Icg Asia Report No 147:

Crafting Parliament in Myanmar's Disciplined Democracy (2011-2021) Renaud Egretreau, 2022-03-01 In January 2011 parliament was restored in Myanmar after two decades of military rule Startlingly it began to repeal obsolete laws scrutinize government expenditures summon ministers to the floor and discuss the state's annual budget It also allowed its elected representatives to make public the grievances collected from constituents infuriated at enduring practices of land confiscation petty corruption and everyday abuses of power Yet ten years later in February 2021 parliament was shut down again by a coup d'état What has been learned in the span of a decade of post junta parliamentary resurgence How could an elected legislature resurface and function in a country that had only limited experience with parliamentary affairs and representative politics since its independence from British rule What lessons can be drawn from the Myanmar case for parliamentary institution building and legislative developments and decay in post authoritarian and praetorian contexts This book offers a compelling account of Myanmar's halting efforts to develop the institutional framework and practice of a parliament based democratic governance between 2011 and 2021 It charts the stages of such a legislative resurgence tracing its causes and exploring how various institutional and political legacies both informed and constrained the re establishment and operations of the Union legislature or Pyidaungsu Hluttaw Embracing both ethnographic observations and a methodical engagement with legislative proceedings and historical material Renaud Egretreau investigates how parliamentary life re emerged in Myanmar in the 2010s His analysis concentrates on key legislative mechanisms processes and tasks pertaining to government oversight budgetary control representation and lawmaking and interrogates how they were learned re appropriated and mis performed by Myanmar's new breed of legislators and parliamentary staff until the 2021 army takeover

Handbook on the United States in Asia Andrew T.H. Tan, 2018-09-28 The centre of gravity in today's global economy arguably now resides in Asia As a result of this the maintenance of geopolitical and economic security in Asia has become pivotal to global stability This indispensable Handbook examines the crucial and multifaceted role of the United States as a force in the region that has been and continues to be necessary for the continuation of Asian prosperity

Rescuing Afghanistan William Maley, 2006 Shows that only a long term commitment from the wider world of a type that is rarely ever found offers a reasonable prospect of rescuing Afghanistan from the dangers it continues to face

One Nation Under Surveillance Simon Chesterman, 2011-02-24 What limits if any should be placed on a government's efforts to spy on its citizens in the interests of national security Spying on foreigners has long been regarded as an unseemly but necessary enterprise Spying on one's own citizens in a democracy by contrast has historically been subject to various forms of legal and political restraint For most of the twentieth century these regimes were kept distinct That position is no longer tenable Modern threats do not respect national borders Changes in technology make it impractical to distinguish between foreign and local communications And our culture is progressively reducing the sphere of activity that citizens can reasonably expect to be kept from government eyes The main casualty of this transformed environment will be privacy Recent battles over privacy have been dominated by fights over warrantless electronic surveillance or CCTV the coming years will see debates over data mining and biometric identification There will be protests and lawsuits editorials and elections resisting these attacks on privacy Those battles are worthy But they will all be lost Modern threats increasingly require that governments collect such information governments are increasingly able to collect it and citizens increasingly accept that they will collect it The point of this book is to shift focus away from questions of whether governments should collect information and onto more problematic and relevant questions concerning its use By reframing the relationship between privacy and security in the language of a social contract mediated by a citizenry who are active participants rather than passive targets the book offers a framework to defend freedom without sacrificing liberty

Paving the Way Ronald J. Fisher, 2005-01-04 This first of a kind collection brings together in one volume the strongest available evidence of successful transfer effects from unofficial third party work to official peacemaking Using comparative case analysis from several real world interventions Paving the Way offers insights into the conditions and qualities of successful programs of interactive conflict resolution from experts in the field Editor Ronald J Fisher has assembled a collection of seminal case studies that illustrate interactive approaches to conflict resolution from the Malaysia Indonesia conflict in the 1960s to the Peru Ecuador peace process of the late 1990s Integrating theory research and practice the cases posit that interactive conflict resolution can make a significant and sometimes essential contribution to the resolution of protracted and violent identity conflicts The methods and solutions offered in Paving the Way will serve as best practices for those in the field and as training tools and resources for scholars and policymakers

Corporate Social Responsibility and Natural Resource Conflict Kylie McKenna, 2015-10-23 This book examines the possibilities and limitations of corporate social responsibility in minimising the violent conflict often associated with natural resource exploitation Through detailed and penetrating empirical analysis the author skilfully asks why previous corporate social responsibility practices have not always achieved their aims This theme is explored through an analysis of two of the most complex and protracted conflicts linked to natural resources in the Asia Pacific region Bougainville Papua New Guinea and West Papua Indonesia Drawing on first hand accounts of corporate executives and communities affected by resource conflict this book documents the translation of global corporate social responsibility into local peace Covering topics as diverse as post colonialism law revenue distribution security the environment and customary reconciliation this ambitious text reveals how and why current corporate social responsibility initiatives may be unable to assist extractive companies avoid social conflict The study concludes that this is attributable to the failure of extractive companies to respond to the social and environmental issues of most concern to local host communities The idea is that extractive companies could actively contribute to peace building if they were to engage with the interdependencies between business activity and the root causes of conflict What sets this book apart is that it offers a holistic framework for extractive companies to engage with the complexity of resource conflict Interdependent Engagement is an integrated model of corporate social responsibility that encourages extractive companies to deal with the underlying causes of resource conflict rather than applying solutions or critiques of their symptoms

