New Directions in Social and Cultural History Sasha Handley, Rohan McWilliam, Lucy Noakes, 2018-02-22 What does it mean to be a social and cultural historian today In the wake of the cultural turn and in an age of digital and public history what challenges and opportunities await historians in the early 21st century In this exciting new text leading historians reflect on key developments in their fields and argue for a range of new directions in social and cultural history Focusing on emerging areas of historical research such as the history of the emotions and environmental history New Directions in Social and Cultural History is an invaluable guide to the current and future state of the field The book is divided into three clear sections each with an editorial introduction and covering key thematic areas histories of the human the material world and challenges and provocations Each chapter in the collection provides an introduction to the key and recent developments in its specialist field with their authors then moving on to argue for what they see as particularly important shifts and interventions in the theory and methodology and suggest future developments New Directions in Social and Cultural History provides a comprehensive and insightful overview of this burgeoning field which will be important reading for all students and scholars of social and cultural history and historiography

Visualizing the Text Lauren Beck, Christina Ionescu, 2017-05-01 This volume presents in depth and contextualized analyses of a wealth of visual materials These documents provide viewers with a mesmerizing and informative glimpse into how the early modern world was interpreted by image makers and presented to viewers during a period that spans from manuscript culture to the age of caricature The premise of this collection responds to a fundamental question how are early modern texts objects and systems of knowledge imaged and consumed through bimodal hybrid or intermedial products that rely on both words and pictures to convey meaning The twelve contributors to this collection go beyond traditional lines of inquiry into word and image interaction to deconstruct visual dynamics and politics to show how images were shaped manipulated displayed and distributed to represent the material world to propagate official and commercial messages to support religious practice and ideology or to embody relations of power These chapters are anchored in various theoretical and disciplinary points of departure such as the history of collections and collecting literary theory and criticism the histories of science art history and visual culture word and image studies as well as print culture and book illustration Authors draw upon a wide range of visual material hitherto insufficiently explored and placed in context in some cases hidden in museums and archives or previously assessed only from a disciplinary standpoint that favored either the image or the text but not both in relation to each other They include manuscript illuminations representing compilers and collections frontispieces and other accompanying plates published in catalogues and museographies astronomical diagrams mixed pictographic alphabetic accounting documents Spanish baroque paintings illustrative frontispieces or series inspired by or designed for single novels or anthologies anatomical drawings featured in encyclopedic publications visual patterns of volcanic formations engravings representing the New World that accompany non fictional travelogues commonplace books that interlace text and images and graphic satire Geographically the collection covers imperial centers Great Britain France the Netherlands and Spain as well as their colonial periphery New France Mexico Central America South America in particular Brazil parts of Africa and the island of Ceylon Emblematic and thought provoking these images are only fragments of the multifaceted and comprehensive visual mosaic created during the early modern period but their consideration has far reaching implications

Theorizing Visual Studies James Elkins, 2013 This forward thinking collection brings together over sixty essays that invoke images to summon interpret and argue with visual studies and its neighboring fields such as art history media studies visual anthropology critical theory cultural studies and aesthetics The product of a multi year collaboration between graduate students from around the world spearheaded by James Elkins this one of a kind anthology is a truly international interdisciplinary point of entry into cutting edge visual studies research The book is fluid in relation to disciplines it is frequently inventive in relation to guiding theories it is unpredictable in its allegiance and interest in the past of the discipline reflecting the ongoing growth of visual studies

Exploring Visual Culture Matthew Rampley, 2005 An introduction to the study of visual culture this book offers a view of visual culture that includes not only images but also other visual media and forms of expression from architecture to fashion design and the human body The book is organised around three broad themes exploring key ideas and debates that have occurred during the last 20 or so years the meanings of the term visual culture and of the various practices that form its basis conceptual approaches to the contemporary analysis of visual culture the cultural social and historical contexts informing its production distribution and consumption Drawing on a wide range of examples from the last 100 years the book adopts a cross disciplinary perspective it also explores however the limits of visual culture as an interdisciplinary field of study engaging in current debates about the uses and value of the study of visual culture It will therefore be of value both for readers new to the subject and also for those seeking fresh interventions into contemporary discussions within the field Features Accessibly written by a team of experts in the field Illustrated throughout Includes chapters on a wide range of visual forms including architecture and urban design film crafts fashion design fine art and the media
