Introducing Discourse Analysis David Nunan:

Introducing Discourse Analysis David Nunan, 1993 Examines and explains discourse visual examples from a wide range of spoken and written sources The book also includes a number of exercises and projects to help the reader study discourse and discourse analysis in relation to their own teaching Discourse Analysis and the Greek New Testament Stanley E.

Porter, Matthew Brook O'Donnell, 2023-12-28 This volume examines and outlines a Systemic Functional Linguistic SFL model of discourse analysis and its relationship to New Testament Greek The book reflects upon how SFL has grown as a field since it was first introduced to New Testament Greek studies by Stanley E Porter in the 1980s Porter and Matthew Brook O'Donnell first introduce basic concepts regarding discourse analysis and the major approaches towards it within New Testament studies They then provide a detailed exploration of discourse analysis in terms of the textual metafunction beginning with an introduction to the architecture of language within SFL before exploring several individual elements within it By focusing upon these individual components in particular theme and information structure markedness and prominence and coherence and cohesive harmony Porter and O'Donnell introduce and exemplify the major resources of the textual metafunction More Than Meets the Ear Victor H. Matthews, 2008-10-07 This title introduces readers to the various critical communication theories currently being used by scholars in anthropology sociology psychology and literary studies Studies on the Text of the New Testament and Early Christianity Daniel Gurtner, Juan Hernández, Jr., Paul Foster, 2015-09-29 The collection of essays focuses on the twin areas of research undertaken by Prof Michael W Holmes These are the sub disciplines of textual criticism and the study of the Apostolic Fathers The first part of the volume on textual criticism focuses on issues of method the praxis of editing and collating texts and discussions pertaining to individual variants The second part of the volume assembles essays on the Apostolic Fathers There is a particular focus on the person and writings of Polycarp since this is the area of research where Prof Holmes has worked most intensively Hearing the

New Testament Joel B. Green, 1995 Exciting approaches to biblical interpretation are introduced in this volume by contributors who are distinguished as leaders in the field of New Testament studies Each chapter introduces a particular approach to interpretation and demonstrates with biblical texts how that approach can be used by students and pastors

Social Inequalities, Media, and Communication Toks Oyedemi, Jan Servaes, 2016-02-04 Social Inequalities Media and Communication Theory and Roots provides a global analysis of the intersection of social inequalities media and communication This book contains chapter contributions written by scholars from around the world who engage in country and region specific case studies of social inequalities in media and communication The volume is a theoretical exploration of the classical structuralist culturalist postmodernist and postcolonial theoretical approaches to inequality and how these theoretical discourses provide critical understanding of social inequalities in relation to narratives shaped by media and communication experiences The contributors provide class and gender analyses of media and culture engage theoretical discourses of inequalities and capitalism in relation to communication technologies and explore the cyclical relationship of theory and praxis in studying inequalities media and communication

Learner-centered English Language Education David Nunan, 2013 This carefully crafted collection provides a snapshot of the evolution of David Nunan's theoretical and empirical contributions to the field of second language education over the last 40 years. The volume focuses on the development of his work on second language curricula and in particular the work for which he is best known: learner-centered education and task-based learning and teaching. David Nunan has been a language teacher, researcher, and consultant for 40 years. He has lived and worked in many countries principally in the Asia Pacific region but also in the Americas, Europe, and the Middle East. In addition to his research and scholarly work, he is the author of several major textbook series for the teaching and learning of English as a foreign language. These texts are based on his task-based language teaching approach and are widely used in schools, school systems, and universities around the world. A

Text-Linguistic Investigation into the Discourse Structure of James Mark E. Taylor, 2006-09-08 This study uncovers significant structuring techniques in James that prove to be beneficial in a number of ways. First, there exists a coherent discernible strategy in the letter as a whole. Second, significant uses of inclusio along with other transition techniques draw attention to important recurring themes. Third, the quotation of Lev 19:18 and echoes of the Shema (Deut 6) occur in significant structural locations suggesting that the double love command in the Jesus tradition (cf. Mt 22:34-40) is a hermeneutical key to the interpretation of the letter. The study begins with an introduction to the research problem and its significance for interpretation. Chapter one summarizes and critiques past proposals of the structure of James. Chapter two explains the text-linguistic methodology employed in the study that is then applied in chapters three, four, and five. Chapter six offers a proposed structure for the letter that consists of a double introduction (1:2-11, 1:13-27) joined by an overlapping transition (1:12), a carefully crafted letter body (2:1-5, 6) that is bracketed by a major inclusio (2:12-13, 4:11-12), and a conclusion (5:7-20). The Freer Biblical Manuscripts Larry W. Hurtado, 2006 The six biblical manuscripts that reside in the Freer Gallery of Art in Washington, DC, are historically significant artifacts for tracing the early history of the transmission of the writings that make up the New Testament and the Septuagint. The manuscripts, all purchased in Egypt at the beginning of the twentieth century by Charles Freer, date to the third through fifth centuries and include codices of the four Gospels, Deuteronomy, and Joshua, the Psalms, and the Pauline Epistles, as well as a Coptic codex of the Psalms and a papyrus codex of the Minor Prophets, which until the discovery of the Dead Sea Scrolls was the earliest Greek manuscript of the Minor Prophets known. The ten essays in this volume are a notable collection of fresh scholarship with long-term value for the study of what is a small but highly valuable treasure trove of biblical manuscripts. The contributors are Malcolm Choat, Kent D. Clarke, Kristin De Troyer, Timothy J. Finney, Dennis Haugh, Larry W. Hurtado, J. Bruce Prior, Jean-François Racine, James R. Royse, Ulrich Schmid, and Thomas A. Wayment. Book jacket

