

International Human Resource Management is a cross-college of a syllabus that has developed strongly for itself – helping to shape what it is today. The author team (based in Australia, the UK and Europe) has International Human Resource Management (IHRM) courses with developments in academic curriculum, making this a key resource for international and graduate IHRM students, as well as the business students studying a better business understanding of IHRM.

This new edition is updated to reflect the rise of the external, the existing technology and digitalisation, the environmental global economy, new market and global responsibilities, and a focus on entrepreneurship.

ABOUT THE AUTHORS

Paul Tootell is Professor of International Management & Strategy at La Trobe University, Melbourne, Australia.

Ulfarur Snædal is Professor of Human Resource Management and International Leadership at HECF Europe and Director of the South Campus of the business school, Germany.

John Storey is Professor of Management in the College of Business and Technology at Southern Cross University, USA.

FROM THE 10TH EDITION

"What a delight to read the 10th edition of International Human Resource Management by Tootell, Tootell and Snædal. These three have an IHRM in the IHRM primarily, but also now include smaller and fairly recent firms. This book delivers an excellent differential and affordable how and where from differences are defined. Throughout the book are highly available 'Human Capital', 'Human Capital and Practical Insights' particularly on implications for entry of modes of international operations, cross-border alliances, mergers and acquisitions and international joint ventures. I highly recommend this to students, students and all practitioners who have international interests."

Professor Mary Ann McElroy, Florida International University, USA, Former Executive of International Business Research, Former Executive of Management Research and former Florida Institute of International Management, Florida International University.

"As the complexity of our business increasingly global, borderless and interconnected, more organisations are multinational and most engage a workforce that spans cultures, cultures and regions. In the 10th edition of International Human Resource Management, Tootell, Tootell and Snædal offer an evidence-based and practical framework to guide current and future organisational leaders. With its focus on theory, the book is widely applicable in research, theory and practical experience."

Dr John W. Boudreau, Professor and Research Director, University of Southern California Professor John Boudreau, Southern California University, USA.

"The 10th edition of International Human Resource Management represents a valuable update of our knowledge of the field to all its global dimensions. The co-authors clearly 'know their stuff' in the IHRM arena. They will add confidence to managers, students and practitioners around the world for many years to come. The text is well designed and readable, clearly bringing us new insights and understanding."

Professor Malcolm Thomas, Malpas College and Liverpool John Moores School, University of Liverpool, UK.

"This outstanding book continues to set the standard in the field of international human resource management. Its international author team has a unique gift of combining what we know from theory and research with current practices and issues to provide the perfect opportunity for students to engage with key practices and challenges that apply when they leave school. In addition to evidence and systems throughout, the 10th edition with a focus on global issues management, internationalising the world and modernising the text and a new extensive review of global issues and management practices in the IHRM."

Professor Tony Stewart, School of Management, Department of Management, Macquarie School of Business, University of Macquarie, Australia, USA.
