¹⁰ "The entire world is increasingly coming together as a single human community. This is a new global reality, and it is increasingly clear that the world is becoming a single community."

¹¹ "I believe, nevertheless, that the American people are more intelligent than in other countries, notwithstanding the fact I've just brought you flowers. But that point I shall address to those who come tomorrow." Wormsley's is pronounced, "worms," and properly, except that perhaps those who attend tomorrow are not, quite, worms.

¹² "I would generally like to see these houses and the surrounding area, environmentally, used primarily for housing. There is no reason I should strongly oppose these low-income housing without knowing what the exact numbers are and the additional price tag required to make such a move. I have been before the city."

"There you see me, without influence, and humbly, small before man, at the government and before the people."

[illegible]

"There is a great deal of talk about the 'New South' in our country, but it is not a new country. It is the same old country, with the same old people, the same old problems, the same old hopes, the same old dreams. It is the same old South, and it will always be so." — South Atlantic Monthly, 1890
