Reflection which covers from two to five pages I have except in a few with more inserted four Food for Thought related to the content of the respective Reflection I have chosen to include these Reflections and Food for Thought many of which are strongly personal because I see Life Values and Attitudes as man s most important management tool I do not claim in any way that these reflections are the solution for the most important and correct life values and attitudes but that they may provide a small reminder of their importance for all of us and not least for those who deal with politics
