Quality of Decision-making in Public Law Kars Jan Graaf, 2007 Administrative decisions of government agencies are a fact of present day life and the general public is confronted with them all the time Therefore the legal quality of administrative decisions matter to people It is in the interest of the individual person and the general public that agencies produce legally proper decisions right away Correctional court procedures are cumbersome and costly both to the individual objector and to the tax payer Moreover public agencies with a reputation of doing things right the first time will generate public trust in government and reinforce the legitimacy of public decision making The main theme of this collection of essays is to do things right the first time The collection draws on the combined research experience of a group of Dutch scholars in public law and public administration Thus the topic is examined from a variety of angles and perspectives Some of the papers deal with basic questions such as What could be the meaning of the concept of legal quality How can it be applied when assessing administrative decision making Other essays examine conditions for enhancing legal quality both in public law and in public organizations Also included are some topical studies that present specific issues in the legal quality of administrative decision making Laruelle Anthony P. Smith, 2017-09-05 Non-Philosophy or Non-Standard Philosophy represents a bold attempt to rethink how philosophy is practiced in relation to other domains of knowledge There is a growing interest in Laruelle's work in the English speaking world but his work is often misunderstood as a wholesale critique of philosophy In this book Anthony Paul Smith dispels this misunderstanding and shows how Laruelle's critique of philosophy is guided by the positive aim of understanding philosophy's structure so that it can be creatively recast with other discourses and domains of human knowledge from politics and ethics to science and religion This book provides a synthetic introduction to the whole of Laruelle's work It begins by discussing the major concepts and methods that have framed non-philosophy for thirty years Smith then goes on to show how those concepts and methods enter into traditional philosophical domains and disempower the authoritarian framework that philosophy imposes upon them Instead of offering a philosophy of politics or a philosophy of science Laruelle aims at fostering a democracy of thought where philosophy is thought together and equal to the object of its inquiry This book will be essential reading for students and scholars interested in contemporary French philosophy and anyone who wants to discover more about one of its foremost practitioners Blind Oracles Bruce Kuklick, 2013-10-24 In this trenchant analysis historian Bruce Kuklick examines the role of intellectuals in foreign policymaking He recounts the history of the development of ideas about strategy and foreign policy during a critical period in American history the era of the nuclear standoff between the United States and the Soviet Union The book looks at how the country's foremost thinkers advanced their ideas during this time of United States expansionism a period that culminated in the Vietnam War and dealt with the Soviets Beginning with George Kennan after World War II and concluding with Henry Kissinger and the Vietnam War Kuklick examines the role of both institutional policymakers such as those at The Rand Corporation and Harvard's Kennedy School and individual thinkers including Paul Nitze, McGeorge Bundy and Walt Rostow Kuklick contends that the figures having the most influence on American strategy Kissinger for example clearly understood the way politics and the exercise of power affects policymaking Other brilliant thinkers on the other hand often played a minor role providing at best a rationale for policies adopted for political reasons At a time when the role of the neoconservatives' influence over American foreign policy is a subject of intense debate this book offers important insight into the function of intellectuals in foreign policymaking Handbook of Decision Making Paul C. Nutt, David C. Wilson, 2010-09-07 HANDBOOK OF DECISION MAKING This handbook offers a state of the art overview of research and theories on decision making in organizations at the strategic level of analysis Chapters are authored by leading international scholars with some illustrative case vignettes from practitioners Each contributor was selected for his/her special knowledge of the field The Handbook addresses key questions confronting the decision making research of the past and the present offers critiques and suggests future research directions Topics covered emphasize the classic decision theory perspectives while also incorporating recent insights from the fields of strategic choice risk uncertainty scenario planning and complexity theory with a broad social science perspective on the disciplinary roots of decision theory in economics politics and social theory This is a landmark reference volume for the field offering scholars and practitioners Comprehensive but accessible coverage of classic and recent developments Chapters by established international experts Case analyses illustrating practical consequences of theories Guide to new research directions and theory

