Canada from the Outside in / Le Canada Vu D'ailleurs Pierre Anctil, Zilá Bernd, 2006 Selected papers presented at the International Council for Canadian Studies biennial conference held May 25-27 2005 Fathers, Daughters, and Slaves Doris Kadish, 2012-10-17 This new study brings to life the unique contribution of French women during the early nineteenth century a key period in the history of colonialism and slavery It offers in depth readings of works by five antislavery writers Germaine de Staël, Claire Duras, Marceline Desbordes-Valmore, Charlotte Dard and Sophie Doin Book Bulletin, 1920

Melusine; or, The Noble History of Lusignan Jean d'Arras, 2015-06-26 Jean d'Arras's splendid prose romance of Melusine written for Jean de Berry the brother of King Charles V of France is one of the most significant and complex literary works of the later Middle Ages The author promising to tell us how the noble and powerful fortress of Lusignan in Poitou was founded by a fairy writes a ceaselessly astonishing account of the origins of the powerful feudal dynasty of the Lusignans in southwestern France which flourished in western Europe and the Near East during the age of the Crusades The spellbinding story of the destinies of the fairy Melusine her mortal husband and her extraordinary sons blends history myth genealogy folklore and popular traditions with epic romance and Crusade narrative Preceded by a substantial introduction this translation the first in English to be amply annotated captures the remarkable range of stylistic registers that characterizes this extravagant and captivating work Metropolitan Mosaics and Melting-Pots Adlai Murdoch, Pascale De Souza, 2014-10-16 Migration is both a demographic and a cultural phenomenon As such it both reshapes the global village and subverts the all encompassing vision of the city a space split between the blending of all new cultures and the need felt by many migrants to maintain their traditions and thereby contribute to a multicultural mosaic This series of essays explores how the concepts of the melting pot and the mosaic have shaped the representation of Paris and Montreal in francophone literatures Migrant movements to these cities from the Caribbean the Maghreb Sub-Saharan Africa Quebec Indochina and the Indian Ocean have produced new groups of intersecting cultures Under the dual influences of their native and host countries migrants have produced an innovative and multifaceted literature that reflects their composite world view Their writing poses pressing questions of ethnicity immigration integration and citizenship and challenges longstanding notions both of the concept of the city and of how its spaces embody and articulate Frenchness in the face of ongoing change Such shifts produce changes not only in the diasporic culture but in the national culture as well through creolization processes These shifting identities increasingly destabilize current notions of national membership and social and cultural belonging since we can no longer presume a direct correspondence between place culture language and identity They also pose new questions of national identity and difference as the immigrant presence expands and inflects the cosmopolitan pluralism of today's societies The Curse of Eve, the Wound of the Hero Peggy McCracken, 2010-11-24 In The Curse of Eve the Wound of the Hero Peggy McCracken explores the role of blood symbolism in establishing and maintaining the sex gender systems of medieval culture Reading a variety of literary texts in relation to historical medical and religious discourses about blood and in the context of anthropological and religious studies McCracken offers a provocative examination of the ways gendered cultural values were mapped onto blood in the Middle Ages As McCracken demonstrates blood is gendered when that of men is prized in stories about battle and that of women is excluded from the public arena in which social and political hierarchies are contested and defined through chivalric contest In her examination of the conceptualization of familial relationships she uncovers the privileges that are grounded in gendered definitions of blood relationships She shows that in narratives about sacrifice a father's relationship to his son is described as a shared blood whereas texts about women accused of giving birth to monstrous children define the mother's contribution to conception in terms of corrupted often menstrual blood Turning to fictional representations of bloody martyrdom and of eucharistic ritual McCracken juxtaposes the blood of the wounded guardian of the grail with that of Christ and suggests that the blood from the grail king's wound is characterized in opposition to that of women and Jewish men Drawing on a range of French and other literary texts McCracken shows how the dominant ideas about blood in medieval culture point to ways of seeing modern values associated with blood in a new light and how modern representations in turn suggest new perspectives on medieval perceptions Joseph Et Aséneth

Marc Philonenko,1974 Sprachenräume der Schweiz Elvira Glaser,Johannes Kabatek,Barbara Sonnenhauser,2024-11-25 Das vorliegende Handbuch bietet eine umfassende Darstellung der Vielfalt der in der Schweiz bis in jüngste Zeit mündlich und schriftlich verwendeten Sprachen und Dialekte und der räumlichen und sozialen Bedingtheit ihres Auftretens Es bezieht sich nicht ausschliesslich auf die Schweiz als viersprachiges Land sondern geht neue Wege indem es darüber hinaus das Englische sowie Sprachen berücksichtigt deren heutige Präsenz in der Schweiz auf Migration beruht Auch historische Sprachen und Dialekte die in der Schweiz und im liechtensteinischen Sprachraum gesprochen werden sowie die drei Schweizer Gebärdensprachen werden behandelt Mit Ausblicken über die Schweiz hinaus bietet das Handbuch eine erweiterte Perspektive auf die Räume die die Sprachen der Schweiz einnehmen So wird das traditionelle Verständnis von Vielsprachigkeit um neue Aspekte und aktuelle Entwicklungen ergänzt Nicolas Edme Rétif de la Bretonne, 'Ingénue Saxancour' Mary S.

