Handbook of Molecular and Cellular Methods in Biology and Medicine, Third

Edition Leland J. Cseke, Ara Kirakosyan, Peter B. Kaufman, Margaret V. Westfall, 2011-12-12 Several milestones in biology have been achieved since the first publication of the Handbook of Molecular and Cellular Methods in Biology and Medicine. This is true particularly with respect to genome level sequencing of higher eukaryotes, the invention of DNA microarray technology, advances in bioinformatics and the development of RNAi technology. Now in its third edition, this volume provides researchers with an updated tool kit that incorporates conventional as well as modern approaches to tackle biological and medicinal research in the post genomics era. Significantly revised to address these recent changes, the editors have evaluated, revised, and sometimes replaced protocols with more efficient, more reliable, or simpler ones. The book has also been reorganized with section headings focusing on different biological levels connected to one another, taking into account the central dogma of biology: DNA, RNA, protein, metabolites. The book first explores traditional approaches and then moves to the modern omics approaches, including genomics, proteomics, and metabolomics. It also discusses the manipulation of biological systems, including RNAi and macromolecular analyses, focusing on the use of microscopy. In each chapter, various notes and cautionary considerations are presented for potentially hazardous reagents. Filled with diagrams, tables, and figures to clarify methods, most chapters also contain Troubleshooting Guides indicating problems, possible causes, and solutions that may be incurred in carrying out the procedures. Researchers and scientists who master the techniques in this book are putting themselves at the cutting edge of biological and medicinal research.

Structural Studies, Repairs and Maintenance of Heritage Architecture XII C. A. Brebbia, 2011 Architectural heritage is now recognised to be of great importance to the historical identity of a region, town, or nation. In order to take care of that heritage, we need to look beyond borders and share experiences and knowledge regarding heritage preservation. This book contains papers covering the latest advances in this field, presented at the twelfth and latest in a series of now biennial conferences that began in 1989. The series is recognised as the most important conference on the topic. It covers such topics as Heritage architecture and historical aspects, Regional architecture, Preservation of archaeological sites, Maritime heritage, Heritage masonry buildings, Adobe restorations, Wooden structures, Structural issues and restoration, Seismic vulnerability and vibrations, Assessment, retrofitting and reuse of heritage buildings, Surveying and monitoring, Material characterisation and problems, Simulation and modelling, New techniques and materials, Non destructive techniques, Experimental validation and verification, Performance and maintenance, Environmental damage, Social and economic aspects, and Guidelines, codes and regulations.

Impact of Survivin Acetylation on its Biological Function David Dannheisig, 2017-06-06 In his research, David Dannheisig investigates the influence of lysine129 acetylation on the biological function of survivin, including alteration of nucleocytoplasmic shuttling as well as dimerization behavior. Since survivin participates in two major hallmarks of oncogenesis, namely cell death inhibition and chromosomal segregation during the cell cycle, it reflects a valuable target in cancer therapy and research. The author establishes proximity dependent fluorescence microscopic methods to quantify the interaction of survivin with the export receptor Crm1 as well as the homodimerization itself In the future those systems can be used to examine the feasible effect of chemical modulators which are targeting these interactions in a cellular background The outcome achieved is an essential step towards the enhancement of potential cancer therapies
