Collected papers George Evert Condra, 1903 The Papers of Frederick Law Olmsted Frederick Law Olmsted, 1977

The concluding volume of the monumental Papers of Frederick Law Olmsted captures some of Olmsted's greatest achievements. Choice 2015 Outstanding Academic Title. In 1890 Frederick Law Olmsted, then nearly sixty-eight years old, had risen to the pinnacle of his career. Together with his partners, stepson John Charles Olmsted, and protégé Henry Sargent Codman, he was involved in a number of major ongoing projects, including the Boston Buffalo and Rochester park systems, the campus plan for Stanford University, and numerous private estates. In July, he reported that the firm had twenty works of considerable importance underway, including nine large parks and six estates that he believed were matters of public interest. Before the summer ended, the firm's commitments would expand dramatically, as Olmsted and his partners were appointed landscape architects for the World's Columbian Exposition in Chicago. As commissions for new park systems, residential communities, grounds for educational institutions, and private homes increased, Olmsted feared that their commitments would exceed the partners' ability to do their best work. Despite these fears, Olmsted's work in the final six years of his professional career would only enhance his considerable reputation. As the ninth and final volume of The Papers of Frederick Law Olmsted reveals, with its impressive waterways, monumental buildings, and verdant islands and shores, the Chicago fair proved to be one of the firm's crowning achievements. The early 1890s also saw the culmination of Olmsted's wide-ranging work on one of his other great projects, the design of the grounds of George W. Vanderbilt's massive estate, Biltmore, near Asheville, North Carolina. In planning the estate's thousands of acres, Olmsted outlined new approaches to landscape design, promoted the creation of the first scientific forestry operation in the United States, designed a model residential subdivision, and proposed an arboretum that would have been the most ambitious in the nation. The Last Great Projects, 1890-1895 chronicles the history of one of the world's greatest landscape design firms while offering a fascinating retrospective on Frederick Law Olmsted's productive final years. The volume also gathers together the important documents of this last triumphant era. As Olmsted neared the end of his career, he wrote some of his most reflective letters and reports, summarizing the legacy of his involvement with the U.S. Sanitary Commission, the quality of landscape design in England and France, the biographical circumstances that proved most important to his development as an artist, and his hopes and fears for the future of his profession.

FDA Papers, 1978 Sessional Papers Ontario. Legislative Assembly, 1893 Sessional Papers Ontario, 1915 The Papers of Jefferson Davis Jefferson Davis, 2012-03-12

Volume 13 of The Papers of Jefferson Davis follows the former president of the Confederacy as he becomes head of the Carolina Life Insurance Company of Memphis and attempts to gain a financial foothold for his newly reunited family. Having lost everything in the Civil War and spent two years immediately afterwards in federal prison, Davis faced a mounting array of financial woes, health problems, and family illnesses and tragedies in the 1870s. Despite setbacks during this decade, Davis also began a quest to rehabilitate his image and protect his historical legacy Although his position with the insurance company provided temporary financial stability Davis resigned after the Panic of 1873 forced the sale of the company and its new owners canceled payments to Carolina policyholders He left for England the following year in search of employment and to recuperate from ongoing illnesses In 1876 Davis became president of the London based Mississippi Valley Society and relocated to New Orleans to run the company Throughout the 1870s Davis waged an expensive and seemingly endless legal battle to regain his prewar Mississippi plantation Brierfield He also began working on his memoirs at Beauvoir the Gulf Coast estate of a family friend Though disfranchised Davis addressed the subject of politics with more frequency during this decade criticizing the Reconstruction policies of the federal government while defending the South and the former Confederacy The volume ends with Davis's inheritance of Beauvoir which was his last home The editors have drawn from over one hundred manuscript repositories and private collections in addition to numerous published sources in compiling Volume 13
