University Malaysia Making Heritage in Malaysia Sharmani Patricia Gabriel, 2020-02-26 This book offers a scholarly perspective on heritage as a discourse concept and lived experience in Malaysia. It argues that heritage is not a received narrative but a construct in the making. Starting with alternative ways of museumising heritage, the book then addresses a broad range of issues involving multicultural and folklore heritage, the small town nostalgia and the environment and transnationalism and cosmopolitanism. In so doing, it delivers an intervention in received ways of talking about and doing heritage in academic as well as state and public discourse in Malaysia, which are largely dominated by perspectives that do not sufficiently engage with the cultural complexities and sociopolitical implications of heritage. The book also critically explores the politics and dynamics of heritage production in Malaysia to contest Malaysian heritage as a stable narrative, exploring both its cogency and contingency and builds on a deep engagement with a non-western society in the service of provincialising critical heritage studies with the broader goal of contributing to Malaysian studies. Cooking for my father in My Cape Malay Kitchen Cariema Isaacs, 2016-04-19 The magical difference between food prepared in a restaurant and that in a home kitchen for family and friends is a little ingredient called love. And love is most evident in what is essentially Cariema Isaacs's tribute to her late father as she shares their mutual passion for food and cooking as well as their Cape Malay heritage. My Cape Malay Kitchen is a breathtakingly beautiful presentation of some 80 traditional Cape Malay recipes as well as a selection of modern dishes. These are accompanied by Cariema's depiction of her childhood growing up in Bo Kaap, the Cape Malay Quarter of Cape Town. She includes the religious and cultural ceremonies as well as events that have shaped the Cape Malay community into the unique community it is today. But My Cape Malay Kitchen is still a cookbook packed with flavourful food: richly spiced curries, indulgent cakes and decadent desserts, all illustrated with truly inspirational photography. My Recipe for Cultural Interchange Sarj, 2013-01-30 In my 433 page book I explain that all cultures can learn from each other and my goal is to help people on each side of this cultural interaction because I have experienced the complexities and misunderstandings of cultural differences and sensitivities, insensitivities, and I want to help bridge the gaps between cultures. I know that it is necessary for international students, parents, host families, migrants and refugees to prepare themselves well before they live in another culture because I remember what I had to experience when I moved from the East to live in the West many years ago. Let me share with you some of my experiences as a traveler and Homestay mother. Some of my stories are funny and some are sad but they are all very relevant to the realities of this experience that we all call life. I have learnt that it is inevitable that people will change as a direct result of cultural interaction and exchange and that is why I have referred to this two-way experience as Cultural Interchange. My Rendang Isn't Crispy and Other Favourite Malaysian Dishes Zaleha Kadir Olpin, 2022-05-15 Take a culinary voyage through the vibrant flavours of Malaysia with MasterChef UK contestant Zaleha Kadir Olpin as she shares her favourite family recipes in this cookbook.
