Money Can't Buy Us Love Gavin Buckland, 2019-08-08 In 1960 the wealthy owner of the Merseyside based Littlewoods corporation John Moores took control of Everton Football Club setting in motion a chain of events that still affect the game in this country today Everton had enjoyed success before Moores's takeover but things would never be the same again from the moment he walked through Goodison's doors Although big clubs had spent money before none had done so with such naked short term ambition and a ruthlessness to succeed that sent shockwaves through the previously stagnant world of English football The new owner's ruthless streak was personified by his first major move sacking the popular Johnny Carey in the back of a London taxi in April 1961 Everton would finish that 1960-61 season in fifth place their highest position since World War Two but the Irishman's affable nature cost him his job In his place Moores wanted a man in his own image to lead the club forward and he soon found him Harry Catterick Catterick was little over 40 years old and had been an Everton player himself only ten years before But as a boss he exuded an aura that demanded respect and obedience from his players It was a characteristic that won him few fans but plenty of trophies and across the decade Everton reasserted themselves as one of English football's powerhouses winning two league titles and an FA Cup Catterick's ability to nurture young products of the club's youth set up such as Colin Harvey and Joe Royle was trumped only by his mastery of the transfer market allowing him to sign the great Howard Kendall from Preston North End and World Cup winner Alan Ball from under his rivals noses Harvey Kendall and Ball would soon form the club's greatest midfield trio and their brilliance would underpin the 1969-70 title win a victory for free flowing football in an era of cynicism That trophy would be Everton's last major honour for 14 years In Money Can't Buy Us Love Everton's official statistician Gavin Buckland tells the tale of how Moores and manager Harry Catterick took the so called Mersey Millionaires to the summit of English football in the context of the major cultural changes of the time The book provides a forensic character study of both Catterick and Moores and also delves into the archives to provide a definitive account of the incidents that rocked the club in a fruitful but turbulent decade including allegations of doping in the 1962-63 campaign the 1964 match fixing scandal which signalled the end of Tony Kay's career and the shock sale of Alan Ball Money Can't Buy Us Love offers fascinating insight into how strong personalities can take a team to the very top but can also cause in its ultimate downfall

Game Changers João Medeiros, 2018-08-30 At the 1996 Atlanta Olympics Great Britain ranked thirty sixth in the medals table finishing below countries like Algeria Belgium and Kazakhstan It was their worst ever record a dismal performance labelled a national disgrace But then something happened In Sydney in 2000 and then Athens in 2004

Team GB achieved a much more respectable tenth place By 2016 in Rio they finished second above China and Russia with sixty seven medals How have they so convincingly reversed their fortunes In Game Changers we meet the coaches and sports scientists who rethink how sport is analysed and understood how athletes train and perform under pressure In Liverpool in the 1980s a motley group a mathematician a physiologist a psychologist and a former Olympic basketball player began to pioneer new ways of tracking performance Over the decades that followed performance analysis came of age becoming an essential component of any elite team from English Premier League title winners Manchester City to America's Cup high performance sailing teams Using a hybrid of scientific method and trial and error scientists have uncovered the tenets of accelerated learning the mechanics of physiological adaptation the organisational principles behind elite teams the understanding of how hormones and environment affect performance These discoveries are not confined to athletic endeavours they are universal and reveal what it takes to win not only in sports but are applicable across a wide range of disciplines including business leadership and education
