to facts of certain types of narrative and to examine critically the foundations of this commitment But because it takes a background for a figure to emerge clearly this book will also explore nonfactual types of narratives thereby providing insights into the nature of narrative fiction that could not be reached from the narrowly literary perspective of early narratology

Politics for the Love of Fandom Ashley Hinck, 2019-03-13 Politics for the Love of Fandom examines what Ashley Hinck calls fan based citizenship civic action that blends with and arises from participation in fandom and commitment to a fan object Examining cases like Harry Potter fans fighting for fair trade YouTube fans donating money to charity and football fans volunteering to mentor local youth Hinck argues that fan based citizenship has created new civic practices wherein popular culture may play as large a role in generating social action as traditional political institutions such as the Democratic Party or the Catholic Church In an increasingly digital world individuals can easily move among many institutions and groups They can choose from more people and organizations than ever to inspire their civic actions even the fandom for children's book series Harry Potter can become a foundation for involvement in political life and social activism Hinck explores this new kind of engagement and its implications for politics and citizenships through case studies that encompass fandoms for sports YouTube channels movies and even toys She considers the ways in which fan based social engagement arises organically from fan communities seeking to change their world as a group as well as the methods creators use to leverage their fans to take social action The modern shift to networked fluid communities Hinck argues opens up opportunities for public participation that occurs outside of political parties houses of worship and organizations for social action Fan based citizenship performances help us understand the future possibilities of public engagement as fans and creators alike tie the ethical frameworks of fan objects to desired social goal such as volunteering for political candidates mentoring at risk youth and promoting environmentally friendly policy Politics for the Love of Fandom examines the communication at the center of these civic actions exploring how fans nonprofits and media companies manage to connect internet based fandom with public issues Revisiting Imaginary Worlds Mark Wolf,2016-12-08 The concept of world and the practice of world creation have been with us since antiquity but they are now achieving unequalled prominence In this timely anthology of subcreation studies an international roster of contributors come together to examine the rise and structure of worlds the practice of world building and the audience s reception of imaginary worlds Including essays written by world builders A K Dewdney and Alex McDowell and offering critical analyses of popular worlds such as those of Oz The Lord of the Rings Star Trek Star Wars Battlestar Galactica and Minecraft Revisiting Imaginary Worlds provides readers with a broad and interdisciplinary overview of the issues and concepts involved in imaginary worlds across media platforms Seriously Therapeutic Play with LEGO® Kristen Klassen,Alec Hamilton,Mary Anne Peabody,2023-12-18 LEGO bricks are a staple in many child and play therapists offices and Seriously Therapeutic Play with LEGO shows therapists and counselors how to integrate LEGO in a therapeutically valuable way This book presents a therapeutic approach based in biological psychological and social research one that supports participants as they build models that represent their thoughts emotions experiences and reflections Using a variety of evidence based intervention techniques chapters show clinicians how to incorporate the model and associated metaphors to help clients and they do so in a way that is compatible with any number of therapeutic orientations or perspectives Though based in current research Seriously Therapeutic Play with LEGO is designed for psychologists social workers school counselors occupational therapists clinical educators and supervisors coaches support workers and other health care providers across the lifespan who wish to use play therapeutically
