Three Monotheistic Faiths - Judaism, Christianity, Islam Andrea C. Paterson, 2009 For comments questions and speaking engagements contact the author at mary ann segal md gmail com Dr Mary Ann Segal came upon warnings of a fuel crisis shortly after 9 11 She was reading the New York Times Magazine and saw the article entitled 2011 by Niall Ferguson in which there were predictions that by 2010 due to increasing demands upon peaking oil there would be a world wide shortage and the price would become out of reach Then on February 24 2004 another Times article said the largest amount of the world s increasing demand was upon Saudi wells which are becoming tired She considers it very fortunate that her mind had turned to wind solar electrolysis of water for a universally useful renewable absolutely clean fuel that would put a halt to the widespread threat of freezing and starvation when oil was selling for out of reach prices with an inadequate supply of barrels Hydrogen could save civilization as we know it if we jump in and make the infrastructure for hydrogen It would certainly be a new frontier to do so as hydrogen can replace all fossil and nuclear fuel The warnings in the February 24 2004 article suggested to her that within two or three years we would perhaps already be at the place that 2011 put off till 2010 She began a manuscript to warn Americans to conserve fuel stringently so that the supplies could be available for necessities without over demanding the sources One year passed without too much price pressure But in 2005 the emergency emerged Many people cannot afford the price of heating oil and natural gas and electric heat or even wood this year Gasoline for cars is also high in price Katrina and Rita complicated an already narrow margin She expedited this manuscript with AuthorHouse to get out an explanation of why we are in this shortage and to offer suggestions and hope about what steps we could follow that could probably get us through this wilderness She cares about every American and feels a profound need for unity amongst us to face this crisis with cooperation and dedication to one another rich just comfortable and poor alike We would be showing the world a new democratic example and new technical ecology Her life experience prior to this most recent undertaking of hers is found on the last page of the book About the Author www.hydrogenforlife.com

F. E. Peters, 2009-04-11 The world's three great monotheistic religions have spent most of their historical careers in conflict or competition with each other. And yet in fact they sprung from the same spiritual roots and have been nurtured in the same historical soil. This book, an extraordinarily comprehensive and approachable comparative introduction to these religions, seeks not so much to demonstrate the truth of this thesis as to illustrate it. Frank Peters, one of the world's foremost experts on the monotheistic faiths, takes Judaism, Christianity, and Islam and, after briefly tracing the roots of each, places them side by side to show both their similarities and their differences. Volume I, The Peoples of God, tells the story of the foundation and formation of the three monotheistic communities of their visible historical presence. Volume II, The Words and Will of God, is devoted to their inner life: the spirit that animates and regulates them. Peters takes us to where these religions live: their scriptures, laws, institutions, and intentions; how each seeks to worship God and achieve salvation; and how they deal with their own orthodox and heterodox and with others: the goyim, the pagans, the infidels. Throughout, he measures but never judges one religion against the other. The prose is supple, the method rigorous. This is a remarkably cohesive, informative, and accessible narrative reflecting a lifetime of study by a single recognized authority in all three fields. The Monotheists is a magisterial comparison for students and general readers as well as scholars of the parties to one of the most troubling issues of today: the fierce, sometimes productive and often destructive competition among the world's monotheists, the siblings called Jews, Christians, and Muslims. The Monotheists: Jews, Christians, and Muslims in Conflict and Competition, Volume II F.
