section includes a prompt to "Put your reminders and announcements here" and an illustration of a small robot. At the bottom of the template, there is a large illustration of a group of children holding hands in a circle, with a large heart in the center. A small circular logo is visible in the bottom right corner of the template.

Kindergarten Newsletter June:

The Promise of Preschool Elizabeth Rose, 2010-03-17 The past 45 years have seen the emergence of education for young children as a national issue spurred by the initiation of the Head Start program in the 1960s efforts to create a child care system in the 1970s and the campaign to reform K 12 schooling in the 1980s Today the push to make preschool the beginning of public education for all children has gained support in many parts of the country and promises to put early education policy on the national agenda Yet questions still remain about the best ways to shape policy that will fulfill the promise of preschool In The Promise of Preschool Elizabeth Rose traces the history of decisions on early education made by presidents from Lyndon Johnson to George W Bush by other lawmakers and by experts advocates activists and others Using this historical context as a lens the book shows how the past shapes today's preschool debate and provides meaningful perspective on the policy questions that need to be addressed as we move forward Should we provide preschool to all children or just to the neediest Should it be run by public schools or incorporate private child care providers How do we most effectively ensure educational quality and success The Promise of Preschool is a balanced in depth investigation into these and other important questions and demonstrates how an understanding of the past can stimulate valuable debate about the care and education of young children today

Life Stories Linda C. Morice, Laurel Puchner, 2013-12-01 Life Stories Exploring Issues in Educational History Through Biography consists of 13 essays each of which offers perspective on one of four key questions that have long drawn scholarly attention What should schools teach Who gets to decide How should educators adapt to a changing world to provide opportunity for all students How should educators' experiences be interpreted for future audiences The book is written to commemorate the thirtieth anniversary of the International Society for Educational Biography and its journal Vitae Scholasticae All of the essays have appeared in the journal and they are set in a variety of educational environments that span 174 years Taken together the essays demonstrate the important contributions that biography can make to educational history Life Stories would be of interest to educational biographers and historians for use in their own scholarly work Instructors might also consider assigning Life Stories as a required text in educational history courses

Universal Preschool Brenda K. Bushouse, 2009-02-23 Winner of the 2011 Virginia A Hodgkinson Book Prize presented by the Association for Research on Nonprofit Organizations and Voluntary Action ARNOVA The spectacular recent success of state funded preschool education is revealed and explained in this absorbing study A quiet revolution has been underway in American education policy since 1995 with forty one states and the District of Columbia creating some form of state funded preschool learning Brenda K Bushouse tells why it became politically advantageous for state legislators to support universal access to preschool programs and how political and budgetary stability was achieved to spur this initiative In 2001 the Pew Charitable Trusts announced an ambitious new giving program aimed at creating universal preschool for all three and four year olds Bushouse reveals Pew s unorthodox giving program and complex strategy for advancing universal preschool policy change ACEI Center Newsletter ,1961

The Parent-Centered Early School Michael R. Williams,2021-12-12 First Published in 1997 This case study of a small independent parent run program in Milwaukee s inner city finds that several factors combine to make the school effective parental involvement at all levels including governance a clear and shared sense of mission and a coherent Montessori curriculum that takes children from preschool through the third grade The study employed data from several surveys of parents teachers interviews with participants and observation over five years Begun twenty seven years ago by parents and community members alienated from dysfunctional public schools and still supported mostly by contributions Highland today is one of only a dozen schools in the United States receiving some of its revenue under a voucher program that provides state funds to independent schools After an overview of Highland s history demographics and measures of success two chapters examine the school s commitment to diversity nonviolence child nurturance and egalitarianism Other chapters focus on how Highland involves its parents and how parents alone govern the school analyze the role of Highland s trustees and details the school s Montessori curriculum The final chapter explores the possibility of applying some of Highland s lessons to public school curriculums
