Integral Innovation Odeh Rashed Al-Jayyousi, 2017-04-21 Technology plays a critical role in transforming societies and economies through enhancing efficiency, connectivity, and access to resources and services. The challenge remains how to harness technologies to achieve sustainable development without causing harm to human and natural capitals. Professor Odeh Rashed Al-Jayyousi argues that science, technology, and innovation (STI) are underpinned by social choices, and hence a transition to a sustainable green economy is defined by individuals and institutions' decisions on how to use and apply these STI developments. It is therefore important to examine closely the ways in which social institutions and processes in the integral world, the different perspectives of reality, shape the priorities of technologies and the conditions under which their potential benefits can be reaped. He states that in order for technological innovation to provide a guarantee of sustainable economic development, it is necessary that a transfer of technology to developing countries becomes a basic principle of national development policies and that they in turn are open to adopting an explicit long-term application of technological innovation. Integral Innovation: New Worldviews presents a conceptual framework for the evolution of technology and innovation from a historical and cultural perspective. It provides an analysis of the role of innovation and technology in sustainable development and introduces a number of international case studies which shed light on the social learning processes for knowledge co-creation and innovation culture. It is essential reading for those interested in innovation and technology management.

One volume each is devoted to the regions of the Middle East and Africa, and then one volume to East and Southeast Asia, and a final volume to West Central and South Asia. The volumes include extensive use of photographs and maps to explain cultural and geographic content. Each volume has its own volume editor with expertise in that particular region. Key Themes: Arts, Culture, and Science; People, Society, and Dynasties; Religion and Law; Family and Daily Life; Conflicts and Wars; Politics and Government; Health and Education; Economy, Trade, and Industry; National Geography and History.

Leadership Training in the Hands of the Church Joseph Nehemiah, 2020-12-31 The church is a contextualized reality, and if it is to flourish, its leaders must be raised up to serve their own communities. Yet our very techniques for teaching and learning are culturally defined. If the church is to be effective in developing the leaders, its approach to training must be informed by its local context. In this immensely practical text, Joseph Nehemiah combines sound pedagogical research with rich cultural insight to provide a framework for training leaders in an Arab context. Examining principles of adult education in light of Arab cultural dynamics, Nehemiah offers a paradigm for experiential learning that is biblically rooted and contextually appropriate. Informed by the experience of professors in the Arab Gulf, along with extensive interviews from local church leaders, Leadership Training in the Hands of the Church seeks to place the development, teaching, and training of leaders into the hands of the local church.