Federal Solutions to Ethnic Problems Liam D. Anderson, 2013 This book examines how federal systems can be designed to manage ethnic conflict in divided societies Using Iraq as a case study the author evaluates six distinct approaches the underlying reasons why one may be more suitable than other and how these apply to the current situation

Central Asia's Second Chance Martha Brill Olcott, 2010-03-01 A leading authority on Central Asia offers a sweeping review of the region's path from independence to the post 9 11 world The first decade of Central Asian independence was disappointing for those who envisioned a straightforward transition from Soviet republics to independent states with market economies and democratic political systems Leaders excused political failures by pointing to security risks including the presence of terrorist training camps in Afghanistan The situation changed dramatically after 9 11 when the camps were largely destroyed and the United States introduced a military presence More importantly the international community engaged with these states to give them a second chance to address social and economic problems But neither the aid givers nor the recipients were willing to approach problems in new ways Now terrorists groups are once again making their presence felt and some states may be becoming global security risks This book explores how the region squandered its second chance and what might happen next

Understanding Islam in Indonesia Robert Pringle, 2010-04-30 An important book that bridges the gap between the more specialist literature and the often depressingly ill informed comments of journalists and ideologues Merle Ricklefs Professor Department of History National University of Singapore

International Organizations and Post-Soviet Conflicts in Georgia, Moldova, and Ukraine Nina Lutterjohann, 2024-08-06 International Organizations and Post Soviet Conflicts in Georgia Moldova and Ukraine The Limitations of Imagining Peace and the Failure and Success in Negotiations addresses the protracted history of international conflict resolution efforts to the Georgian Abkhaz Moldovan Transnistrian and Eastern Ukraine conflicts The author explores the origins and onset of these first two conflicts in the early 1990s but also looks at the eruption of conflict in Eastern Ukraine in 2014 and at the first months after the Russian invasion of Ukraine in 2022 This book shows how from a conflict transformation perspective local vested interests and strategic interests have created obvious obstructions that have both fueled the conflicts and prevented their resolution This volume develops a comprehensive theoretical framework for understanding the success and failure of international engagement that offers a new understanding of the extent to which international responses may or may not be helpful Through an analysis of over 500 closed source documents and about 70 interviews the efforts of pan European international organizations with mandates from the OSCE EU UN and NATO are examined on both political and cultural levels This work s innovative analyses of those institutions performances shows how successes have often been overlooked and identifies misperceptions that reshape our understanding of the limitations to imagining peace Women and Islam Zayn R. Kassam,2010-10-21 This balanced exploration provides the basis for an energetic engagement with what it means to be a Muslim woman in a globalized world The expert essays in Women and Islam are designed to stimulate discussion and help readers achieve a more sober understanding of the lives of Muslim women around the world They explore the issues Muslim women face as they fight for gender justice and meet the challenges of living in a globalized post 9 11 world whether in Iran or France Ethiopia or the United States Each chapter examines a different part of the globe exploring issues arising from cultural and religious codes as well as from internal and global politics economics education and the law Readers will glimpse the many and diverse ways in which Muslim women are actively involved in addressing the conditions embedded in their discrete environments and taking up the opportunities afforded to them adopting strategies ranging from the political to the legal from the theatrical to the religious and Post-Colonial Geographies of India Saraswati Raju,M Satish Kumar,Stuart Corbridge,2006-03-29 This collection of original essays by scholars of geography from India Western Europe and the USA provides important insights into the way contemporary geographers are engaging with India The earlier narrow colonial focus that saw India as a country of resources and peoples tribes and castes has now been discarded for a broader view located in mainstream intellectual frameworks and informed by a public policy perspective This volume highlights how contemporary geographers see and write on topics such as the state nation community environment and division of labor while keeping in mind issues of spatiality and territoriality Ceasefire Agreements and Peace Processes Malin Akebo,2016-11-10 This book analyses and compares ceasefire agreements as part of peace processes in intrastate armed conflicts Research repeatedly underscores the importance of ceasefire agreements in peace processes but suggests that they can influence such processes in fundamentally different ways However despite contradictory expectations remarkably few studies have so far been devoted to systematic and in depth analysis of ceasefire agreements in contemporary intrastate armed conflicts This book contributes to filling this gap by using a process oriented conflict dynamics approach to analyse and explain how ceasefire agreements are being influenced by and in turn influences the broader dynamics of peace processes Empirically the book focuses on the armed conflicts in Aceh Indonesia and Sri Lanka Based on document studies and 57 interviews with key actors it presents comparative insights and in depth knowledge about ceasefire agreements in different contextual settings The book problematizes the common assumption in the literature that ceasefire agreements create momentum in peace processes and pave the way to peace and it provides a more nuanced analysis and understanding based on two empirical cases analysed within a comparative framework In contrast to conventional wisdom it demonstrates how ceasefires on the contrary also can have negative implications on peace processes This book will be of much interest to students of conflict resolution peace studies intra state conflict security studies and IR in general Kashmir in India and Pakistan Policies Piotr

Constitution Making during State Building Joanne Wallis, 2014-09-15 How can fragmented divided societies that are not immediately compatible with centralised statehood best adjust to state structures This book employs both comparative constitutional law and comparative politics as it proposes the idea of a constituent process whereby public participation in constitution making plays a positive role in state building This can help to foster a sense of political community and produce a constitution that enhances the legitimacy and effectiveness of state institutions because a liberal local hybrid can emerge to balance international liberal practices with local customary ones This book represents a sustained attempt to examine the role that public participation has played during state building and the consequences it has had for the performance of the state It is also the first attempt to conduct a detailed empirical study of the role played by the liberal local hybrid approach in
