Grant,1982 Lethal Legacy James Rodger Miller,2004 Canadians greeted the disruptions in Native newcomer relations that occasionally erupted during the 1990s with incomprehension Politicians journalists and ordinary citizens understood neither how nor why the crisis of the moment had arisen much less how its deep historical roots made it resistant to solutions J R Miller believes that it takes a historical understanding of public policy affecting Canadian Natives to truly comprehend the issues and their ramifications An expert on indigenous newcomer relations Miller uses his extensive research from conventional and Native sources to explore and explain the controversial issues facing Canadian Natives today In five sections this book covers topics such as Native identity self government treaties attitudes to land and ownership and assimilation Miller acknowledges the fact that there are no easy solutions but argues that greater understanding is the foundation for building successful relations between Natives and non Natives in Canada Lady

Kearns,James Harvey,2000-03 What s wrong with America s schools Why can t we fix them How did we wind up with dropout rates of 25 percent and graduates who can barely read and write Why does the United States spend twice as much on education as the international average and wind up near the bottom of the barrel in global comparisons of student achievement Why do we lag behind nations such as South Korea Hungary and Singapore And how should we go about improving the situation Answers to these questions lie at the heart of this volume David T Kearns and James Harvey contend we are fine tuning failure We have yet to break with the past in order to face a different and challenging future Despite worshipping at the altar of local control we have managed to create cookie cutter schools across the country We have been sidestepping the transparent need for common expectations about what students should know and be able to do Standards the authors say are not clear enough or high enough Above all we have met the enemy and it is us all of us support change as long as someone else is changing This book is a fascinating and provocative analysis of where we went wrong and what we need to do to get American education back on track It defines the kind of education our kids deserve It calls for a new definition of public education in which choice is taken for granted And it outlines an action agenda to help parents and citizens make first class schools truly their own In the future the authors argue we should think of a public school as any other non profit entity capable of operating in the public interest free of the red tape now strangling public education It should be paid for by the public and accountable to the public with its charter or contract routinely revoked when it stops serving public purposes or fails to meet its performance goals European Writers George Stade,1990 European Writers: The Middle Ages and the Renaissance : Petrarch to Renaissance short fiction ,1983 This reference work is comprised of two volumes treating the Middle Ages and the Renaissance three volumes on the Romantics and four volumes dealing with twentieth century authors Scholar s new to literary history and criticism should find the balanced well written essays on included authors a solid introduction
