National Specialist Family Service SROI Forecast 2013 Hugo Minney,2013-12-09 National Specialist Family Service NSFS helps parents who are substance abusers to overcome their addiction and get their children back It teaches them family skills such as budgeting routine and creating play time NSFS has had enormous success both with successful graduations and families who stay together This report examines the service and finds that children benefit from spending time with their parents even those that only spend a few months with them It confirms that a placement in the service is safe for the children It also demonstrates the value for money that NSFS represents with a Social Return on Investment ratio of between 4 and 6 times the investment made Evaluation of the Family Support Worker Program

Barbara R. Wilson,1999 Worker Burnout Among Child Protective Service Workers Mary Porter Martin,Susan L. Klaus,1979 Journal of Human Services Abstracts ,1984 Aging ,1992 The Burden of Academic Success

Allison L. Hurst, 2010-03-01 The Burden of Academic Success Loyalists Renegades and Double Agents explores class identity reconstructions among working class students attending a public university Rather than focus on working class failure this book takes a critical look at the psychological and social costs of academic success Based on several hours of interviews with a diverse group of working class students this book describes how successful students respond to react to and manage their academic success The book does for class what other theorists have done for race examining the dynamic interplay of class identity and educational success social mobility The distinguishing features of the book are rich narrative detail compelling stories of student success and struggle intersectional analysis exploring the ways class race and gender inform each other in students understandings and narratives with an interwoven theory throughout and a new typology for understanding working class student responses to the burden of academic success The Burden of Academic Success is ideal for courses on sociology education and American studies as well as for use by college educators and administrators

Care of Older Persons Mala Kapur Shankardass, 2024-10-23 This book explores the implications and significant ethical social economic and health challenges that an ageing world population presents It provides valuable insights on concerns related to providing organizing planning and managing care for older persons in both formal and informal settings As the number of older persons increases rapidly around the globe caring for them is a very important aspect of all ageing and aged societies While in most countries the care of older persons is provided informally by family members the changing social scene family structures and work and employment patterns are leading many nations to create provisions for formal care through institutions or paid services of caregivers This book offers perspectives on formal and informal care from countries such as Japan the Netherlands the USA India South Africa and Poland among others The essays in this book underline a rights based approach and focus on ethical social economic health and legal aspects of care as they pertain to the universal phenomena of ageing as well as the specific demographic and epidemiological realities of the selected countries They discuss concerns such as long term care provisions catering to the needs of people affected by dementia providing residential care taking the needs of family care providers into account the growing requirement for paid care workers and channelizing training of both skilled and semi skilled care providers to suit the needs of older people This volume would be of interest to scholars and those working in the fields of sociology health studies age and ageing psychology social work medical sciences nursing and public policy It will also be useful to NGO sector workers administrators as well as grassroots workers involved with the care of older persons

The Oxford Handbook of Social Work in Health and Aging Daniel B. Kaplan, Barbara Berkman, 2016 This Second Edition of the Handbook addresses the evolving interdisciplinary health care context and the broader social work practice environment as well as advances in the knowledge base which guides social work service delivery in health and aging This includes recent enhancements in the theories of gerontology innovations in clinical interventions and major developments in the social policies that structure and finance health care and senior services In addition the policy reforms of the 2010 Patient

Protection and Affordable Care Act set in motion a host of changes in the United States healthcare system with potentially profound implications for the programs and services which provide care to older adults and their families In this volume the most experienced and prominent gerontological health care scholars address a variety of populations that social workers serve and the arenas in which they practice followed by detailed recommendations of best practices for an array of physical and mental health conditions The volume s unprecedented attention to diversity health care trends and implications for practice research policy make the publication a major event in the field of gerontological social work This is a Must Read for all social work social work educators practitioners and students interested in older adults and their families EBOOK:
Partnerships In Family Care Mike Nolan,Ulla Lundh,John Keady,Gordon Grant,2003-08-16 What are the key features of partnerships between family and professional carers How do partnerships change over time What is needed to help create the best working partnerships Forging partnerships between service users family carers and service providers is a key theme in both the policy and academic literatures However what such partnerships mean and how they can be created and sustained while responding to change over time is far from clear This book considers how family and professional carers can work together more effectively in order to provide the highest quality of care to people who need support in order to remain in their own homes It adopts a temporal perspective looking at key transitions in caregiving and suggests the most appropriate types of help at particular points in time It draws on both empirical and theoretical sources emerging from several countries and relating to a number of differing caregiving contexts in order to illustrate the essential elements of relationship centred care Partnerships in Family Care will be important reading for all health care students and professionals with an interest in community and home care for the ill disabled and elderly A Guide For Nursing Home Social Workers Elise M. Mothers, Mothering, and COVID-19

