African Studies Review ,2008      A Contemporary Analysis of Kenya's Foreign Policy Stephen Magu,2024-09-11

This book presents a comprehensive analysis of Kenya's foreign policy decisions examining its pivotal role in global affairs and its interplay with regional and international dynamics Through an insightful exploration of Kenya's national security concerns and diplomatic engagements the book delves into the intricate nexus between geography political stability and foreign policy Featuring a near chronological examination the book is organized thematically with each chapter analysing Kenya's multifaceted foreign policy landscape From exploring the genesis of Kenya's foreign policy to unravelling the political intricacies of territorial integrity and regionalism the book illuminates the nation's historical journey in the global arena Drawing on empirical research it presents the complexities of Kenya's involvement in regional conflicts and its substantial contributions to international peacekeeping efforts Furthermore it offers a nuanced understanding of Kenya's engagement in global multilateral platforms shedding light on its contributions to the UN Security Council and other international governing bodies By critically analysing the socio-economic implications of global policies such as the Washington Consensus and Structural Adjustment Programs the book details the intricate web of influences shaping Kenya's economic landscape and its intricate relations with other nations Engaging readers with a deep exploration of Kenya's role in addressing humanitarian crises and its response to global challenges the book provides a compelling narrative on how a seemingly small power can significantly influence broader global dynamics By emphasizing the intricate relationship between local challenges and global implications the book serves as an indispensable guide for scholars policymakers and global stakeholders seeking to comprehend the nuanced interplay of geopolitics diplomacy and regional security within the broader context of the Global South

Historical Dictionary of Kenya Michael Mwenda Kithinji,2024-06-18 Kenya has a rich and complex history Due to the vast discoveries of prehistoric archaeological remains Kenya is one of the few places in the world with the largest and most complete record of human's cultural development Furthermore the country's strategic location astride the Indian Ocean and the East African littoral attracted numerous foreigners such as the Arabs Persians Portuguese Americans British Chinese French and Germans Additionally immigrants from throughout Africa and beyond have settled in Kenya to escape conflict or political persecution while others wanted an opportunity to begin a new life As a result of being a gateway to the world the country traditionally has been one of the most important business cultural diplomatic and political centers in Africa Still Kenya like many other countries throughout the world has been plagued by an increasing array of complex economic political and social challenges Historical Dictionary of Kenya Fourth Edition contains a chronology an introduction and an extensive bibliography The dictionary section has more than 500 cross-referenced entries on important personalities as well as aspects of the country's politics economy foreign relations religion and culture This book is an excellent resource for students researchers and anyone wanting to know more about Kenya      Kenya Norman Miller,Rodger

Yeager,2018-03-09 First Published in 2018 This book captures the self confident spirit that characterizes Kenya and provides unique insights into how this nation of contemporary Africa is faring in its continuing quest for prosperity focusing on the contemporary period beginning with the rise to power of President Daniel arap Moi in 1978 Kenya and the Politics of a Postcolony Wanjala S. Nasong'o,2024-08-06 This book sets out to probe explore and evaluate the betrayal of anticolonial nationalism in Kenya Contemporary Kenya s emergence is rooted in the colonial enterprise its deleterious effects and the subsequent decolonization spearheaded by a fierce anti colonial nationalism that was embodied in freedom struggles at the cultural political and military levels As a settler colony the colonial settlers hived off millions of hectares of the best land in the highland areas of Kenya and appropriated them for themselves thereby generating a large mass of the landless This land alienation constituted one of the most deeply felt grievances which together with the exclusivist exploitative and oppressive colonial system inflamed anti colonial nationalism that undergirded the struggle for independence The expectation on the part of the masses was that independence would bring about social justice restitution of the stolen lands and a government based on the will and aspirations of the governed Political developments soon after independence however demonstrated the extent of betrayal of the cause of anti colonial nationalism which has remained the reality to date This book covers the extent of this sense of betrayal from the time of independence to the present It begins by locating contemporary Kenya within the colonial context then proceeds to thematic issues of betrayal including the fall out between President Kenyatta and Vice President Odinga over ideology and issues of development which constituted the first betrayal the scourge of bureaucratic corruption and rent seeking the question of land and associated historical injustices and electoral malpractice since the return of multiparty politics in 1992 to the most recent elections of 2022 The implications of these dynamics for the future of the Kenyan polity are delineated and discussed Constitutions and Conflict Management in Africa Alan J.

