Killing Thinking Death Of The University Mary Evans:

Killing Thinking Mary Evans, 2005-09-01 The more it costs the less it's worth Student slogan London 2003 We are told that this world represents our best hope for intellectual vitality and creativity We are also told that we should pay more to enter it and experience its rich resources Yet those rich resources are increasingly marginalized by cultures of assessment and regulation the heavy costs of which both financial and intellectual are to be carried by students Increasingly students are being asked to pay for the costs of the regulation of higher education rather than education itself Access to Higher Education has become more widely available the implications of that change are the concern of this book Mary Evans Feminism,

Gender and Universities Miriam E. David, 2016-04-15 Feminism Gender and Universities demonstrates the positive and robust impacts that feminism has had on higher education through the eyes and in the words of the participants in changing political and social processes Drawing on the collective biography of leading feminist scholars from around the world and current evidence relating to gender equality in education this book employs methods including biographies life histories and narratives to show how the feminist project to transform women's lives in the direction of gender and social equality became an educational and pedagogical one Through careful attention to the ways in which feminism has transformed feminist academic women's lives the author explores the importance of education in changing socio-political contexts raising questions about further changes that are necessary Delving into the deeper and more hidden echelons of education the book examines the contested nature of current managerial or business approaches to university and education revealing these to be incompatible with feminist thought A plea for more careful attention to education and the ways in which the processes of knowledge making influence and are influenced by gender and sexual relations Feminism Gender and Universities will appeal to scholars across the social sciences with interests in gender pedagogy and modern academic life Mock Ritual in the Modern Era Reginald McGinnis, John Vignaux Smyth, 2022 Mock Ritual in the Modern Era explores the complex interrelations between ritual and mockery McGinnis and Smyth trace the evolution of mock ritual in various forms throughout the modern era as found in literary historical and anthropological texts as well as encyclopedias newspapers and films The Politics of Knowledge Patrick Baert, Fernando Domínguez Rubio, 2013-03-01 Social scientists often refer to contemporary advanced societies as knowledge societies which indicates the extent to which science knowledge and knowledge production have become fundamental phenomena in Western societies and central concerns for the social sciences This book aims to investigate the political dimension of this production and validation of knowledge In studying the relationship between knowledge and politics this book provides a novel perspective on current debates about knowledge societies and offers an interdisciplinary agenda for future research It addresses four fundamental aspects of the relation between knowledge and politics the ways in which the nature of the knowledge we produce affects the nature of political activity how the production of knowledge calls into question fundamental political categories how the production of knowledge is governed and managed how the new technologies of knowledge produce new forms of political action This book will be of interest to students of sociology political science cultural studies and science and technology studies

Reclaiming Feminism Miriam E. David, 2016-06-15 Since second wave feminism of the 1970s women's rights and opportunities in education and employment have increased across the globe but has equality whether social political or legal really been achieved In this fascinating book Miriam E David a well known and influential feminist in higher education celebrates the achievements of international feminists as activists and scholars She provides a critique of the expansion of global higher education masking their pioneering zeal and zest for knowledge Looking at the changing zeitgeist David contends that feminism has yet to have an enduring influence despite how generations of women have felt empowered She illustrates the power of patriarchal social relations and how everyday sexism or misogyny is keenly felt This impassioned book asks whether a feminist friendly future is possible or indeed desirable

Texts and Practices Revisited Carmen Rosa Caldas-Coulthard, Malcolm Coulthard, 2023-06-26 This is a second edition of the ground breaking volume Texts and Practices Readings in Critical Discourse Analysis which was the first published collection of chapters presenting critical discourse analysis theory and practice Critical discursive approaches have now become the main trend in most discursive and semiotic investigations It was then and is especially now predominantly concerned with identifying demystifying and resisting the ways language and semiotic systems are used to reflect create and sustain inequalities in specific contexts This new collection presents contributions by all six of the living authors who were central to the first edition Norman Fairclough Theo van Leeuwen Teun van Dijk Ruth Wodak Carmen Caldas Coulthard and Malcolm Coulthard plus an edited version of a jointly authored classic chapter originally authored by Roger Fowler and Gunther Kress There are four new chapters written by the other leading members of the foundational 1990s European Critical Discourse Analysis group Phil Graham Jay Lemke David Machin and Louisa Rojo and two by young critical discourse researchers who have risen to prominence more recently Rodrigo Borba and Germ n Canale Texts and Practices Revisited Essential Readings in Critical Discourse Analysis provides a representative collection of work which while authored by the pioneering researchers of the first wave of CDA illustrates their most recent concerns and their latest analytical techniques It is an essential text for all advanced students of English language linguistics media and cultural studies