Fuzzy Boundaries in Discourse Studies Péter B. Furkó, Ildikó Vaskó, Csilla Ilona

Dér,Dorte Madsen,2019-12-16 This book focuses on the multifarious aspects of fuzzy boundaries in the field of discourse studies a field that is marked by complex boundary work and a great degree of fuzziness regarding theoretical frameworks methodologies and the use of linguistic categories Discourse studies is characterised by a variety of theoretical frameworks and disciplinary fields research methodologies and lexico grammatical categories The contributions in this book explore some of the nuances and implications of the fuzzy boundaries in these areas resulting in a wide reaching volume which will be of interest to students and scholars of discourse studies in fields including sociology linguistics international relations philosophy literary criticism and anthropology     Introducing Systemic Functional Linguistics Hui Yu,Chenguang Chang,Bo Wang,Yuanyi Ma,2025-09-12 This book provides a comprehensive introduction to Systemic Functional Linguistics SFL covering key concepts and contributions to the field and instructing beginners to apply SFL to different areas Authored by contributors with extensive experience of teaching SFL this book is composed of 14 chapters covering theories descriptions and applications of SFL It encompasses the following topics SFL theory and the organizing principles descriptions of various lexicogrammatical and semantic systems grammatical metaphor register studies different areas of SFL application including translation studies multimodal discourse analysis and educational linguistics Suitable to be used as teaching materials the chapters are carefully organized into sections of learning outcomes key terms exercises and suggested readings By introducing the theory and applications of SFL in accessible terms and requiring no prior knowledge this practical book is a key reading for students new to the area     Task-Based Language Teaching David Nunan,2004-12-09 The field of task based language teaching has developed considerably since the publication of Designing Tasks for the Communicative Classroom Nunan 1989 a book which helped to set the research agenda in teaching methodology for the following decade While Designing Tasks underpins this new title the material has been thoroughly updated and includes four completely new chapters Task Based Language Teaching offers a comprehensive and up to date appraisal of the field     Introduction

discourse analysis David Nunan,1993     Cognitive Pragmatics Hans-Jörg Schmid,2012-08-31 Speakers tend to compose their utterances in such a way that the message they want to get across is hardly ever fully encoded by the meanings of the words and the grammar they use Instead speakers rely on hearers adding conceptual and emotive content while interpreting the contextually appropriate meanings and intentions behind utterances This insight which is of course particularly relevant in all kinds of indirect figurative or humorous talk lies at the heart of the linguistic discipline of pragmatics If pragmatics is the study of meaning in context then cognitive pragmatics can be broadly defined as encompassing the study of the cognitive principles and processes involved in the construal of meaning in context While it would seem only natural that pragmatics as such should have addressed such cognitive issues anyway it has mainly been due to the historical rooting of this discipline in the philosophy of language that psychological aspects have not been in the pragmatic limelight to date Being part of the 9 volume series Handbooks of Pragmatics this volume is the first to systematically survey this terrain from a wide range of perspectives It collects state of the art contributions by leading experts from the fields of pragmatics psycholinguistics cognitive linguistics clinical linguistics and historical linguistics The volume is divided into four parts which tackle the following questions Part I The cognitive principles of pragmatic competence What are the general cognitive principles underlying pragmatic competence i e the skill to arrive at context dependent meanings of utterances What are the cognitive underpinnings of language users ability to compute or infer intended meanings in the role of hearers and to give hints as to how to decode intended meanings in the role of speakers Part II The psychology of pragmatics What are the actual cognitive processes taking place during online construal of meaning in context on the basis of encoded messages How is pragmatic competence acquired in childhood What are the types sources and effects of pragmatic disorders i e impairments of pragmatic competence Part III The construal of non explicit and non literal meaning in context What are the cognitive principles and processes involved in the construal of meanings of non explicit and indirect utterances How do we process figurative meanings humour and gestures Part IV The emergence of linguistic structures from meaning in context What are the repercussions of the repeated construal of context dependent meanings on linguistic structures and the linguistic system How does the system change under the influence of the construal of meanings in social situations Reduced series price print available degruyter de rhenus com      Intercultural Conversation Winnie Cheng,2003-01-01 This innovative study of naturally occurring English conversations between Hong Kong Chinese and their native English friends and colleagues makes a worthwhile contribution to the research literature on intercultural conversation Through analyzing dyadic intercultural conversations the study investigates the ways in which culturally divergent conversationalists manage their organizational and interpersonal aspects of the unfolding conversations The study focuses on five features of conversational interaction disagreements compliments and compliment responses simultaneous talk discourse topic management and discourse information structure where cultural values and attitudes are particularly evident For each of the features hypotheses are formulated and tested through the detailed analysis of twenty five intercultural conversations This quantitative analysis is then followed by qualitative analysis of excerpts from the conversations to show the ways in which conversational interaction is performed and negotiated The study shows in very revealing ways that intercultural conversations involve a complex interactive and collaborative process of communication between the participants      Why O Lord? David J Cohen,2013-03-08 The book begins by exploring a number of signposts in psalms scholarship which alert us to the value of psalms as a form of prayer The particular focus is lament psalms and their potential as a form of prayer for people engaging with distressing experiences in life What follows is a discussion of lament as a process and the areas of potential change for someone who uses these psalms for prayer The final section of the book includes stories of several people who prayed some of these psalms over a period of time It explores their responses and reflections in an attempt to evaluate the effectiveness of praying psalms such as these The book culminates with a chapter which invites the reader to pray some psalms of distress themselves with notes suggesting an appropriate ritual to follow and some ideas for further exploration David J Cohen's book Why O Lord provides a wonderful comprehensive view of the psalms of lament It is an encouragement to all Christian traditions to look with fresh eyes on the psalms as prayer and particularly the psalms of lament as our suffering and the suffering of many in our world needs the language to cry out to God in times of darkness The psalms express every human emotion and use a strong confidence that we can cry out to God and that God will hear our suffering and that transformation is possible Bringing the psalms of lament into ritual so aptly described by Cohen brings a new dimension to worship both personal and communal This book is an excellent academic and pastoral addition to our knowledge of the psalms Angela McCarthy lecturer in Theology at the University of Notre Dame Fremantle Australia National President of the Australian Academy of Liturgy

