Kenyan Public Universities in the Age of Internationalization Iddah Aoko Otieno, 2018-06-20 This book presents a comprehensive institutional level analysis of a single public institution of higher education in the Republic of Kenya using the case study method of investigation. It is the first case study to use both qualitative and quantitative research methodology to illuminate the experiences of Kenyan public universities with internationalization post independence. Focusing on Kenya's oldest national public university, the University of Nairobi's experimentation with internationalization, Kenyan Public Universities in the Age of Internationalization is a first in the East African region. The book argues that attempts by institutions of higher education in Africa to engage in internationalization with the much more older and well established IHEs in the developed world has perpetuated the colonial legacy that has relegated these institutions to the position of the Other in the new international order. Several policy implications are offered on what it means to participate in internationalization from a marginal peripheral position. The conventional assumption that political independence would bring to most African countries and by extension their national public universities a period of freedom from political, economic, and cultural subjugation and exploitation by the more powerful world nations has proved elusive. This book is intended for a broad audience in the field of Comparative International Education. The mixed research methods used in this book will certainly appeal to instructors, students, and general readers interested in understanding the experiences of historically marginalized developing World institutions of higher education with internationalization.

Kenya Yearbook, 2019 African Womanhood and the Feminist Agenda Musingafi, Maxwell Constantine Chando, Hungwe, Chipso, 2024-01-16 Within academic circles there is a longstanding issue concerning the portrayal and understanding of African womanhood. Frequently these narratives are crafted by outsiders, predominantly Western scholars, often distorting the lived experiences and unique perspectives of African women. This has led to a skewed and sometimes negative perception of African women, reinforcing stereotypes and sidelining their voices in critical discussions. Moreover, this misrepresentation has real-world consequences as it impacts social justice initiatives and development projects that rely on misguided narratives rather than the authentic voices of African women.

African Womanhood and the Feminist Agenda emerges as an essential solution to the misrepresentation of African women. This comprehensive and meticulously researched book offers an alternative narrative, one that is rooted in African perspectives and experiences. It addresses the historical, cultural, and political dimensions of African womanhood, providing a rich and nuanced understanding of this multifaceted topic.
