intellectual reverberations within and across the African and Latin American fields constitute a challenging and underappreciated counterpoint to laments that contemporary historical knowledge has suffered a splintering so extreme that it undermines larger dialogue and meaning. The authors in their substantive essays synthesize order and evaluate the significance of the enormous resonating literatures that have come to exist for Africa and Latin America on the themes of the capitalist world system, labor and peasantry. They historicize these literatures by analyzing an entire cycle of critical dialogue and confrontation with historical paradigms and the professional upheavals that accompanied them. They review the initial confrontations with frameworks of historical knowledge that erupted in the 1960s and the early 1970s, the emergence of new dissident paradigms, the outpouring of subsequent scholarship on peasants, labor and capitalism that began to unravel the newly proposed paradigms by the 1980s and 1990s, and the outlines of the new interpretive frameworks that tended to displace both the traditional and early dissident paradigms. They also suggest possible outlines of a new cycle of Third World confrontations with a paradigm anchored in themes such as gender and ethnicity. Confronting Historical Paradigms employs a historicized awareness of intellectual networks, conversations and history theory dialogues. The result is a critical analysis and synthetic presentation of substantive advances that have preoccupied scholarship on Africa and Latin America in recent decades and a powerful challenge to notions that new fields of history have ended up destroying intellectual coherence and community.

Civilization and Capitalism, 15th-18th Century, Vol. III Fernand Braudel, 1992-12-23 By examining in detail the material life of pre industrial peoples around the world, Fernand Braudel significantly changed the way historians view their subject. Volume I describes food and drink, dress and housing, demography and family structure, energy and technology, money and credit and the growth of towns.
