Swansea University Sam Blaxland, 2020-06-01 Swansea University Campus and Community in a Post War World 1945

2020 marks Swansea University's centenary. It is a study of post-Second World War academic and social change in Britain and its universities as well as an exploration of shifts in youth culture and the way in which higher education institutions have interacted with people and organisations in their regions. It covers a range of important themes and topics including architectural developments, international scholars, the changing behaviours of students, protest and politics, and the multi-layered relationships that are formed between academics, young people, and the wider communities of which they are a part. Unlike most institutional histories, it takes a bottom-up approach and focuses on the thoughts, feelings, and behaviours of people like students and non-academic staff who are normally sidelined in such accounts. As it does so, it utilises a large collection of oral history testimonies collected specifically for this book, and throughout it explores how formative, paradoxical, and unexpected university life can be.
