Race After the Internet Lisa Nakamura, Peter Chow-White, 2013-07-03 In Race After the Internet Lisa Nakamura and Peter Chow White bring together a collection of interdisciplinary forward looking essays exploring the complex role that digital media technologies play in shaping our ideas about race Contributors interrogate changing ideas of race within the context of an increasingly digitally mediatized cultural and informational landscape Using social scientific rhetorical textual and ethnographic approaches these essays show how new and old styles of race as code interaction and image are played out within digital networks of power and privilege Race After the Internet includes essays on the shifting terrain of racial identity and its connections to social media technologies like Facebook and MySpace popular online games like World of Warcraft YouTube and viral video WiFi infrastructure the One Laptop Per Child OLPC program genetic ancestry testing and DNA databases in health and law enforcement Contributors also investigate the ways in which racial profiling and a culture of racialized surveillance arise from the confluence of digital data and rapid developments in biotechnology This collection aims to broaden the definition of the digital divide in order to convey a more nuanced understanding of access usage meaning participation and production of digital media technology in light of racial inequality Contributors danah boyd Peter Chow White Wendy Chun Sasha Costanza Chock Troy Duster Anna Everett Rayvon Fouch Alexander Galloway Oscar Gandy Eszter Hargittai Jeong Won Hwang Curtis Marez Tara McPherson Alondra Nelson Christian Sandvig Ernest Wilson

Beyond Slacktivism James Dennis, 2018-10-24 Beyond Slacktivism examines how routine social media use shapes political participation Many commentators have argued that activism has been compromised by slacktivism a pejorative term that refers to supposedly inauthentic low threshold forms of engagement online Dennis argues that this critique has an overly narrow focus He offers a novel theoretical framework the continuum of participation to help illuminate how and why citizens use social networking sites to consume news discuss civic matters and engage in politics This idea is explored in two interrelated settings Firstly in an activist context through an ethnography of the campaigning organisation 38 Degrees Secondly within day to day life by combining evidence of behaviour online with reflective diaries Drawing on this rich data on individual level attitudes and behaviours Dennis challenges slacktivism as a judgement on contemporary political action Beyond Slacktivism provides an account of how the seemingly mundane everyday use of social media can be beneficial to democracy

Designing New Media , 2010     Politics and Popular Culture Leah A. Murray, 2010-06-09 In recent years we have seen a continuation and perhaps even acceleration in the trend of popular culture having a discernible effect on politics From The Daily Show to candidates use of Facebook and MySpace politics have opened up to new technologies as we come online for the next generation Our political world has become popularized or our popular world has become politicized in a new way facilitated by the entertainment media and new technologies This volume s authors attempt to make sense of the changing political popular world through a series of interdisciplinary essays that explore the ramifications of popular cultural depictions of politics drawing on literature in a variety of fields political science history literature fine arts and communications We explore three major phenomena in a politicized popular culture First we explore the role that the entertainment media play in understanding politics What is interesting about our fictional political worlds is we are allowed as a people to consider different political ideals without the baggage of our last vote or our ideology We can step outside ourselves and challenge the way we think on particular issues Second we explore the real world of politics as it has been shaped over the last century of new technology As powerful a medium television proved to be to politics the latest technological breakthroughs have proved to be a paradigmatic shift From Twitter to Facebook our politicians are able to keep in almost constant contact with their constituencies which has vast implications for the way political discourse will progress Third we explore what happens when the real world and media collide Entertainment media change their messages when major political events happen such as the case when spymaster tropes were forced to evolve when 9 11 changed the international dynamic Robert Ludlum s Jason Bourne series had to be conceptualized on film in a new way after this event The more connected our political world and our popular world become and given the trends we can only assume they will become increasingly intertwined the more important it is for us to understand how these connections affect the world This volume is a powerful pass at comprehending all that is happening across the politicized popular world

ICEG2006-Proceedings of the 6th International Conference on e-Government , Online Chinese Nationalism and China's Bilateral Relations Simon Shen,Shaun Breslin,2010-03-18 Since the Chinese were officially plugged into the virtual community in 1994 the usage of the internet in the country has developed at an incredible rate By the end of 2008 there were approximately 298 million netizens in China a number which surpasses that of the U S and ranks China the highest user in the world The rapid development of the online Chinese community has not only boosted the information flow among citizens across the territory but has also created a new form of social interaction between the state the media various professionals and intellectuals as well as China s ordinary citizens Although the subject of this book is online Chinese nationalism which to a certain extent is seen as a pro regime phenomenon the emergence of an online civil society in China intrinsically provides some form of supervision of state power perhaps even a check on it The fact that the party state has made use of this social interaction while at the same time remaining worried about the negative impact of the same netizens is a fundamental characteristic of the nature of the relationship between the state and the internet community Many questions arise when considering the internet and Chinese nationalism Which are the most important internet sites carrying online discussion of nationalism related to the author s particular area of study What are the differences between online nationalism and the conventional form of nationalism and why do these differences exist Has nationalist online expression influenced actual foreign policy making Has nationalist online expression influenced discourse in the mainstream mass media in China Have there been any counter reactions towards online nationalism Where do they come from Online Chinese Nationalism and China s Bilateral Relations seeks to address these questions Networks, Movements and Technopolitics in Latin America Francisco Sierra Caballero,Tommaso Gravante,2017-11-09 This edited collection presents original and compelling research about contemporary experiences of Latin American movements and politics in several countries The book proposes a theoretical framework that conceptualises different mediation processes that emerge between cyberdemocracy and the emancipation practices of new social movements Additionally this volume presents some Latin American practices and experiences that are autonomously and by using self management creating other identities and social spaces on the margins of and against the neoliberal system through the use of digital technology This book will be of great interest to scholars of media and social movements studies as well as of contemporary politics Community Engagement in Higher Education W. James Jacob, Stewart E. Sutin, John C. Weidman, John L. Yeager, 2015-06-17 There seems to be renewed interest in having universities and other higher education institutions engage with their communities at the local national and international levels But what is community engagement Even if this interest is genuine and widespread there are many different concepts of community service outreach and engagement The wide range of activity encompassed by community engagement suggests that a precise definition of the community mission is difficult and organizing and coordinating such activities is a complex task This edited volume includes 18 chapters that explore conceptual understandings of community engagement and higher education reforms and initiatives intended to foster it Contributors provide empirical research findings including several case study examples that respond to the following higher education community engagement issues What is the community and what does it need and expect from higher education institutions Is community engagement a mission of all types of higher education institutions or should it be the mission of specific institutions such as regional or metropolitan universities technical universities community colleges or indigenous institutions while other institutions such as major research universities should concentrate on national and global research agendas and on educating internationally competent researchers and professionals How can a university be global and at the same time locally relevant Is it or should it be left to the institutions to determine the scope and mode of their community engagement or is a state mandate preferable and feasible If community engagement or community service are mandatory what are the consequences of not complying with the mandate How effective are policy mandates and university engagement for regional and local economic development What are the principal features and relationships of regionally engaged universities Is community engagement to be left to faculty members and students who are particularly socially engaged and locally embedded or is it or should it be made mandatory for both faculty and students How can community engagement be better integrated with the other two traditional missions of the university research and teaching Cover image The Towering Four fold Mission of Higher Education by Natalie Jacob
