Racist Love Leslie Bow, 2021-12-13 In Racist Love Leslie Bow traces the ways in which Asian Americans become objects of anxiety and desire Conceptualizing these feelings as racist love she explores how race is abstracted and then projected onto Asianized objects Bow shows how anthropomorphic objects and images such as cartoon animals in children's books home decor and cute tchotchkes contemporary visual art and artificially intelligent robots function as repositories of seemingly positive feelings and attachment to Asianness At the same time Bow demonstrates that these Asianized proxies reveal how fetishistic attraction and pleasure serve as a source of anti Asian bias and violence By outlining how attraction to popular representations of Asianness cloaks racial resentment and fears of globalization Bow provides a new means of understanding the ambivalence surrounding Asians in the United States while offering a theory of the psychological affective and symbolic dynamics of racist love in contemporary America

Love Under the Skin Cécile Coquet-Mokoko, 2020-04-15 The rising visibility of interracial couples calls for increased attention to the overlapping of culture and race in safe spaces centered on small group dynamics or in public spaces where peoples of African descent are under the public gaze This comparative study seeks to de center the U S centered viewpoint common to much of the literature on black white relations Based on nine years of fieldwork in the American South and in France Coquet shows many unexpected parallels between the two societies Gendered perceptions of cultural authenticity and sexual ethics are a guiding thread being inseparable from the historical and political contingencies re defining acceptable forms of dating marrying and parenting among cis heterosexual couples in both societies Her account emphasizes resilience and agency as couples seek to protect themselves and their children while their extended or symbolic kinship networks help white partners acknowledge the existence of racial privilege
