MODELS 9N (Ford-Ferguson), 2N, 8N

The 9N, 2N and 8N model number designation depicts the year of introduction. The 9N was introduced in 1939 and was the earliest version. The 2N was introduced in 1942 and was the wartime version, with plans made to equip them with steel wheels, a magneto and other changes. Although some early 2N models were produced with steel wheels and no electrical system, most of the changes from the 9N never got into production. The 8N was introduced in 1948 and was in production through 1952.

The original tractor paint colors were as follows: Models 9N and 2N were painted a solid gray. The Model 8N hood, fenders and wheels were painted a lighter color of gray than the 9N and 2N gray; the front axle, engine, chassis, instrument panel and "Ford" script on the hood and fenders were painted red; and the radiator cap and seat were black. The gray paint for the 9N and 2N tractors and the gray and red paint for 8N tractors is available from Ford New Holland tractor dealers.

The tractor serial number is stamped on the left side of the engine block on 9N, 2N and 8N tractors. These Ford tractors do not have separate engine and tractor serial numbers.