The Aftermath of the Bangladesh Liberation War of 1971 Amit Ranjan, Taj Hashmi, Mazhar Abbas, 2024-09-02 This book analyses the human dimension during and after the Bangladesh Liberation War of 1971 The chapters investigate questions of belonging and being an alien civil rights and ethnic demands and broader issues of citizenship and statelessness The analysis centres around the situation of those who crossed into the Indian side of the border during the Liberation War the Bengali speaking population who chose Pakistan as their country after the birth of Bangladesh and stranded Pakistani or Bihari Muslims living in Bangladesh The book addresses three key questions how do the modern nation states of India Pakistan and Bangladesh categorize citizens based on the narratives of 1971 how the acceptance of certain groups as part of the Indian citizenry affected its concept of belonging and after 1971 how do Pakistan and Bangladesh define who is part of their citizenry and how do so called aliens negotiate their identity in national debates A timely contribution to the subject of forced migration citizenship and identities in South Asia edited by three academics with Indian Pakistani and Bangladeshi heritage this book will be of interest to a variety of academics studying the history politics and sociology of South Asia Local Citizenship in the Global Arena Sally Findlow, 2016-11-03

Local Citizenship in the Global Arena proposes a reconsideration of both citizenship and citizenship education moving away equally from prevailing global citizenship and fundamental British values approaches towards a curriculum for education that is essentially about creating cosmopolitan included and inclusive politically engaged citizens of communities local national and global Viewing education as both problem and solution Findlow argues that today's climate of rapid and unpredictable geopolitical and cultural re-scoping requires an approach to citizenship education that both reflects and shapes society paying attention to relationships between the local and global aspects of political voice equality and community Drawing on a range of international examples she explores the importance and possibilities of a form of education that instead of promoting divisive competition educates about citizenship in its various forms and encourages the sorts of open and radical thinking that can help young people cross ideological and physical borders and use their voice in line with their own and others real long term interests Successive chapters develop this argument by critically examining the key elements of citizenship discourses through the interrelated lenses of geopolitical change nationalism the competition fetish critical pedagogy multiculturalism protest politics feminism and ecology and highlighting ways in which the situationally diverse lived realities of citizenship have been mediated by different forms of education The book draws attention to how we think of education's place in a world of combined globalisation localism anti state revolt and xenophobia It will be of key interest to academics researchers and postgraduate students in the fields of education political science philosophy sociology social policy cultural studies and anthropology

Critical Pedagogy Peter McLaren, Joe L. Kincheloe, 2007 Our educational system is in turmoil Many would argue that it has been assaulted and oversimplified by the right There is growing concern that we are becoming a liberal nation state with an increasingly anti liberal population and an electorate that is disinterested in politics In this globalized world the power of capital is so great that opposition to it is often discouraged and disheartened leaving many citizens few political precepts by which to consider their institutions This contemporary failure of vision has opened the way for the unimpeded return of the philosophy of the free market As a result social and educational policies are debated almost solely in terms of how they fit with the needs of the market Social and ethical understandings are replaced by a failed economic theory that requires a radical constraint of our political and economic choices Compassion for the poor the market lets us know is wrong headed because any interference with the labor market will always result in unfortunate economic and social consequences Moral issues are eclipsed by market needs In Critical Pedagogy Where Are We Now the contributors discuss how the field of critical pedagogy should respond to such dire conditions in a way that is theoretically savvy and visionary while concurrently contributing to the struggle to improve the lives of those most hurt by them Critical Pedagogy is essential reading for every classroom teacher and pre service teacher It is also a valuable tool for use in undergraduate and graduate level classrooms The Thinking University Expanded Yusef Waghid, Nuraan Davids, 2019-11-27 The Thinking University Expanded considers how the university can be extended and developed to an institution of play that becomes a gateway to new compositions and enactments of opportunities and happiness for university academics and students alike A university of and in continuous play can shape the public sphere in ways that reimagine both the epistemological and political and the metaphysical and the ethical Without abandoning the university's emphasis on thinking the book examines the prospects of opening the university to a new possible use The singular outcomes based lens of seeing higher education distorts the humane and ethical nuance of what a university can potentially do and aspire towards For this reason the book intends to find a new use for the idea of a university one that is responsible and responsive in both its pursuit of the truth and being open to different kinds of truth as made manifest in diverse contexts and life worlds This book will be of great interest for academics researchers and postgraduate students in the field of higher education