Kuperman,2015-06-29 Each of Africa s countries has a different constitutional design is characterized by a unique culture and history and faces different stresses that threaten to undermine political stability Presenting the first database of constitutional design in all African countries along with seven original case studies Constitutions and Conflict Management in Africa explores the types of domestic political institutions that can buffer societies from destabilizing changes that otherwise increase the risk of violence With detailed comparative studies of Burundi Ghana Kenya Nigeria Senegal Sudan and Zimbabwe contributing scholars identify key turning points at which a state s political institutions either mitigated or escalated the effects of economic environmental demographic and political shocks They find that stability can be promoted by various constitutional designs not only by accommodative institutions that encourage decentralization and multiculturalism but also by the integrative centralized designs that characterize the constitutions of most African countries The greatest danger may arise from partial or inequitable accommodation that can exacerbate societal tensions culminating in violence up to and including civil war and genocide Accordingly Constitutions and Conflict Management in Africa cautions against the typical international prescription for radical reform to replace Africa's existing constitutions with accommodative designs instead prescribing more gradual constitutional reform to strengthen liberal institutions such as strong judiciaries and independent electoral commissions This detailed and methodical volume provides vital lessons for fostering democracy and reducing civil conflict via constitutional reform in Africa and beyond Contributors Justin Orlando Frosini Gilbert M Khadiagala Alan J Kuperman Karly Kupferberg Eli Poupko Eghosa E Osaghae Andrew Reynolds Filip Reyntjens Arame Tall Hillary Thomas Lake Stefan Wolff I William Zartman The Oxford Handbook of Kenyan Politics Nic Cheeseman, Karuti Kanyinga, Gabrielle Lynch, 2020 The Oxford Handbook of Kenyan Politics provides a comprehensive and comparative overview of the Kenyan political system as well as an insightful account of Kenyan history from 1930 to the present day

War, Hunger, and Displacement: E. Wayne Nafziger, Frances Stewart, Raimo Väyrynen, 2000-10-19 Since the end of the cold war the number of civil wars in developing countries has escalated to the point where they are the most significant source of human suffering in the world today Although there are many political analyses of these emergencies this two volume work is the first comprehensive study of the economic social and political roots of humanitarian emergencies identifying early measures to prevent such disasters Nafziger Stewart and Väyrynen draw on a wide range of specialists on the political economy of war and on major conflicts to show the causes of conflict The first volume provides a general overview of the nature and causes of the emergencies including economic political and environmental factors The second volume provides detailed case studies of thirteen conflicts including Rwanda Burundi the Congo Afghanistan and the Caucasus that originated in the weakness of the state or where economic factors predominate The volumes emphasize the significance of protracted economic stagnation and decline high and increasing inequality government exclusion of distinct social groups state failure and predatory rule They debunk beliefs recurrent in the literature that emergencies are the result of deteriorating environmental conditions structural adjustment and deep seated ethnic animosity By analysing the causes and prevention of war and humanitarian emergencies in developing countries this work outlines a less costly alternative to the present strategy of the world community of spending millions of dollars annually to provide mediation relief and rehabilitation after the conflict occurs Kenya After 50 Michael Mwenda Kithinji, Mickie Mwanzia Koster, Jerono P.

Rotich, 2016-04-08 This book explores the journey that Kenya has travelled as a nation since its independence on December 12 1963 It seeks to advance understanding of the country's major milestones in the postcolonial period the challenges and the lessons that can be learned from this experience and the future prospects Equality in Kenya's 2010 Constitution Victoria Miyandazi, 2021-02-25 This book makes a significant contribution to the ongoing global conversations on the various understandings of equality It illuminates the many ways in which diverse equality guarantees clash or are interrelated It also sets out principled approaches on how they can be coherently interpreted to address the myriad inequalities in Kenya Taking a comparative approach the book considers how other jurisdictions including the United States United Kingdom Canada

South Africa India and Botswana have approached the conceptualisation interpretation and application of various equality concepts The book focuses on important issues such as transformative constitutionalism in relation to the interpretation of Kenya s 2010 Constitution expanding the list of enumerated grounds for non discrimination affirmative action accommodating religious and cultural diversity versus gender equality the interrelation between socio economic rights and status based equality

