range of established and emerging scholars to address the building blocks of metal composition in the context of metal's subgenres and evolution over time. Together the chapters provide a holistic theoretical framework for understanding the distinctive compositional features of metal. With contributions from an international group of experts, the handbook is organized into four parts around major themes: Structures (including form, riff, harmony, rhythm, and meter), Expressions, and Techniques, Instruments, Expressions, and Techniques, Voices, Productions (addressing the role of gear, capturing, processing, and mixing technologies). The contributors examine and discuss these elements with the goal of building an understanding of metal music composition that can also function as a manual for composing metal music. Providing a comprehensive overview of the unique musical elements of metal, this handbook is an essential resource for scholars and students across popular music studies, musicology, creative music performance and composition, songwriting, and production studies, as well as for anyone interested in understanding metal from the perspective of composition.

Music Traditions, Change and Creativity in Africa Giorgio Adamo, Alessandro Cosentino, 2019. In February 2014, an international seminar on musical dynamics and creativity in Africa was held at Tor Vergata University of Rome. The topic and the approach were strongly influenced by issues that Gerhard Kubik believed should have been addressed for a long time, such as the attention to cultural and social dynamics with a specific emphasis on the creativity of individuals. Beside his keynote address, Music Traditions, Change and Creativity in Africa includes the contributions presented by scholars from different countries, particularly active in the East African area and in dialogue with Italian researchers who have field experience in the same region. Music Traditions, Change and Creativity in Africa is the first monograph of a series of volumes connected and inspired to the journal Etnografie Sonore (Sound Ethnographies) www.soundethnographies.it, which Giorgio Adamo and his colleagues recently founded. Along with the papers, multimedia contents are also available online.

Sexing the Groove Sheila Whiteley, 2013-09-05. Sexing the Groove discusses these issues and many more, bringing together leading music and cultural theorists to explore the relationships between popular music, gender, and sexuality. The contributors, who include Mavis Beayton, Stella Bruzzi, Sara Cohen, Sean Cubitt, Keith Negus, and Will Straw, debate how popular music performers, subcultures, fans, and texts construct and deconstruct masculine and feminine identities. Using a wide range of case studies, from Mick Jagger to Riot Grrrls, they demonstrate that there is nothing natural, permanent, or immovable about the regime of sexual difference which governs society and culture. Sexing the Groove also includes a comprehensive annotated bibliography for further reading and research into gender and popular music.
