This textbook is designed for physicians in training be they budding cardiologists, internists or related disciplines. It caters particularly to those preparing for qualifying boards and examinations who want a manageable amount of high value information about the heart in an easily digestible format. Clinical Nuclear Medicine

Fourth Edition Gary J.R Cook, M. N Maisiey, K.E Britton, Vaseem Chengazi, 2006-11-24. The fourth edition of Clinical Nuclear Medicine highlights the continued growth in clinical applications for PET and other aspects of molecular imaging. With its problem oriented clinical approach the book presents relevant topics of current importance to the practicing clinician rather than providing a comprehensive review of all technical and basic science aspects. An initial section covers the broad principles and scope of important areas that are considered to have impacted more significantly on current and future clinical practice since the last edition. The second section covers all the clinical systems where nuclear medicine helps current clinical practice while a third section covers a number of relevant technical topics. Heart Disease Diagnosis and Therapy M. Gabriel Khan, 2007-10-27. M Gabriel Khan MD concisely assembles in a reader friendly format all the clinically useful information that an internist needs in both his daily rounds and busy office practice to find correct clinical diagnoses and choose optimal pharmacologic therapies for their patients. Highlights include a simplified method for recognition of and a practical therapeutic approach to arrhythmias as well as a more logical approach to drug management of hypertension than that given by the Joint National Committee instructive algorithms that simplify the diagnosis and treatment of syncope and extensive diagnostic information on hypertrophic cardiomyopathy. A large number of illustrative electrocardiograms that help to clarify the most often misinterpreted of all cardiologic tests and extensive discussions of practical cardiovascular pharmacology complete this magisterial survey.
