

Eulogy for Mom

Today we honor the life of my mom. She was a truly amazing woman who was the kindest and most loving person in the world.

I can honestly say she was my best friend and to try and do justice right her in this short eulogy will be impossible. She dedicated her life to family and making sure we were supported in whatever we did and that we never felt anything other than loved.

She sacrificed more than I'll ever know and even when she was putting everyone else before herself she still made time to listen to all our problems.

Everyone who was fortunate enough to know her was in awe of everything she achieved. And the warmth and happiness she brought to us cannot be overstated.

I loved her more than words could possibly say and she will live on in my heart forever more

Paratattvagaonitadarsanam Gurajada Suryanarayana Murty,2002-01-01 Paratattvaganitadarsanam or Principles of Transcendental Philosophy of Mathematical Truth is a bridge connecting two fields the field of mathematics and the field of metaphysics It establishes general paradigm that the mathematical truth can represent metaphysical truth It shows in particular that Advaita Vedanta articulates mathematical truths whose validity is absolute This conclusion is arrived at on the basis of the fact that mathematics has the capacity to articulate transcendental truths which are beyond our normal capabilities Paratattvaganitadarsanam provides the basic framework in which the statement a part is equal to the whole is a true statement The material is presented in the form of a dialogue between two main characters a Vedantin and a Mathematician both standing on a common platform which is impartial and earnest inquiry into the Absolute and attainment of the highest Recreating Japanese Women, 1600-1945 Gail Lee Bernstein,1991-07-09 In thirteen wide ranging essays scholars and students of Asian and women s studies will find a vivid exploration of how female roles and feminine identity have evolved over 350 years from the Tokugawa era to the end of World War II Starting from the premise that gender is not a biological given but is socially constructed and culturally transmitted the authors describe the forces of change in the construction of female gender and explore the gap between the ideal of womanhood and the reality of Japanese women's lives. Most of all, the contributors speak to the diversity that has characterized women's experience in Japan. This is an imaginative pioneering work offering an interdisciplinary approach that will encourage a reconsideration of the paradigms of women's history hitherto rooted in the Western experience.

Shared Traumas, Silent Loss, Public and Private

Mourning Lene Auestad, 2018-05-01. This book questions the junctions of the private and the public when it comes to trauma, loss, and the work of mourning, notions which it is argued challenge our very ideas of the individual and the shared. It asks to paraphrase Adorno: What do we mean by working through the past? How is a shared work of mourning to be understood and with what legitimacy do we consider a particular social or cultural practice to be mourning? Rather than aiming to present a diagnosis of the political present, this volume instead takes one step back to pose the question of what mourning might mean and what its social dimension consists in. Contributors reflect on the trauma of the Holocaust, the after-effects of the Vietnam War in the US, the Lebanese war, torn experience, victims of the Pacific War in Taiwan, and the Chilean dictatorship.

Mothers Alexandra Stoddard, 1997. Even as women reach for the wider opportunities open to them, they still find that giving birth and raising children are defining roles in their lives. In Mothers: A Celebration, Alexandra Stoddard reaches deep within herself for inspiring insights about the blessings and challenges of motherhood, how this life-changing event transforms maturing and pushes mothers to live more profoundly wisely and mindfully than ever before. Drawing on her own experience as the mother of two daughters, as the stepmother of an extensive brood, and as a daughter who often challenged her own mother's expectations, Stoddard relates charming anecdotes, bittersweet moments, and stirring memories that shed light on the universal triumphs and trials of being a mother. She suggests how to find balance within our many responsibilities, how to learn to play as spontaneously as children, and how to trust our instincts as parents, even as we must gradually let go. In this thoughtful and affirming book, perfect for both reading and gift-giving, Alexandra Stoddard honors the strength and contribution of mothers. Filled with Stoddard's noted-down-to-earth honesty and sparkling spirit, Mothers: A Celebration is a book every generation of women can treasure.

A Seat at the Table Hettie V. Williams, Melissa

Ziobro, 2023-09-11. Contributions by Omar H. Ali, Simone R. Barrett, Tejai Beulah, Sandra Bolzenius, Carol Fowler Lacey, P. Hunter Tiera, C. Moore Tedi, A. Pascarella, John Portlock, Lauren T. Rorie, Tanya L. Roth, Marissa Jackson, Sow Virginia, L. Summey, Hettie V. Williams, and Melissa Ziobro. While Black women's intellectual history continues to grow as an important subfield in historical studies, there remains a gap in scholarship devoted to the topic. To date, major volumes on American intellectual history tend to exclude the words, ideas, and contributions of these influential individuals. A Seat at the Table: Black Women Public Intellectuals in US History and Culture seeks to fill this void, presenting essays on African American women within the larger context of American intellectual history. Divided into four parts, the volume considers women in politics, art, government, journalism media education and the military Essays feature prominent figures such as Shirley Chisholm Oprah Winfrey journalist Charlotta Bass and anti abortion activist Mildred Fay Jefferson as well as lesser known individuals The anthology begins with a discussion of the founders in Black women s public intellectualism providing a framework for understanding the elements structure and concerns central to their lives and work in the nineteenth century The second section focuses on leaders in the Black Christian intellectual tradition the civil rights era and modern politics Part three examines Black women in society and culture in the twentieth century with essays on such topics as artists in the New Negro era Joycelyn Elders a public servant and former surgeon general and America s foremost Black woman influencer Oprah Lastly part four concerns Black women and their ideas about public service particularly military service with essays on service members during World War II and the post WWII military Taken as a whole A Seat at the Table is an important anthology that helps to establish the validity and existence of heretofore neglected intellectual traditions in the public square

