The Politics and Governance of Basic Education Brian Levy, Robert Cameron, Ursula Hoadley, Vinodhan Naidoo, 2018-08-24
This is an open access title available under the terms of a CC BY NC ND 4.0 International licence. It is free to read at Oxford Scholarship Online and offered as a free PDF download from OUP and selected open access locations. All over the world economic inclusion has risen to the top of the development discourse. A well performing education system is central to achieving inclusive development but the challenge of improving educational outcomes has proven to be unexpectedly difficult. Access to education has increased but quality remains low with weaknesses in governance comprising an important part of the explanation. The Politics and Governance of Basic Education explores the balance between hierarchical and horizontal institutional arrangements for the public provision of basic education. Using the vivid example of South Africa, a country that had ambitious goals at the outset of its transition from apartheid to democracy, it explores how the interaction of politics and institutions affects educational outcomes. By examining lessons learned from how South Africa failed to achieve many of its goals, it constructs an innovative alternative strategy for making progress combining practical steps to achieve incremental gains to re-orient the system towards learning. 3rd Economic & Social Rights Report, 1999-2000 South African Human Rights Commission, 2001. Perspectives on ICT4D and Socio-Economic Growth Opportunities in Developing Countries Ndayizigamiye, Patrick, Barlow-Jones, Glenda, Brink, Roelien, Bvuma, Stella, Minty, Rehana, Mhlongo, Siyabonga, 2020-10-09. Technology has been hailed as one of the catalysts toward economic and human development. In the current economic era of the Fourth Industrial Revolution, information acquisition, transformation, and dissemination processes are posed to be the key enablers of development. However, in the context of developing countries, there is a need for more evidence on the impact that ICT has on addressing developmental issues. Such evidence is needed to make a case for investments in ICT-led interventions to improve people's lives in developing countries. Perspectives on ICT4D and Socio-Economic Growth Opportunities in Developing Countries is a collection of innovative research on current trends that portray the ICT and development nexus. ICT4D from economic and human development perspectives within developing countries. While highlighting topics including mobile money, poverty alleviation, and consumer behavior, this book is ideally designed for economists, government officials, policymakers, ICT specialists, business professionals, researchers, academicians, students, and entrepreneurs. Handbook of Research on Institutional, Economic, and Social Impacts of Globalization and Liberalization Bayar, Yilmaz, 2020-11-06. Sefa Dei,2017-04-13 How do we articulate the possibilities limitations and challenges of inclusive schooling and education in African contexts This book insists that inclusive education cannot be taken for granted Inclusion is neither a natural nor a given educational practice It must be struggled for Bringing a critical perspective to inclusive schooling and education is imperative This book adds to current educational debates with an African lens It engages inclusive education from multiple lenses of curriculum content classroom pedagogy and instruction representation culture environment and the socio organization life of schools the pursuit of equity and social justice and the search for educational relevance It is opined that Africa cannot be left behind in rethinking educational inclusion in ways that evoke critical questions of power equity and social difference The question of learner's identity in terms of class gender sexuality disability language ethnicity and race are equally consequential for African schooling and education When inclusion is understood as wholeness of education then how schooling and education engage the complete learner her his body mind soul and spirit as well as the use of local community and Indigenous knowledges in teaching and learning become relevant Inclusion stands the risk of liberal educational agendas that simply tinker or toy with schooling and education and hardly embrace the challenge of educational change What we need is a fundamental structural change that ensures schooling and education embraces difference while grappling with the teaching of Indigeneity decolonization and resistance
