The English-speaking World ,1923 New York Nouveau Sara Kippur,2025-08-12 Postwar French writers were at the vanguard of global literary innovation from the experimental minimalism of the Nouveau Roman to the literary games of the OuLiPo but less often appreciated is the extent to which they worked closely with US editors and translators published actively with American presses and often theorized transatlantic connections within their work In this exciting new work Sara Kippur proposes a new French literary history that traces the deep connections between postwar literary experimentalism and the New York publishing industry compellingly arguing that US based editors publishers producers professors and translators crucially intervened to shape French literature While Kippur attends closely to well known writers such as Marguerite Duras Samuel Beckett Eug ne Ionesco Georges Perec and Alain Robbe Grillet she also amplifies the voices of those who have been less visible though no less relevant including women whose contributions have not received proper credit but who helped to foster a sense of new possibilities for twentieth century French writing With these untold histories stitched together in this book through new archival discoveries from special collections and personal archives on both sides of the Atlantic Kippur begins to dismantle rigid notions of canonicity authorship and national literature The Oxford Handbook of the History of Clinical Neuropsychology William B. National Book Award winning New York Times bestselling history of Yiddish speaking immigrants on the Lower East Side and beyond In the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries two million Jewish immigrants poured into America leaving places like Warsaw or the Russian shtetls to pass through Ellis Island and start over in the New World This is a brilliant account of their stories The New York Times Though some moved on to Philadelphia Chicago and other points west many of these new citizens settled in New York City especially in Manhattan s teeming tenements Like others before and after they struggled to hold on to the culture and community they brought from their homelands all the while striving to escape oppression and find opportunity They faced poverty and crime but also experienced the excitement of freedom and previously unimaginable possibilities Over the course of decades from the 1880s to the 1920s they were assimilated into the great melting pot as the Yiddish language slowly gave way to English work was found in sweatshops children were sent to both religious and secular schools and for the lucky ones the American dream was attained if not in the first generation then by the second or third Nominated for a National Book Critics Circle Award World of Our Fathers explores the many aspects of this time and place in history from the political to the cultural In this compelling American story Irving Howe addresses everything from the story of socialism the hardships of the ghetto and the tragic Triangle Shirtwaist Factory fire that killed scores of garment workers to the Borscht Belt resorts of the Catskills in colorful and dramatic detail Both meticulously researched and lively it is a stirring evocation of the adventure and trauma of migration Newsweek

The Aesthetics of Island Space Johannes Riquet, 2019-12-17 Oxford Textual Perspectives is a series of informative and provocative studies focused upon literary texts conceived of in the broadest sense of that term and the technologies cultures and communities that produce inform and receive them It provides fresh interpretations of fundamental works and of the vital and challenging issues emerging in English literary studies By engaging with the materiality of the literary text its production and reception history and frequently testing and exploring the boundaries of the notion of text itself the volumes in the series question familiar frameworks and provide innovative interpretations of both canonical and less well known works The Aesthetics of Island Space discusses islands as central figures in the modern experience of space It examines the spatial poetics of islands in literary texts from Shakespeare's The Tempest to Ghosh's The Hungry Tide in the journals of explorers and scientists such as James Cook and Charles Darwin and in Hollywood cinema It traces the ways in which literary and cinematic islands have functioned as malleable spatial figures that offer vivid perceptual experiences as well as a geopoetic oscillation between the material energies of words and images and the energies of the physical world The chapters focus on America's island gateways Roanoke and Ellis Island visions of tropical islands Tahiti and imagined South Sea islands the islands of the US Canadian border region in the Pacific Northwest and the imaginative appeal of mutable islands It argues that modern voyages of discovery posed considerable perceptual and cognitive challenges to the experience of space and that these challenges were negotiated in complex and contradictory ways via poetic engagement with islands Discussions of island narratives in postcolonial theory have broadened understanding of how islands have been imagined as geometrical abstractions bounded spaces easily subjected to the colonial gaze There is however a second story of islands in the Western imagination which runs parallel to this colonial story In this alternative account the modern experience of islands in the age of discovery went hand in hand with a disintegration of received models of understanding global space Drawing on and rethinking post phenomenological geocritical and geopoetic theories The Aesthetics of Island Space argues that the modern experience of islands as mobile and shifting territories implied a dispersal fragmentation and diversification of spatial experience and it explores how this disruption is registered and negotiated by both non fictional and fictional responses
