

Multiple-Choice Questions Answers to "Physics" by Halliday, Resnick and Krane (7th Edition)

How to Contribute

Contributions to the solution chapters are welcome in writing, and you can even discuss them through the "Suggestor" forum. However, it's strongly recommended to leave comments with your suggestions. Please don't overdo things, especially when there's already a problem.

- Check for existing problems. The previous versions of the suggestions or comments for the problem and answers should be approved. Please.
- Check if your suggestion is consistent with the existing solution. If it is, then it's better to be consistent than to be inconsistent.
- Please use the suggestions or comments to comment on the problem.

We will discuss how to make all suggestions as much as possible. This process has been made possible by the numerous contributions to the Physics Chapter Forum (please note that you have to participate and discuss with other contributors about physics).

Formatting

In general, there are many things about the formatting. Each chapter has up to 100 problems or questions. Some problems are numbered (but others are not). It's strongly suggested that there's something to bring to mind.

- The suggestions are from the previous. This is simply the old version of the solution.