Trouille,2014-05-05 Set in Paris in the 1780s Rétif de la Bretonne's Ingénue Saxancour is a thinly veiled account of his daughter's disastrous marriage to an abusive husband From the time of her marriage in January 1780 until she left her husband in July 1785 Agnès Rétif suffered continually from severe physical sexual and emotional abuse Published in 1789 Rétif's novel scandalized the public with its graphic descriptions of his son-in-law's sexual perversity and brutal violence Rétif's novel remains shocking more than two centuries later and continues to raise disturbing questions about power relations within abusive relationships Perhaps most disturbing of all are the accusations leveled against Rétif himself concerning his motives for writing and publishing this account Was he as some charged a shameless exhibitionist willing to reveal his family's darkest secrets merely to attract attention and broaden his readership Was he an unscrupulous opportunist willing to capitalize on his daughter's misfortunes and risk her reputation simply to pay his debts Or was he as he himself claimed trying to warn young women about the dangers of marrying men of dubious backgrounds against their parents' wishes R. T. F. was all this and more a reform-minded pioneer far in advance of his time with his graphic portrayal of spousal abuse his call for greater public awareness of this perennial problem and his crusade for liberal divorce laws that would allow women to escape from abusive relationships and to remarry This in fact is what Agn. s. R. T. F. was able to do after passage of the divorce law passed by France's revolutionary government in 1792

Quand la folie parle Gillian Ní Cheallaigh, Laura Jackson, Siobhán McIlvanney, 2014-06-26 Quand la folie parle presents a timely reinvigoration of the complex subject of madness and its literary manifestations This stimulating study authored by a range of young and talented international scholars is of key importance in defining and refining our ongoing endeavours to theorise and analyse the literary representations of the problematics of mental health By including discussions of texts that speak of madness as well as those that speak from madness this volume demonstrates that in fact the non-sense of madness achieves a force of expression often more powerful than the usual order of logic Embracing the scientific the religious the medical the psychoanalytic the historical the erotic and of course the properly literary this wide-ranging historically informed collection is particularly significant in its exploration of both the madwoman and the madman and exhibits an inclusiveness which extends to the genres and modes of the texts examined The authors discussed from Nerval and Houellebecq to NDiaye and L. provide a refreshingly balanced picture of mental illness presenting madness or depression as a contestatory creative stance against often mind-numbing social racial or consumerist conventions while refusing to play down the inevitable difficulties accompanying this isolating condition. The dialectic effect referenced in the title of the collection extends not only to the dynamics at work within the volume itself as the different contributions implicitly dialogue with one another but equally to the reader of these essays who is engaged throughout in the debates put forward.

Ovid's Art and the Wife of Bath Marilyn Desmond, 2006 In The Blue Eagle at Work Charles J. Morris, a renowned labor law scholar and preeminent authority on the National Labor Relations Act, uncovers a long forgotten feature of that act that offers a new approach to the revitalization of the American labor movement and the institution of collective bargaining. He convincingly demonstrates that in private sector nonunion workplaces the Act guarantees that employees have a viable right to engage in collective bargaining through a minority union on a members only basis. As a result of this startling breakthrough American labor relations may never again be the same. Morris's underlying thesis is based on a meticulous analysis of statutory and decisional law and exhaustive historical research. The Blue Eagle at Work which is clear and accessible to general readers as well as specialists is an essential tool for labor union officials and organizers, human resource professionals in management, attorneys practicing in the field of labor and employment law, teachers and students of labor law and industrial relations, and concerned workers and managers who desire to understand the law that governs their relationship.

The 'Roman de la Rose' and Thirteenth-Century Thought Jonathan Morton, Marco Nievergelt, 2020-07-16 The thirteenth century allegorical dream vision the Roman de la Rose transformed how medieval literary texts engaged with philosophical ideas. Written in Old French, its influence dominated French, English, and Italian literature for the next two centuries, serving in particular as a model for Chaucer and Dante. Jean de Meun's section of this extensive, complex, and dazzling work is notable for its sophisticated responses to a whole host of contemporary philosophical debates. This collection brings together literary scholars and historians of philosophy to produce the most thorough interdisciplinary study to date of how the Rose uses poetry to articulate philosophical problems and positions. This wide-ranging collection demonstrates the importance of the poem for medieval intellectual history and offers new insights into the philosophical potential both of the Rose specifically and of medieval poetry as a whole.

Poetry, Knowledge and Community in Late Medieval France Rebecca Dixon, Finn E. Sinclair, 2008 The role of poetry in the transmission and shaping of knowledge in late medieval France. Covering the period from the late thirteenth to the early sixteenth century, Poetry, Knowledge and Community examines the role of poetry in French culture in transmitting and shaping knowledge. The volume reveals the interplay between poet, text, and audience and explores the key dynamics of later medieval French poetry and of the communities in which it was produced. Essays in both English and French are organized into three inter-related sections: Learned Poetry, Poetry and Learning, Poetry or Prose, and Poetic Communities, and address both canonical and less well-known French and Occitan verse literature together with a wide range of complementary subject areas. The international cast of contributors to the volume includes many of the best
