Inuit Canada : Reflexive Approaches to Native Anthropological Research Pascale Visart de Bocarmé, Pierre Petit, 2008

Après les bouleversements liés à la sédentarisation des années 1950 et suite leur lutte politique les sociétés inuit accèdent présentement des formes d'autonomie territoriale au Nunavut et ailleurs l'heure est au partenariat et le gouvernement compte sur les anthropologues pour participer au renouveau culturel les traditions tant sollicitées pour faire face aux défis du présent Que signifie ce partenariat et quels sont ses fondements idéologiques Comment les anthropologues réagissent-ils à la multiplication des procédures d'accès au terrain et autres contraintes déontologiques Que penser du statut des aînés devenus interlocuteurs privilégiés des nouveaux projets pédagogiques et d'une anthropologie souvent tournée vers l'idée de sauvetage culturel Quelle place pour l'anthropologie de la jeunesse et comment aborder les rapports interculturels entre les Inuit et la société eurocanadienne Le présent ouvrage aborde ces interrogations pistologiques sensibles et engage une pratique prononcée de la réflexivité dans ce contexte en constante évolution o l'implication citoyenne du chercheur est hautement valorisée

In the wake of the upheavals caused by the shift to a sedentary lifestyle in the 1950s and after a long political struggle Inuit societies are now obtaining forms of territorial autonomy In Nunavut and other places a new partnership is being formed and the government is counting on anthropologists to participate in this cultural renewal which draws on traditions in order to face the challenges of the present What is the significance of this partnership and what is its ideological grounding How have anthropologists reacted to the emergence of new procedures for access to the field and other deontological constraints What of the status of elders who have become central agents in pedagogical projects as well as in an anthropology often geared to the idea of cultural salvage What place can be made for an anthropology of youth and how are the relationships between Inuit communities and Euro Canadian society to be approached This volume tackles these sensitive theoretical questions and urges a distinctly reflexive practice in this constantly evolving context one in which the scholar's civic engagement is highly valued
