Dock Workers Sam Davies, Colin J. Davis, David de Vries, Lex Heerma van Voss, Lidewij Hesselink, Klaus Weinbauer, 2017-09-29 Workers who loaded and unloaded ships have formed a distinctive occupational group over the past two centuries As trade expanded so the numbers of dock labourers increased and became concentrated in the major ports of the world This ambitious two volume project goes beyond existing individual studies of dock workers to develop a genuinely comparative international perspective over a long historical period Volume 1 contains studies of 22 major ports worldwide Built around an agreed framework of issues these port studies examine the type of workers who dominated dock labour their race class and ethnicity the working conditions of dockers and the role of government as employer arbitrator and supporter The studies also detail how dockers organized their labour patterns of strike action and involvement in political organizations The structure of the port city is also outlined and descriptions given of the waterside environment These areas of investigation form the basis for a series of 11 thematic studies which comprise Volume 2 Drawing on the information provided in the port studies these essays identify important aspects and recurring themes and explain how and why particular cases diverge from the rest The final chapter of the book synthesizes the various approaches taken to offer a model which suggests several configurations of dock labour and presents suggestions for future research This major scholarly achievement represents the most sustained attempt to date to provide a comparative international history of dock labour An annotated bibliography completes this essential reference work The World Factbook, 1997 Territory and Power in Constitutional Transitions George Anderson, Sujit Choudhry, 2019-03-07 This collection of essays surveys the full range of challenges that territorial conflicts pose for constitution making processes and constitutional design It provides seventeen in depth case studies of countries going through periods of intense constitutional engagement in a variety of contexts small distinct territories bi communal countries highly diverse countries with many politically salient regions and countries where territorial politics is important but secondary to other bases for political mobilization Specific examples are drawn from Iraq Kenya Cyprus Nigeria South Africa Sri Lanka the UK Scotland Ukraine Bolivia India Spain Yemen Nepal Ethiopia Indonesia Aceh the Philippines Mindanao and Bosnia Herzegovina While the volume draws significant normative conclusions it is based on a realist view of the complexity of territorial and other political cleavages the country's political geometry and the power configurations that lead into periods of constitutional engagement Thematic chapters on constitution making processes and constitutional design draw original conclusions from the comparative analysis of the case studies and relate these to the existing literature both in political science and comparative constitutional law This volume is essential reading for scholars of federalism consociational power sharing arrangements asymmetrical devolution and devolution more generally The combination of in depth case studies and broad thematic analysis allows for analytical and normative conclusions that will be of major relevance to practitioners and advisors engaged in constitutional design

Biofuels, Food Security, and Developing Economies Nazia Mintz-Habib, 2016-01-08 The last decade has witnessed major crises in both food and energy security across the world One response to the challenges of climate change and energy supply has been the development of crops to be used for biofuels But as this book shows this can divert agricultural land from food production to energy crops thus affecting food security particularly in less developed countries The author analyses the extent to which biofuels feedstocks fit within the national food security strategy agro export orientation and rural development plans and policies of developing economies Two case studies from Tanzania in East Africa and Borneo in Malaysia are considered in detail using the non edible crop of jatropha as an example of how compromises can be reached to balance food and energy goals as well as export markets The author develops a novel integrated approach the Institutional Feasibility Study as the basis of her analysis She addresses key issues such as how do global initiatives for green growth energy security and sustainable development incorporate biofuels industry development Does global biofuels trade present meaningful foreign and local investment opportunities for developing countries To what extent does biofuels feedstock production help with poverty reduction and agricultural sector modernization What role do the EU and the US commitments to biofuels blending targets play in the rapid industry development in developing countries How does the biofuels industry fit within existing formal and informal institutional frameworks Who are the winners and losers in the biofuels global value chain

Performing Religion Gregory F. Barz, 2003 Performing Religion considers issues related to Tanzanian kwayas KiSwahili choirs musical communities most often affiliated with Christian churches and the music they make known as nyimbo za kwaya choir songs or muziki wa kwaya choir music The analytical approach adopted in this text focusing on the communities of kwaya is one frequently used in the fields of ethnomusicology religious studies culture studies and philosophy for understanding diversified social processes consciousness By invoking consciousness an attempt is made to represent the ways seemingly disparate traditions coexist thrive and continue within contemporary kwaya performance An East African kwaya is a community that gathers several times each week to define its spirituality musically Members of kwayas come together to sing to pray to support individual members in times of need and to both learn and pass along new and inherited faith traditions Kwayas negotiate between multiple musical traditions or just as often they reject an inherited musical system while others may continue to engage musical repertoires from both Europe and Africa Contemporary kwayas comfortably coexist in the urban musical soundscape of coastal Dar es Salaam along with jazz dance bands taarab ensembles ngoma performance groups Hindi film music rap reggae and the constant influx of recorded American and European popular musics This ethnography calls into question terms frequently used to draw tight boundaries around the study of the arts in African expressive religious cultures Such divisions of the arts present well defended boundaries and borders that are not sufficient for understanding the change adaptation preservation and integration that occur within a Tanzanian kwaya Boundaries break down within the everyday performance of East African kwayas such as Kwaya ya Upendo The Love Choir in Dar es Salaam as repertoires traditions histories and cultures interact within a performance of social identity

Diversity in African languages Doris L. Payne, Sara Pacchiarotti, Mokaya Bosire , 2016-12-31 Diversity in African Languages contains a selection of revised papers from the 46th Annual Conference on African Linguistics held at the University of Oregon Most chapters focus on single languages addressing diverse aspects of their phonology morphology semantics syntax information structure or historical development These chapters represent nine different genera Mande Gur Kwa Edoid Bantu Nilotic Gumuzic Cushitic and Omotic Other chapters investigate a mix of languages and families moving from typological issues to sociolinguistic and inter ethnic factors that affect language and accent switching Some chapters are primarily descriptive while others push forward the theoretical understanding of tone semantic problems discourse related structures and other linguistic systems The papers on Bantu languages reflect something of the internal richness and continued fascination of the family for linguists as well as maturation of research on the family The distribution of other papers highlights the need for intensified research into all the language families of Africa including basic documentation in order to comprehend linguistic diversities and convergences across the continent In this regard the chapter on Daats i in Gumuzic stands out as the first ever published article on this hitherto unknown and endangered language found in the Ethiopian Sudanese border lands

The Darker Nationsa Biography Of The Short-Lived Third World Vijay Prashad, 2007 The Third World was not a place argues Vijay Prashad It was a project This book is a paradigm shifting history of both a utopian concept and global movement the idea of the Third World The Darker Nations traces the intellectual origins and the political history of the attempt to knit together the world s impoverished countries in opposition to the United States and Soviet spheres of influence in the decades following World War II as nation after nation across Asia Africa and South America gained political independence from colonial rule Traversing continents Vijay Prashad s fascinating narrative takes us from the birth of postcolonial nations after World War II to the downfall and corruption of nationalist regimes The Darker Nations restores to memory the vibrant though flawed idea of the Third World whose demise Prashad ultimately argues has produced a much impoverished international political arena
