Aavitsland, 2017-07-05 The first monograph on the Vita Humana cycle at Tre Fontane this book includes an overview of the medieval history of the Roman Cistercian abbey and its architecture as well as a consideration of the political and cultural standing of the abbey both within Papal Rome and within the Cistercian order Furthermore it considers the commission of the fresco cycle the circumstances of its making and its position within the art historical context of the Roman Duecento Examining the unusual blend of images in the Vita Humana cycle this study offers a more nuanced picture of the iconographic repertoire of medieval art Since the discovery of the frescoes in the 1960s the iconographic programme of the cycle has remained mysterious and an adequate analysis of the Vita Humana cycle as a whole has so far been lacking Kristin B Aavitsland covers this gap in the scholarship on Roman art circa 1300 and also presents the first interpretative discussion of the frescoes that is up to date with the architectural investigations undertaken in the monastery around 2000 Aavitsland proposes a rationale behind the conception of the fresco cycle thereby providing a key for understanding its iconography and shedding new light on thirteenth century Cistercian culture Self-representation of Medieval Religious Communities Anne Müller, Karen Stöber, 2009 This book explores the medieval monastery as symbolic space locus symbolicus and looks at forms of self representation in medieval monastic life Papers focus on both the transitory nature of organised religious life which is based on symbols and the separate identities religious communities developed by using their own specific forms of ritual and symbolisation Case studies treat the British Isles and the broader European context Among the key issues explored here are rituals in internal organisation the symbolic use of space architecture and art symbolism in social interactions and symbolic constructions of the past Théologiens et théologiennes dans l'Afrique d'aujourd'hui , 2010-06-01 Quinze th