Fiona J Green,Andrea O'Reilly,2021-02-28 There has been little public discussion on the devastating impact of Covid 19 on mothers or a public acknowledgement that mothering is frontline work in this pandemic This collection of 45 chapters and with 70 contributors is the first to explore the impact of the pandemic on mothers care and wage labour in the context of employment schooling communities families and the relationships of parents and children With a global perspective and from the standpoint of single partnered queer racialized Indigenous economically disadvantaged disabled and birthing mothers the volume examines the increasing complexity and demands of childcare domestic labour elder care and home schooling under the pandemic protocols the intricacies and difficulties of performing wage labour at home the impact of the pandemic on mothers employment and the strategies mothers have used to manage the competing demands of care and wage labour under COVID 19 By way of creative art poetry photography and creative writing along with scholarly research the collection seeks to make visible what has been invisibilized and render audible what has been silenced the care and crisis of motherwork through and after the COVID 19 pandemic

Handbook of School Mental Health Mark D. Weist,Steven W.

Evans,Nancy A. Lever,2008-10-23 With the growing challenges that children confront daily schools must be prepared at any given moment to intervene on their behalf And school professionals must be well trained to attend not only to the most routine mental health needs of its students but also to respond quickly and effectively to significant traumatic events All this in addition to addressing demands to narrow the achievement gap increase the rate of school success and lower the dropout rate Along with an introductory chapter that focuses on advancing school based mental health practice and research the Handbook of School Mental Health addresses a broad range of issues including how to Build and enhance collaborative approaches among the various individual group system and agency stakeholders Ensure best practices are used in all systems of care provide effective training for all professionals introduce strength based approaches to assessment in schools and facilitate the implementation of evidence based practices Prevent and effectively manage crises and violence in schools while addressing the unique ethical cultural and legal challenges of school mental health This volume is an essential resource for the diverse coalition of school mental health staff and advocates including educators social workers school psychologists school counselors and other professionals who work with and are concerned with the well being of children

Supporting Children and Families Mark Avis, Justine Schneider, Paul Leighton, 2007-12-15 This book gathers together the lessons learned from perhaps the largest scale social experiment ever undertaken in England Sure Start In addition to summarizing the findings of numerous innovative projects contributors draw on their experiences of the successes and challenges to offer advice for those engaged in current and future practice

Evaluation in Child and Family Services Tiziano Vecchiato, Anthony N. Maluccio, Cinzia Canali, As child and family interventions assume greater international application it will be helpful to examine the various ways in which service innovations are being evaluated As demonstrated in the seminar from which these chapters resulted only by sharing our specific professional interests our too frequent problems in measurement our despair in implementing complicated studies and our successes can we advance the evaluation of human services and their outcomes This volume considers a variety of programs and issues in the field of child and family services While different perspectives are evident among the authors in terms of their focus and or emphasis there is common concern about the value of examining each program or service so as to maximize its impact as well as its potential for dissemination Intervention research should spur and motivate cross national efforts not only among researchers but also among social workers and other practitioners from diverse professions engaged in the delivery of human services Such collaboration would contribute to the ultimate goals of achieving greater clarity about the specifics of best practices in child and family services protocols for assessing outcomes and ways of improving service delivery How then can researchers and policymakers in diverse settings within diverse countries improve practice and service delivery on behalf of children and families What particular program findings can be generalized to improve services How can we share and implement new solutions The contributions to this volume address such questions from varying international perspectives Contributors provide answers and generate discussion points for consideration by practitioners as well as researchers The book is a must for social work parishioners in areas involving the delivery of goods as well as services Tiziano Vecchiato is scientific director of the Fondazione Emanuela Zancan Padua Italy Anthony N Maluccio is professor of social work at Boston College Graduate School of Social Work Chestnut Hill Massachusetts Cinzia Canali is research associate at the Fondazione Emanuela Zancan Padua Italy