On the Borders of Convention Aleksandra Nikčević Batrićević, 2010-05-11 The research presented in this book is authored by scholars coming from as distant regions as South Africa the United States of America Great Britain France Italy Belarus the Balkans Needless to say that one of the good things about this international cooperation is that owing to their different socio cultural backgrounds these scholars have contributed to producing an extremely varied picture of ways of approaching the challenge of a changing world The papers on literature and culture collected in this book contribute a further element of rigour into the discussion of numerous and always varying and changing borders of convention in a literary text literary genre and literary theory as well as in general culture and everyday paths of life Starting with oral cultures over the classic literary masters modernist and postmodernist textual and theoretical phenomena the twentieth century flouting of numerous social and gender convention through painting film dance contemporary music as well as graffiti We have sought to stress that what is most noticeable from the evidence of their studies is that scholars today concern these issues through a dynamic global process and beyond any preconceived design or any strict set of theoretical prescriptions which would otherwise lead them to ignore the ever shifting borders in literature and culture as well as in global socio cultural reality in general The variety and complexity of these essays offer fresh views to the problem posed in the title of the book Therefore we trust that they will stimulate intellectual confrontation and circulation of ideas within the field of literature and cultural studies

Missionary Linguistics V / Lingüística Misionera V Otto Zwartjes, Klaus Zimmermann, Martina Schrader-Kniffki, 2014-04-15 The object of this volume is the study of missionary translation practices which occur within a colonial context of political domination and spiritual conquest Missionary translation becomes especially manifest in bilingual ethnographic descriptions in bilingual catechisms and in the missionaries lexicographic condensation of bilingual dictionaries The study of these instances permits the analysis and interpretation of their guiding principles their translation practice and underlying reasoning It also permits the modern linguist to discern semantic changes that can be revealed in these missionary translations over certain periods Up to now there has hardly been any study available that focuses on translation in missionary sources of the different traditions in the Americas or Asia This book will fill this gap addressing the legacy of missionary translation practices and theories the role of translation in evangelization and its particular form in the context of colonialism the creation of loans from Spanish or Latin or equivalents or paraphrases in the indigenous languages in texts and dictionaries as translation strategies followed in bilingual editions The process of acculturation and transculturation imposed by European religious systems is noted This volume presents research on languages such as Nahuatl Tarascan Pur pecha Zapotec Tamil Chinese Japanese Pangasinan and other Austronesian languages from the Philippines

Tradition and Change in Legal English Christopher Williams, 2007 In this volume the author examines verbal constructions in prescriptive legal texts written in English Modal auxiliaries such as shall may and must are analysed as well as indicative tenses such as the present simple and also non finite constructions such as the ing form and ed participles Results are based on specially compiled corpora of prescriptive texts coming from a wide range of English speaking countries and also international organizations such as the European Union and the UN The author also analyses the nature extent and impact of the calls for change in legal language coming from the Plain Language Movement Although legal language tends to be depicted as being highly conservative and unchanging the author shows that in certain parts of the English speaking world a minor revolution would appear to be taking place while in other parts there is greater resistance to change
