Hughes,2017 Received opinion imagines Judaism and Islam as two distinct religions interacting in the centuries following the death of Muhammad in the early seventh century Tradition describes the relations between the two groups using such tropes as symbiosis In this revisionist work Aaron W Hughes instead argues that various porous and marginal groups neither fully Muslim nor fully Jewish exploited a shared terminology to make sense of their social worlds in response to the rapid process of Islamicization. What emerged as normative rabbinic Judaism on the one hand and Sunni and Shi'ite Islam on the other. Even the spread of rabbinic Judaism especially at the hands of Saadia Gaon 882-942 CE was articulated Islamically. In the so-called Golden Age that emerged in places like Muslim Spain and North Africa, this Islamic Judaism could still be found in the writings of luminaries such as Bahya ibn Paquda, Abraham ibn Ezra, Judah Halevi, and Moses Maimonides. Drawing on social theory, comparative religion, and the analysis of original sources, Hughes presents a compelling case for rewriting our understanding of Jews and Muslims in their earliest centuries of interaction. Not content to remain solely in the past, Shared Identities examines the continued interaction of Muslims and Jews now reimagined as Palestinians and Israelis into the present.

The Visigoths in Gaul and Iberia (Update) Alberto Ferreiro, 2017-03-13. The bibliography includes material published from 2013 to 2015. Following on from the first bibliography Brill 1988 and its updates Brill 2006, 2008, 2011, 2014, this volume covers recent literature on Archaeology, Liturgy, Monasticism, Iberian Gallic Patristics, Paleography, Linguistics, Germanic and Muslim Invasions, and more. In addition, peoples such as the Vandals, Sueves, Basques, Alans, and Byzantines are included. The book contains author and subject indexes and is extensively cross-indexed for easy consultation. A periodicals index of hundreds of journals accompanies the volume.

Muslim and Jew Aaron W. Hughes, 2018-11-06. Muslim and Jew: Origins, Growth, Resentment seeks to show how and why Islam and Judaism have been involved in political and theological self-definitions using the other since the seventh century. This short volume provides a historical and comparative survey of how each religion has thought about the other and in so doing about itself. It confines itself to those points at which Judaism and Islam intersect and cross-pollinate and explores how this delicate process continues into the present with the Israeli-Palestinian conflict. Muslim and Jew thus seeks to move beyond the intersection of a monolithic Judaism and a monolithic Islam and instead examines and organizes the messiness of the encounter as both religions sought to define themselves within, from, and against the other.

Esoteric Transfers and Constructions Mark Sedgwick, Francesco Piraino, 2021-02-27. Similarities between esoteric and mystical currents in different religious traditions have long interested scholars. This book takes a new look at the relationship between such currents. It advances a discussion that started with the search for religious essences, archetypes, and universals from William James to Erasmianism. The universal categories that resulted from that search were later criticized as essentialist constructions and questioned by deconstructionists. An alternative explanation was advanced by diffusionists that there were transfers between different traditions. This book presents empirical case studies of such constructions and of transfers between Judaism, Christianity, and Islam in the premodern period and Judaism, Christianity, and Western esotericism in the modern period. It shows that there were indeed transfers that can be clearly documented and that there were also indeed constructions, often very imaginative. It also shows that there were many cases that were neither transfers nor constructions but a mixture of the two Études ,1988-07 The Routledge Handbook of Muslim-Jewish Relations Josef Meri,2016-06-23 The Routledge Handbook of Muslim Jewish Relations invites readers to deepen their understanding of the historical social cultural and political themes that impact modern day perceptions of interfaith dialogue The volume is designed to illuminate positive encounters between Muslims and Jews as well as points of conflict within a historical framework Among other goals the volume seeks to correct common misperceptions about the history of Muslim Jewish relations by complicating familiar political narratives to include dynamics such as the cross influence of literary and intellectual traditions Reflecting unique and original collaborations between internationally renowned contributors the book is intended to spark further collaborative and constructive conversation and scholarship in the academy and beyond Itinéraires de la terre sainte Eliakim Carmoly,1847 Etudes religieuses, philosophiques, historiques et littéraires ,1876 Bibliographie catholique Paris Journal d'un pèlerin en Terre Sainte Verrier (l'abbé.),1871