A Roman Women Reader Sheila K. Dickson, Judith P. Hallett, 2014-12-14 This selection of Latin readings drawn from texts in a variety of genres across four centuries aims to provide a comprehensive and accurate picture of the images and realities of women in Roman antiquity. Depicted in the readings are both historical and fictional women of varying ages and at different stages of life from a range of social classes and from different locales. We see them dramatized, sometimes in their own words, in the roles the women actually played as wives and mothers, friends and lovers. This Reader differs from others in showing women in explicitly erotic roles in drawing some of its passages from archaic Latin and in encouraging a variety of critical approaches, all suitable for its intended college-level audience

Dying to Teach Jeffrey Berman, 2012-02-01 In Dying to Teach, Jeffrey Berman confronts the most wrenching loss imaginable: the death of his beloved wife Barbara. Through four interrelated narratives—how Barbara wrote about her illness in a cancer diary, how he cared for her throughout her illness, how his students reacted to his disclosure that she was dying, and how he responded to her death—Berman explores his efforts to hold on to Barbara precisely as she was letting go of life. Intensely personal, Dying to Teach affirms the power of writing to memorialize loss and work through grief and demonstrates the importance of death education: teachers and students writing and talking about a subject that until now has often been deemed too personal for the classroom

Erika Landau's Contribution to the History of Gifted Education Hanna David, 2025-06-23 This book describes some of the most critical issues in gifted education: i.e., gender inequity concerning giftedness examinations and the boys/girls ratio. The book also discusses the background of the gifted child's family, including their parents' education and number of their siblings. The book's findings are based on quantitative studies concerning 5-15 year-old gifted children participating at the Erika Landau Institute for Gifted and Creative Children and Youths in Tel Aviv, Israel, from 1968 until 2003. It discusses aspects such as the advantages of affirmative action standards in gifted education because girls who score lower than boys on the admission test to a gifted program usually have better social skills, persistence, and fine motor skills and thus integrate successfully in a gifted group with boys of higher intelligence. The book's second part addresses Landau's academic work in multiple languages and offers a critique that helps educators and mental health experts build gifted programs

Science and the Secrets of Nature William Eamon, 1996-06-02 In closely examining this rich but little-known source of literature, Eamon reveals that printing technology and popular culture had as great if not stronger an impact on early modern science as did the traditional academic disciplines. Medieval interest in the secrets of nature was spurred in part by ancient works such as Pliny's Natural History. As medieval experimenters adapted ancient knowledge to their changing needs, they created their own books of secrets which expressed the uncritical empiricist approach of popular culture rather than the subtle argumentation of scholastic science The crude experimental methodology advanced by the professors of secrets became for the new philosophers of the seventeenth century a potent ideological weapon in the challenge of natural philosophy Personal and Professional Recollections 1940 ? 2012 AuthorHouse,2014-04-03 Of all the many autobiographies and memoirs that I have read through the years this one by Percy Licardo Moore is far and away one of the most unique among them in its arrangement aspects and accents This book Personal and Professional Recollections 1940 2012 appealingly introduces Dr Moore s life his work and his major interests allied with many personal photographs and also offers some highly readable essays whose content help to augment and illumine its rich narrative Percy Licardo Moore has recorded far more here than personal details regarding his family background his education determinative encounters and life work he has strikingly accented the theme of divine guidance he has experienced as an ardent Christian believer Having known Dr Moore across many years I am aware of much recounted in this narrative he has prepared about his life and I commend his memoir to others for the moral spiritual and humane values it uniquely accents JAMES EARL MASSEY Dean Emeritus Former Dean of the Chapel of Tuskegee University Founding Pastor Pastor Emeritus Metropolitan Church of God Detroit MI The Awakening of a Surgeon David H Janda,2012-06-01 Sports related injuries have become a public health epidemic Twelve million student athletes will suffer a sports related injury this year Nearly two million injuries will be in recreational softball games and baseball games The majority of these injuries are preventable The Awakening of a Surgeon outlines 20 strategies that can be implemented in every community to drastically reduce the possibility of injury and death The Literature of the Jewish People in the Period of the Second Temple and the Talmud, Volume 2 Jewish Writings of the Second Temple Period Michael Stone,1984-01-01 Series Compendia Rerum Iudaicarum ad Novum Testamentum Section 1 The Jewish people in the first century Historial geography political history social cultural and religious life and institutions Edited by S Safrai and M Stern in cooperation with D Flusser and W C van Unnik Section 2 The Literature of the Jewish People in the Period of the Second Temple and the Talmud Section 3 Jewish Traditions in Early Christian Literature