States of Surveillance Maya Avis, Daniel Marciniak, Maria Sapignoli, 2024-10-07 Recent discussions on big data surveillance and artificial intelligence in governance have opened up an opportunity to think about the role of technology in the production of the knowledge states use to govern The contributions in this volume examine the socio technical assemblages that underpin the surveillance carried out by criminal justice institutions particularly the digital tools that form the engine room of modern state bureaucracies Drawing on ethnographic research in contexts from across the globe the contributions to this volume engage with technology s promises of transformation scrutinise established ways of thinking that become embedded through technologies critically consider the dynamics that shape the political economy driving the expansion of security technologies and examine how those at the margins navigate experiences of surveillance The book is intended for an interdisciplinary academic audience interested in ethnographic approaches to the study of surveillance technologies in policing and justice Concrete case studies provide students practitioners and activists from a broad range of backgrounds with nuanced entry points to the debate

Understanding Collective Pride and Group Identity Gavin Brent Sullivan, 2014-06-20 Collective and group based pride is currently covered across a number of disciplines including nationalism studies sociology and social psychology with little communication between fields This multidisciplinary collection encourages interdisciplinary research and provides a unique insight into the subject stemming from a psychological perspective The collection builds upon insights from collective emotion research to consider the relations between collective pride shame and guilt as well as emotions of anger empowerment and defiance Collective pride is examined in contexts that vary from small groups in relatively peaceful competition to protest movements and large groups in divisive conflicts In the book collective pride is a complex and positive emotional experience evident in the behaviour of groups that can lead to negative forms of collective hubris in which other groups are devalued or dominated Emotions of Collective Pride and Group Identity brings together international contributors to discuss the theory research and practice surrounding collective pride in relation to other emotions and collective cultural and national identity Divided into two parts part one explores the philosophy and theory behind collective pride and its extremes Part two draws upon the latest quantitative and qualitative empirical research to focus on specific issues for example happiness national pride and the 2010 World Cup Topics covered include cultural and national pride and identity positive feelings of unity and solidarity dynamic relationships between collective pride guilt and shame theories of emotions in ritual symbolic and affective practices collective pride and collective hubris in organizations perspectives on national events from young people This book will appeal to an interdisciplinary audience in the area of affect studies and emotion research including social psychologists sociologists historians and anthropologists      Kenya's Running Women Michelle M Sikes,2023-12-01 Since Pauline Konga's breakthrough performance at the 1996 summer Olympics in Atlanta the world has become accustomed to seeing Kenyan women medal at major championships sweep marathons and set world records Yet little is known about the pioneer generation of women who paved the way for Kenya's reputation as an international powerhouse in women's track and field In Kenya's Running Women A History historian and former professional runner Michelle M Sikes details the triumphs and many challenges these women faced from the advent of Kenya's athletics program in the colonial era through the professionalization of running in the 1980s and 1990s Sikes reveals how over time running became a vehicle for Kenyan women to expand the boundaries of acceptable female behavior Kenya's Running Women demonstrates the necessity of including women in histories of African sport and of incorporating sport into studies of African gender and nation building

