Zinker, 2013-04-15 To all of those familiar with the Gestalt model and its many creative extensions and applications the name Joseph Zinker needs no introduction A master Gestalt therapist and a cofounder of the Gestalt Institute of Cleveland Joseph trained with Fritz Perls in the 1960s and has been influential in the growth and development of Gestalt theory and methodology for over three decades His groundbreaking 1976 book Creative Process in Gestalt Therapy remains a best seller and classic It eloquently presents his unique contributions to the Gestalt method including dreamwork as theater the choreography of expressive movement experiment and application of the arts to psychotherapy In his most recent book In Search of Good Form Gestalt Therapy with Couples and Families Analytic Press 1998 Joseph inspires a return to Gestalt therapy with couples and families Joseph inspires a return to Gestalt therapy's roots in humanism holism and faith in the creative power of growth and integration that resides in each of us Aside from his books he has published many articles on psychotherapy the arts and the phenomenology of love In recent years his focus has been on the development of couple and family therapy He now leads workshops around the world and is well known as an engaging teacher helping and inspiring therapists and lay people alike Joseph has experienced drama and struggle in his rich life resulting in a deep compassion for his fellow man He is seen as lively and creative at times funny at others deeply moving as he lovingly reaches out to workshop participants Mosaic, 2004-03 Art and Architecture in the Islamic Tradition Mohammed Hamdouni Alami, 2013-12-20 What is art in the sense of the Islamic tradition Mohammed Hamdouni Alami argues that Islamic art has historically been excluded from Western notions of art that the Western aesthetic tradition's preoccupation with the human body and the ban on the representation of the human body in Islam has meant that Islamic and Western art have been perceived as inherently at odds However the move away from this anthropomorphic aesthetic in Western art movements such as modern abstract and constructivist painting have presented the opportunity for new ways of viewing and evaluating Islamic art and architecture This book questions the very idea of art predicated on the anthropocentric bias of classical art and the corollary exclusion of Islamic art from the status of art It addresses a central question in post classical aesthetic theory in as much as the advent of modern abstract and constructivist painting have shown that art can be other than the representation of the human body that art is not neutral aesthetic contemplation but it is fraught with power and violence and that the presupposition of classical art was not a universal truth but the assumption of a specific cultural and historical set of practices and vocabularies Based on close readings of classical Islamic literature philosophy poetry medicine and theology along with contemporary Western art theory the author uncovers a specific Islamic theoretical vision of art and architecture based on poetic practice politics cosmology and desire In particular it traces the effects of decoration and architectural planning on the human soul as well as the centrality of the gaze in this poetic view in Arabic nazar while examining its surprising similarity to modern theories of the gaze Through this double gesture moving critically between two traditions the author brings Islamic thought and aesthetics back into the realm of visibility addressing the lack of recognition in comparison with other historical periods and traditions This is an important step toward a critical analysis of the contemporary debate around the revival of Islamic architectural identity a debate intricately embedded within opposing Islamic political and social projects throughout the world
