used to ground positive political and social change such as combating racism in its less overt and more deep rooted forms Shotwell begins by distinguishing four basic types of implicit understanding nonpropositional skill based or practical knowledge embodied knowledge potentially propositional knowledge and affective knowledge She then develops the notion of a racialized and gendered common sense drawing on Gramsci and critical race theorists and clarifies the idea of embodied knowledge by showing how it operates in the realm of aesthetics She also examines the role that both negative affects like shame and positive affects like sympathy can play in moving us away from racism and toward political solidarity and social justice Finally Shotwell looks at the politicized experience of one's body in feminist and transgender theories of liberation in order to elucidate the role of situated sensuous knowledge in bringing about social change and political transformation influences for future implications of diversity which has cyclically manifested in horror fictions throughout history This book studies works from literature film and television while acknowledging that each of the formats are distinct artforms that complement each other The author compares diverse representation in novels like The Castle of Otranto Frankenstein Fledgling Broken Monsters and Mexican Gothic Horror films like Bride of Frankenstein It Comes at Night Us and Get Out are also examined Lastly the author emphasizes the diverse horror fictions in television like The Exorcist Fear the Walking Dead The Twilight Zone and Castle Rock

Visuality in the Novels of Austen, Radcliffe, Edgeworth and Burney Jessica A. Volz, 2017-03-01

Visuality in the Novels of Austen Radcliffe Edgeworth and Burney argues that the proliferation of visual codes metaphors and references to the gaze in women s novels published in Britain between 1778 and 1815 is more significant than scholars have previously acknowledged The book s innovative survey of the oeuvres of four culturally representative women novelists of the period spanning the Anglo French War and the Battle of Waterloo reveals the importance of visuality the continuum linking visual and verbal communication It provided women novelists with a methodology capable of circumventing the cultural strictures on female expression in a way that concealed resistance within the limits of language In contexts dominated by frustrated utterance penetrating gazes and the perpetual threat of misinterpretation Jane Austen Ann Radcliffe Maria Edgeworth and Frances Burney used references to the visible and the invisible to comment on emotions socio economic conditions and patriarchal abuses

Visuality in the Novels of Austen Radcliffe Edgeworth and Burney offers new insights into verbal economy and the gender politics of the era by reassessing expression and perception from a uniquely telling point of view
