

Thank you for purchasing a Firex smoke alarm. It is an important component of your home security system. Please read this document thoroughly. The more familiar you are with the information it contains, the easier you will find it to install, operate, and maintain your smoke alarm properly, which ultimately means greater security and peace of mind for you and your family.

Smoke Alarm Advantages

Fire protection type alarms are generally more effective at detecting fire, warning you, and alerting your family more quickly and easily. Alarms of most types include thermopile sensors or agent sensing in smoke conditions. The photoelectric type alarms are generally more effective at detecting fires, including fires which cannot be seen before burning into flames. Some of these fires may include cigarette burning in bedrooms or smoking. However, both types of alarm are designed to provide adequate detection of both types of fires. If you have the ionization smoke system, you should install smoke alarm that contains an ionization (OI) photoelectric and ionization sensing technology.
