Me Cheeta Cheeta, 2010-03-09 Cheeta the Chimp was just a baby in 1932 when he was snatched from the jungle of Liberia by the great animal importer Henry Trefflich That same year Cheeta appeared in Tarzan the Ape Man and in 1934 in Tarzan and His Mate in which he famously stole clothes from a naked Maureen O Sullivan who was dripping wet from an underwater swimming scene with Johnny Weissmuller Other Tarzan films followed and later roles with Bela Lugosi in the 1950s Cheeta finally retired from the big screen after the 1967 film Doctor Dolittle with Rex Harrison whose finger he accidentally bit backstage while being offered a placatory banana Cheeta now lives in Palm Springs where at age seventy seven he is by far the oldest living chimpanzee ever recorded

Almost Human Alfred Fjeldstøl, 2019-09-17 Alternately joyous and heartbreaking Jane Goodall A moving and revealing biography of Norway's most famous chimpanzee Julius is a national celebrity the inspiration behind pop hits and bestselling books He's also a chimpanzee born in captivity but raised in a zookeeper's home after his own mother rejects him Julius's new parents change his diapers and comfort him when he has nightmares and their daughters play with him But soon they must reintroduce Julius to the zoo a challenging task that brings new learnings on primate behavior and the dangers of animal celebrity Alternately humorous and heartbreaking Almost Human shows that primates are more like us than we once thought possible It also charts the transformation of one zoo over time from a small operation of animals behind bars to a fast growing attraction coming to terms with twenty first century views on animal rights and welfare

Multispecies Futures Roman Bartosch, Liza B. Bauer, Alexandra Böhm, Micha Gerrit Philipp Edlich, Greta Gaard, Björn Hayer, Andreas Hübner, Michaela Keck, Maria Moss, Jobst Paul, Mieke Roscher, Pamela Steen, Nils Steffensen, 2022-06-14 In light of the dramatic growth and rapid institutionalization of human animal studies in recent years it is somewhat surprising that only a small number of

publications have proposed practical and theoretical approaches to teaching in this inter and transdisciplinary field. Featuring eleven original pedagogical interventions from the social sciences and the humanities as well as an epilogue from ecofeminist critic Greta Gaard, the present volume addresses this gap and responds to the demand by both educators and students for pedagogies appropriate for dealing with environmental crises. The theoretical and practical contributions collected here describe new ways of teaching human animal studies in different educational settings and institutional contexts, suggesting how learners equipped with key concepts such as agency or relationality can develop empathy and ethical regard for the more-than-human world and especially nonhuman animals. As the contributors to this volume show, these cognitive and affective goals can be achieved in many curricula in secondary and tertiary education. By providing learners with the tools to challenge human exceptionalism in its various guises and related patterns of domination and exploitation in and outside the classroom, these interventions also contribute to a much-needed transformation not only of today's educational systems but of society as a whole. This volume is an invitation to beginners and experienced instructors alike: an invitation to reconsider how we teach human animal studies and how we could and should prepare learners for an uncertain future in ideally a more egalitarian and just multispecies world. With contributions by Roman Bartosch, Liza B. Bauer, Alexandra B. H. Michä, Gerrit Philipp Edlich, Greta Gaard, Björn Hayer, Andreas H. B. Michaela, Keck Maria, Moss, Jobst Paul, Mieke Roscher, Pamela Steen, and Nils Steffensen.

Talking the Talk Trevor A. Harley, 2017-02-02. Talking the Talk provides a comprehensive introduction to the psychology of language written for the reader with no background in the field or any prior knowledge of psychology. Written in an accessible and friendly style, the book answers the questions people actually have about language: how do we speak, listen, read, and learn language? The book advocates an experimental approach, explaining how psychologists can use experiments to build models of language processing. Considering the full breadth of psycholinguistics, the book covers core topics including how children acquire language, how language is related to the brain, and what can go wrong with it. Fully updated throughout, this edition also includes additional coverage on the genetics of language, insight into potential cognitive advantages of bilingualism, new content on brain imaging and neuroscience, increased emphasis on recursion, and what is special about language. Talking the Talk is written in an engaging style which does not hesitate to explain complex concepts. It is essential reading for all undergraduate students and those new to the topic as well as the interested lay reader.

Anthropology and Nature Kirsten Hastrup, 2013-08-15 On the basis of empirical studies this book explores nature as an integral part of the social worlds conventionally studied by anthropologists The book may be read as a form of scholarly edgework resisting institutional divisions and conceptual routines in the interest of exploring new modalities of anthropological knowledge making The present interest in the natural world is partly a response to large scale natural disasters and global climate change and to a keen sense that nature matters matters to society at many levels ranging from the microbiological and genetic framing of reproduction over co species development to macro ecological changes of weather and climate Given that the human footprint is now conspicuous across the entire globe in the oceans as well as in the atmosphere it is difficult to claim that nature is what is given and permanent while people and societies are ephemeral and simply derivative features This implies that society matters to nature and some natural scientists look towards the social sciences for an understanding of how people think and how societies work The book thus opens up a space for new forms of reflection on how natures and societies are generated