Wildlife, Wild Death Rodger Yeager,Norman N. Miller,1986-06-30 This book examines the relationship between agricultural land use and wildlife protection in two eastern African countries Kenya and Tanzania Although both elements are vital to the societies and economies of these countries environmentally sensitive land use practices and effective wildlife management are seriously lacking in Kenya and Tanzania Within the broader context of environmental public policy the book traces the origins of these problems in the different policy experiences of the two countries and explores their current dimensions and magnitudes It also recommends future research and policy reforms that must be undertaken if Kenya and Tanzania are to achieve their developmental goals while avoiding environmental disaster and the extinction of their endangered wild animals Through its analysis the book provides a better understanding of similar conflicts wherever they appear in a world of increasing competition among threatened life forms      Geopolitics at the End of the Twentieth Century Nurit Kliot,David Newman,2013-11-05 An excellent examination of how the collapse of the Soviet Union and the impact of globalization have brought about changes not only to the territorial configuration sovereignty of states and their boundaries but also to traditional notions of state boundaries sovereignty and social order These essays focus on the key regional and geopolitical characteristics of this global reordering with an emphasis on Eastern Europe and South Asia They discuss the territorial reordering which is taking place at the level of the state as boundaries are redemarcated in line with ethno territorial demands as borders are transversed by the movement of peoples information and finance and as the lines of territorial demarcation are perceived not only in terms of their fixed characteristics but as part of a process through which regional and ethnic identities continue to be formed and reformed Each section ends with articles which focus on literature on geopolitics and boundaries This is an invaluable addition to our understanding of contemporary world affairs      Conflict and Poverty in Africa Ebenezer Durojaye,Gladys Mirugi-Mukundi,John-Mark Iyi,Usang Maria Assim,2025-02-17 The contributors to this book examine the conceptual issues relating to the link between conflict and poverty as well as presenting case studies of countries often regarded as hot spots for conflict in Africa. They also explore the roles of regional and sub regional bodies and institutions in addressing the causes of poverty and mitigating the impacts of conflict on vulnerable and marginalized groups. Africa is often regarded as the epicentre of conflicts worldwide. Virtually every part of the continent is currently engulfed in one form of conflict or another. Beyond the loss of life, conflicts have brought untold hardship to millions and have derailed social and economic development on the continent. Written by African academics, this book is divided into three sections, the first of which discusses the factors that fuel conflicts and the nature and impacts of conflicts on vulnerable groups. The second section comprises case studies of South Sudan, Central African Republic, Nigeria, Ethiopia, South Africa, Uganda, and Cameroon. These countries are representative of the sub regional dynamics of Africa, west, east, central, and south, reflecting the diversity of the continent. The final section examines the role of key institutions and bodies in Africa in mitigating the impact of conflict on the socioeconomic lives of the people in the region. Bodies discussed include the African Union, Economic Community of West African States, Southern African Development Community, and the East African Community. The book will be an invaluable resource for researchers, academics, and policymakers working in the areas of law, political science, human rights, peace studies, development studies, and African studies.

Student Politics in Africa M. Luescher, Manja Klemencic, 2016-05-12. The second volume of the African Higher Education Dynamics Series brings together the research of an international network of higher education scholars with interest in higher education and student politics in Africa. Most authors are early career academics who teach and conduct research in universities across the continent and who came together for a research project and related workshops and a symposium on student representation in African higher education governance. The book includes theoretical chapters on student organising, student activism, and representation; chapters on historical and current developments in student politics in Anglophone and Francophone Africa; and in depth case studies on student representation and activism in a cross section of universities and countries. The book provides a unique resource for academics, university leaders, and student affairs professionals, as well as student leaders and policy makers in Africa and elsewhere.

Land, Investment & Politics Jeremy Lind, Doris Okenwa, Ian Scoones, 2020. More than ever before, the gaze of global investment has been directed to the drylands of Africa, but what does this mean for these regions? Pastoralists and other livestock keepers and their livelihoods: Will those who have occupied drylands over generations benefit from the developments as claimed, or is this a new type of territorialisation exacerbating social inequality? This book's detailed local studies of investments at various stages of development from Kenya, Tanzania, Somaliland, Ethiopia explore for the first time how large land resource and infrastructure projects shape local politics and livelihoods. Land and resources use based on ancestral precedence and communal practices and embedded regional systems of trade are unique to these areas, yet these lands are now seen as the new frontier for development of national wealth. By examining the ways in which large scale investments enmesh with local political and social relations, the chapters show how even the most elaborate plans of financiers contractors and national governments come unstuck and are re made in the guise of not only states grand modernist visions but also those of herders and small town entrepreneurs in the pastoral drylands The contributors also demonstrate how and why large scale investments have advanced in a more piecemeal way as the challenges of implementation have mounted

National Museums in Africa Raymond Silverman, George Abungu, Peter Probst, 2021-08-30 National Museums in Africa brings the voices of African museum professionals into dialogue with scholars and by so doing is able to consider the state of African national museums from fresh perspectives Covering all regions of the continent the volume s thirteen chapters allow for a deep and nuanced understanding of the intricate interplay between past and present in contemporary Africa Taking stock of the shifting museum landscape in Africa with new players like China and South Korea challenging the conditions of cultural exchange the book demonstrates that national museums are being rediscovered as important sites of political engagement and cultural negotiation This is the first book to critically examine the roles national museums in Africa have played in the societies in which they are situated but it is also the first to consider the roles that national museums might play in current debates concerning the restitution and repatriation of cultural patrimony taken from Africa during the colonial era Informed by a comparative and interdisciplinary perspective this ground breaking book will appeal to anyone interested in museums in Africa It will be particularly useful to scholars and students working in the areas of museum and heritage studies African studies anthropology archaeology history art history and cultural studies
