About the Book

Frindle is a very different kind of story. It tells about a boy who invents a new word, "frindle," to replace the word "pen." The story is a fun and exciting read for students. It is a story about a boy who is very smart and who is very creative. He is a boy who is not afraid to think for himself and who is not afraid to stand up for his ideas. The story is a great example of how a single person can make a difference in the world. It is a story that is full of humor and that is easy to read. It is a story that is perfect for students to read and that is perfect for teachers to use in the classroom.

Classroom Connections

1. Discussing the story, students can be asked to think about the boy who invented the word "frindle." They can be asked to think about the boy's character and about the boy's actions. They can be asked to think about the boy's relationship with his parents and with his friends. They can be asked to think about the boy's relationship with the world.
