Abstract: The purpose of this study was to determine whether there were differences in the prevalence of risk factors for coronary artery disease between two groups of men who had been exposed to asbestos. One group consisted of 60 men who had worked in an asbestos vermiculite mine in Quebec, Canada, and the other group consisted of 60 men who had worked in a vermiculite mine in Ontario, Canada. Both groups were matched for age, education, occupation, and smoking status. The prevalence of risk factors for coronary artery disease was determined by a questionnaire and medical history. The results showed that the prevalence of risk factors for coronary artery disease was significantly higher in the Quebec group than in the Ontario group.

1. The first step is to identify the problem. This involves understanding the current situation and the desired outcome.