An International History of the Cuban Missile Crisis David Gioe, Len Scott, Christopher Andrew, 2014-06-05 This edited volume addresses the main lessons and legacies of the 1962 Cuban Missile Crisis from a global perspective Despite the discoveries of recent research there is still much more to be revealed about the handling of nuclear weapons before and during the Cuban Missile Crisis CMC Featuring contributions from a number of eminent international scholars of nuclear history intelligence espionage political science and Cold War studies An International History of the Cuban Missile Crisis reviews and reflects on one of the critical moments of the Cold War focussing on three key areas First the volume highlights the importance of memory as an essential foundation of historical understanding and demonstrates how events that rely only on historical records can provide misleading accounts This focus on memory extends the scope of the existing literature by exploring hitherto neglected aspects of the CMC including an analysis of the operational aspects of Bomber Command activity explored through recollections of the aircrews that challenge accounts based on official records The editors then go on to explore aspects of intelligence whose achievements and failings have increasingly been recognised to be of central importance to the origins dynamics and outcomes of the missile crisis Studies of hitherto neglected organisations such as the US Defense Intelligence Agency DIA and the British Joint Intelligence Committee JIC both extend our understanding of British and American intelligence machinery in this period and enrich our understanding of key episodes and assessments in the missile crisis Finally the book explores the risk of nuclear war and looks at how close we came to nuclear conflict The risk of inadvertent use of nuclear weapons is evaluated and a new proposed framework for the analysis of nuclear risk put forward This volume will be of much interest to students of intelligence studies international history foreign policy security studies and IR in general

Foreign Policy Motivation Richard W. Cottam, 1977-01-15 Foreign policy motivation is a complex mix reflecting the fears and aspirations of public interest groups bureaucratic sets and important individuals International conflict cannot be resolved without resolving how foreign policy is motivated This book presents a conceptual framework for identifying and weighing foreign policy motives that shape direct and alter foreign policy

Principles of Non-Philosophy Francois Laruelle, 2013-05-09 Principles of Non Philosophy is a treatise on the method axioms and objectives of non philosophy and represents Francois Laruelle's mature philosophy As well as presenting the method and principles of non philosophy it includes a history of the development of non philosophy a novel conception of science a

Choi,2005-06-23 In recent years there has been increasing discontent with the abstract nature of mainstream economics Not only does this make the subject less relevant to real issues it drives a wedge between economics and other disciplines ostensibly addressing the same issues Borderlands of Economics explores the ways in which economics might be reconnected both with the real world and with other disciplines

In the Shadow of the Oval Office Ivo H. Daalder,I. M. Destler,2009-02-10 The most solemn obligation of any president is to safeguard the nation s security But the president cannot do this alone He needs help In the past half century presidents have relied on their national security advisers to provide that help Who are these people the powerful officials who operate in the shadow of the Oval Office often out of public view and accountable only to the presidents who put them there Some remain obscure even to this day But quite a number have names that resonate far beyond the foreign policy elite McGeorge

Bundy Henry Kissinger Zbigniew Brzezinski Colin Powell Condoleezza Rice Ivo Daalder and Mac Destler provide the first inside look at how presidents from John F Kennedy to George W Bush have used their national security advisers to manage America's engagements with the outside world They paint vivid portraits of the fourteen men and one woman who have occupied the coveted office in the West Wing detailing their very different personalities their relations with their presidents and their policy successes and failures It all started with Kennedy and Bundy the brilliant young Harvard dean who became the nation's first modern national security adviser While Bundy served Kennedy well he had difficulty with his successor Lyndon Johnson needed reassurance more than advice and Bundy wasn't always willing to give him that Thus the basic lesson the president sets the tone and his aides must respond to that reality The man who learned the lesson best was someone who operated mainly in the shadows Brent Scowcroft was the only adviser to serve two presidents Gerald Ford and George H W Bush Learning from others failures he found the winning formula gain the trust of colleagues build a collaborative policy process and stay close to the president This formula became the gold standard all four national security advisers who came after him aspired to be like Brent The next president and national security adviser can learn not only from success but also from failure Rice stayed close to George W Bush closer perhaps than any adviser before or since But her closeness did not translate into running an effective policy process as the disastrous decision to invade Iraq without a plan underscored It would take years and another national security aide to persuade Bush that his Iraq policy was failing and to engineer a policy review that produced the surge The national security adviser has one tough job There are ways to do it well and ways to do it badly Daalder and Destler provide plenty of examples of both This book is a fascinating look at the personalities and processes that shape policy and an indispensable guide to those who want to understand how to operate successfully in the shadow of the Oval Office

Golembiewski, 1997-06-09 This incomparable Fourth Edition of a standard reference text has been thoroughly updated and enlarged offering comprehensive coverage of the field in a single source and incorporating entirely new as well as time tested material

Martin Buber's Dialogical Thought as a Philosophy of Action Asaf Ziderman, 2024-10-30 This book promotes a philosophical revival of Buber's dialogical thought by repositioning it as a philosophy of action departing from a long established consensus that narrowly viewed it as a post Kantian epistemology Based on careful analysis of his writings the book's main thrust is to reconstruct Buber's argument that dialogue is the perfected form of action and a perfect action is necessarily dialogical This reconstruction renders Buber's dialogical thought pertinent to contemporary analytic philosophy by situating it within central discussions in the field of philosophy of action
