Making India Disaster Resilient Vishwa Raj Sharma, Chandrakanta, 2024-02-27 Various natural and man made hazards are nowadays increasingly considered as disasters particularly by individual and communities are lacking in awareness and where a system as a whole has no adequate management mechanism Consequently the world is facing serious negative outcome in form of loss of life injury disability loss of property infrastructure and economic disruption followed by psycho social disorders Other than this disasters adversely affect wildlife and environment in long terms Developing countries are worst sufferers as these regions are poorly prepared for potential hazards at one hand and are exposed to disasters due to the complexity of socio cultural economic and physical vulnerability Government World communities NGOs are recognizing the problems and are trying to build resilient communities to reduce disaster impact at various levels Year 1990 99 was observed as the decade for natural disaster reduction by United Nations UN and United Nations International Strategy for Disaster Reduction UNISDR was established to support and coordinate this movement Year 2015 has been very important in the history as three global agreements have been signed by global communities Sustainable development goals Paris agreement and Sendai framework for DRR Where SDGs are extension of MDGs to make the planet more sustainable It proposed 17 goals and 15 years time frame adopted in the year 2015 SDGs target various social cultural economic challenges followed by wildlife environmental protection through knowledge share and technological innovation among all member countries In December 2015 UNFCCC reached a landmark agreement to combat climate change and to accelerate and intensify the actions and investments needed for a sustainable low carbon future known as Paris agreement Sendai Framework 2015 is voluntary non binding agreement which recognizes that the state has the primary role to reduce disaster risk but that responsibility should be shared with other stakeholders including local government the private sector and other stakeholders This framework focuses on the pre disaster management rather than post disaster relief and recovery This book is an insight into the various issues related to the emerging disasters both natural and man made vulnerable communities and government initiatives taken with a geographical focus on India This volume contains selected chapters written by faculty and research scholars This book is an empirical work on disasters vulnerabilities and management which will benefit researchers academicians professional practitioners and policy makers

A Community-Based Flood Insurance Option National Academies of Sciences, Engineering, and Medicine, Division on Engineering and Physical Sciences, Board on Mathematical Sciences and Their Applications, Division on Earth and Life Studies, Water Science and Technology Board, Committee on Community-Based Flood Insurance Options, 2015-10-08 River and coastal floods are among the nation's most costly natural disasters One component in the nation's approach to managing flood risk is availability of flood insurance policies which are offered on an individual basis primarily through the National Flood Insurance Program NFIP Established in 1968 the NFIP is overseen by the Federal Emergency Management Agency FEMA and there are about 5.4 million individual policies in the NFIP The program has experienced a mixture of successes and persistent challenges Successes include a large number of policy holders the insurance of approximately 1.3 trillion of property and the fact that the large majority of policy holders 80% pay rates that are risk based NFIP challenges include large program debt relatively low rates of purchase in many flood prone areas a host of issues regarding affordability of premiums ensuring that premiums collected cover payouts and administrative fees and a large number of properties that experience severe repetitive flood losses At the request of FEMA A Community Based Flood Insurance Option identifies a range of key issues and questions that would merit consideration and further analysis as part of a community based flood insurance program As the report describes the community based option certainly offers potential benefits such as the prospect of providing coverage for all or nearly all at risk residents and properties in flood prone communities At the same time many current challenges facing the NFIP may not necessarily be resolved by a community based approach This report discusses these and other prominent issues to be considered and further assessed
